

BLAME WIND FOR SPREAD OF BORER

Pest Has Gone as Far West as Lagrange County.

Had it not been for a strong wind from the northeast, which swept Indiana continuously for ten days during the latter part of June and the first of July, the visit of the European corn borer would not have been so premature, according to state Entomologist Frank N. Wallace.

Most of the moths, through which the borer is propagated, came from Canada, Wallace believes. Due to the direction and force of the wind, the pest has spread as far west as Lagrange County. Wallace has spent the last two weeks in the heart of the infested area, which comprises twenty townships in DeKalb, Steuben, Allen and Lagrange Counties. He will be in charge of the experimental laboratory to be established soon by the Department of Conservation in the heart of the stricken area. No quarantines have been established as yet, owing to the fact that the borer has not been found in sweet corn or any early field corn ready for shipment.

INVENTS GRAIN DRYER

Swedish Engineer Receives Prize for Apparatus.

By United Press

MALMOE, Sweden, Aug. 31.—A vacuum process for the drying of grain has been invented by a Swedish engineer, Edvard Jonsson, of Linköping, who before the war spent many years in Russia as manager of the Nobel plant at Astrakhan.

After exhaustive tests his method has been awarded a prize of 3,500 kronor by the Swedish government. Usually grain is dried artificially by means of hot air, but the Jonsson apparatus does it cheaper and more quickly by pumping the air out of a revolving cylinder in which the grain is heated by means of hot water pipes.

HER LIMBS WERE NEAR HELPLESS SEVERAL YEARS

Was a Victim of Awful Rheumatism; Konjola Brings Blessed Relief.

Another Indianapolis lady who strongly endorses this Konjola medicine for the relief it has given her is Mrs. Flora Carman, 1539 Reisner Street, this city, formerly of 1236 Bellefontaine Street, who recently made the following statement to the

MRS. FLORA CARMAN

Konjola Man at Hook's drug store, Pennsylvania and Market Streets, Indianapolis, where he is meeting large crowds of local people daily and explaining this surprising new medical compound.

"I suffered so badly from rheumatism that my limbs were nearly helpless for several years," said Mrs. Carman. "The pains would draw up my legs and make them so stiff that I couldn't think of walking any distance at all. My ankles were swollen and the muscles in the calf of my legs would get hard like stones. The pains were terrific, keeping me awake every night, and besides the awful rheumatism, my bladder and kidneys were affected, causing awful burning sensations, night risings and pains in my back which seemed to extend up between my shoulder blades. I also had liver trouble, which brought on dizzy spells, and several times I have fallen full length on the floor. Oh, I tell you, my health was just completely wrecked, and I never thought it was possible to get well again, for nothing would help me, and I believe I tried everything."

"Anyway, I decided to test your Konjola, for it seemed like everybody was talking about this medicine. It only took half a bottle to convince me that I had found just the right remedy for my suffering. Now I've taken five bottles, and I know it has made a greater change in my health than I ever hoped for. All of the pains and aches are gone now, and the swelling has left my ankles, the stiffness is gone from my limbs, and I can take a long walk and never feel tired. It seems like Konjola started my whole inner system to working properly, because I don't have any trouble with my kidneys, have been relieved of the back-aches and burning pains; I never have to rise at night, and my liver is active now, so that I am not bloated like I was before, and I haven't had a dizzy spell since I took the first bottle. I also notice my stomach is in better condition, as I can eat many things I wouldn't dare to eat before, and my digestion is fine, bowels are regulated, and the whole truth is that I feel better than I have for several years. Konjola has been a sound blessing to me, and I cannot help but endorse such a medicine."

The Konjola Man is at Hook's drug store, Pennsylvania and Market Streets, Indianapolis, where he daily meets the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

Konjola is sold at every Hook drug store, and by all leading drugists in surrounding towns. Advertis-

G.O.P. ANNOUNCES THREE SPEAKERS

Davis, Capper and Lowden to Aid in State.

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas and Frank O. Lowden, former Governor of Illinois, will speak in Indiana during the coming campaign. Frank E. Roselle, chairman of the Republican State committee speakers' bureau, announced the speakers.

Roselle also said that Horace E. Ellis of Chicago, former State superintendent of public instruction, now connected with G. O. P. western headquarters, will speak and that Arch G. Graham, opponent of Senator Arthur R. Robinson in the primary, has volunteered for service on the oratorical firing line and will be used.

The Republican speaking campaign will open Thursday at Tri-Lake, six miles north of Columbia City, where Robinson, Senator James E. Watson and others will speak.

Statutes Won't Make Saints, Says Reed

By United Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 31.—Declaring "you cannot make a saint by statute," Senator James A. Reed, Missouri Democrat, has come out in favor of the State dry law and for regulation of the liquor traffic. The Senator wrote Mrs. Neill G. Burger, president of the State W. C. T. U., that he was a "wet" in that he believed in regulation of the sale of liquor.

"We both want this to be a sober Nation," Reed wrote. "We differ in methods and perhaps in degree. You believe in compulsion. You propose to make people good by statute.

"I agree with you that drunkenness is beastly and that temperance is desirable. I disagree with your that prohibition by law is the remedy.

"There is a sound middle course. The liquor business should be strictly regulated—not outlawed. Temperance and prohibition should be taught—not forced."

They're Coming Back to School Now

From the small towns and other, cities, many young people are coming to Indianapolis to attend school or college this winter.

School begins in just a short time and these people are coming early in order to be located and settled in home-like surroundings with good people.

If you have a spare room you can easily rent it to some desirable party. The money will help to meet your household bills, rent, coal bill, etc.

A "Room for Rent" ad in The Times will bring a selection of "roomers" to your door.

The Times meets these people at bus, train and trolley. Remember, now is the time to secure a tenant.

Call Betty Lou at Main 3500. You can charge your ad.
