

BANDIT FIGHTING IS TO BE TOPIC AT CONVENTION

American Bankers Association to Meet in Los Angeles, Oct. 4-7.

By Times Special
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Legislation affecting banking, methods for protecting banks against bandits and many other subjects of general public importance will fill the sessions of the American Bankers' Association convention to be held in Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 4 to 7, it was announced by Oscar Wells, president of the organization, here today.

"No greater array of subjects of paramount interest and importance to the individual banker has ever been presented at any convention of the American Bankers' Association than will crowd the sessions this October at Los Angeles," Wells said. "Effective methods have been developed for quelling bank banditry through cooperative efforts by banks along lines suited to their circumstances and these will be fully discussed."

Need for Discussion
"The rapid extension of special banking functions, such as those having to do with savings, fiduciary services and investments by classes of banks formerly not engaged in these activities has created a need for more complete interchange of experience related to these subjects, and this will be fully provided through the various technical discussions at the convention."

"The present is fraught with much interest among bankers in the subject of legislation and particularly Federal legislation dealing with the extension of the charters of the twelve Federal reserve banks, the control of branch banking, the equalizing of rights between national banks and State-chartered institutions, and the widening of the provisions for lending money on real estate under the laws governing the conduct of national banks. Bankers attending the annual conventions of the association are afforded splendid opportunities for knowing how other bankers regard these things."

Important Question
"A question of prime importance to every banker is the growing movement for more equitable State taxation for banks and the discussions at the Convention will suggest means for this end in Indiana."

"In the broader view of general business, there is the problem of installment selling, the underlying conditions of business which have been subject to so much uncertainty and questioning during the year and other equally important subjects which will add to the profits of attending this meeting," Wells concluded.

NEWCASTLE—Muscular thieves carried off 500 pounds of metal castings from the McDaniels and Replogle garage. No marks of a vehicle were found near the building.

HELPS THE 'FAILURE'

California Capitalist Gives Estate to University.

William Henry Smith, Berkeley, Cal., capitalist, has declared that modern universities are all failures. But he has just given his 200,000-acre estate in Berkeley's fashionable residence district to the University of California. He says "failures" should be helped.

'FILL 'ER UP,' SAYS CAP

Airplane Gasoline Costs Passenger Total of $11.50.

By NEA Service
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 3.—Friendship prompted Blaine Tuxhorn, aviator, to offer to take a National Guard captain to the camp at Nevada, Mo., in his airplane. "Fine," said the captain. "I will have a nice ride and will save $3.70 railroad fare. Of course, I'll fill your plane with gasoline. I always do when people take me motoring."

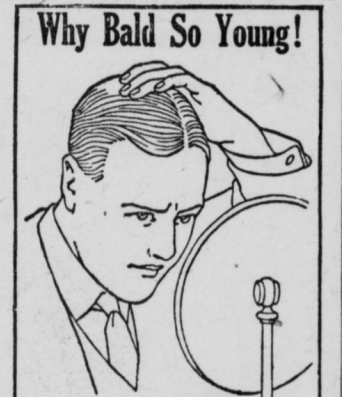

Tuxhorn protested. His friend insisted almost angrily. The pilot shrugged, told the attendant to "fill 'er up."

"That will be $11.50 please," the attendant said, finally.

HIGH SPEED MILL

WASHINGTON.—A high speed typewriter, the invention of a Washington lawyer, Fred A. Dolph, has 1,160 keys, constituting forty different alphabets. The inventor, who can write 150 words a minute on an ordinary typewriter, claims he can bang out 283 a minute on his new machine. Each alphabet on the typewriter extends in a single vertical line.

Run-Down, Listless

ABOVE is a picture of Mrs. Gordon R. Smith, who lives at Charlotte Court House, in Virginia. Mrs. Smith gave the following account of her use of Cardui:

"I have been so weak and 'no-account,' I could not walk across the floor, and I would send for a bottle of Cardui and take it, and almost immediately I would be on my feet and able to be at my work again."

"We have a big place, and it takes a lot of work to run it. I am kept busy all the time with the various things there are to do on a farm."

"At times, I get run-down and listless. I wear my strength out. I have found that after taking Cardui I feel like a different woman."

"Thirty years ago, I first took it, and having tested its merits, I continue to take it when I need a tonic, and I never hesitate to recommend Cardui to my friends. I took Cardui this winter, and after taking it I felt like a new person. I was scarcely able to be about, and, after taking this medicine, I found that I was better and stronger than I had been in months."

"I gladly recommend Cardui to weak, run-down women."
