

OUT OUR WAY—By WILLIAMS

"The VANITY CASE"A Tale of Mystery and Love

By CAROLYN WELLS

MRS. BEGIN HERE TODAY PRENTISS seen mysterious lights in the Heath household next door one night, and the next day Harbor Gardner, local police, learned of the murder of MYRA HEATH and the disappearance of her husband PERRY.

He left out of the town of LAWRENCE INMAN, heir to Myra's fortune, and is now more beautiful, vivacious, to whom suspicion cannot be caused of her strange actions.

Mr. Heath never used to wear, never wore colors, yet when his body was found she was heavily rouged. She had a man's heart, and he was found with a rare old bottle from her collection.

The murderer used to kill her. Cardinals were shot at random and fast, near by was a card marked, "The Wolf." Perry was shot.

The strange thing about Heath's disappearance is that the windows and doors were locked on the inside at night before, and were found that way in the morning. Fingertips of Bunny Moon and Inman were found on the bottle.

At the Country Club, the popular is dismissed by Mr. PERSHON, Heath's rival for the club presidency. AL CUNNINGHAM, who was trying to be a criminal, and others, TODD HUNTER BUCK, nephew of Mrs. Prentiss, and in the same boat, believe Heath also may have been murdered.

Bunny is amazed to get a phone call from Mr. Inman, who says he is saying Inman is guilty. Bunny faints under a killing by DIRECTOR OF THE INMAN CONFERENCE. But then he saw many ascending the stairs after the murder, and thought it was the servants, and tells them to keep silent.

Now GO WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXX

Now, Carter, Mott went on, "tell me anything you may know about the relations of your employers. Be frank, for as I forbid you people to repeat this talk, so I can promise you that I shall not repeat it, except to the officers of the law."

"Well, sir, as ladies' maid to both Mrs. Heath and Miss Moore, of course, I couldn't help seeing how things went on. Mrs. Heath, she was terribly in love with Mr. Inman. Mr. Heath, he knew it, and they had hot words about it, and then."

Did you hear them?"

"In part, sir. Sometimes Mr. Heath would come in while Mrs. Heath was dressing, and he'd bid me go in the next room and shut the door. Then I'd do so, but if they raised their voices, as they sometimes did, I couldn't help hearing that they were quarreling about Mr. Inman, even though I couldn't hear all they said. But I never mentioned it, not even to the others down here. I know my place, and I've been maid to grand ladies that had bigger secrets than Mrs. Heath had."

She had no big secrets, then?"

"Not what I'd call such. She liked Mr. Inman and he adored her, but they were cousins—though distant ones—and she had a right to be friendly."

Did Mr. Heath urge her to use rope and that sort of thing?"

"They all did that. Yes, he would come to her dressing room and laughingly try to put some on her face. But she said, 'No,' in that way she had, and he'd stop. Then, Miss Bunny, she was always at her to use color, and Mr. Inman, he was, too. It was sort of a household joke, you see."

"I see. Then, Carter, any one of those three might have applied that paint to her face after the poor lady was dead."

They might, sir."

"Or you might have done it yourself."

"Why, of course I could do it sir—but I didn't. I was up in my bed, asleep."

"She was," broke in the cook. "I heard her snoring when I went down to look after Katie."

"Well, we're not suspecting you, Carter," Mott said, "we've no reason to. You surely had no motive and no opportunity to kill your mistress."

"The saints forbid!" said Carter, fervently.

"I can tell you something else, sir," Emma said, not unwilling to take the limelight again.

All right, go ahead, Emma."

Mott began to think he was getting some sidelights, if not very crucial statements.

"Well, long about twelve o'clock, I thought I heard Katie comin' in. When I have to wait on her comin' in, I'm terribly wakeful. Most every week she makes me let her in when it's her night out."

Why do you do it?"

"Oh, we all like Katie," Emma gave an affectionate glance at the pretty parlor-maid. "And she's got her young man, you know, and it's a pity she would have to come in at eleven o'clock, and him such a fine feller!"

It was clear to be seen that the state of "keeping company" had raised Katie to an eminence where she commanded the favors of the other servants.

"And so," Emma went on, "I stay awake like, to let her in, for Mrs.

FOX LAUNCHES DRIVE AT WEST COAST STUDIOS

Ten Pictures Near Finish With Fifteen About to Get Under Way.

The busiest spot in California during the next six months promises to be the Fox Film West Coast Studios where picture-making is going at top speed, according to Winfield R. Sheehan, general manager and production chief.

"We have been unusually busy for the past six months," said Mr. Sheehan recently, "but that was only a beginning. From Aug. 1 until the close of the year, we will push to completion one of the most pretentious studio programs ever attempted in this country."

Ten directors are at present completing pictures and fifteen others are preparing for immediate activities on as many vehicles. Those to be launched immediately include:

Many Big Hits

"Wings of the Storm," with Virginia Browne Fair and Reed Howes, under the direction of G. E. Blystone; "Whispering Wires," with Anita Stewart and Edmund Burns, direction of Albet Ray; "A Song of Two Humans," to be made by the great W. M. Murnau; "The Devil," with Janet Gaynor and Walter McGrail, an R. William Neill production; "Royal Romance," in which Howard Hawks will have George O'Brien and J. Farrel Macdonald in leading roles, and "Going Crooked," with Victor Macdonald and Bessie Love, direction of George Melford.

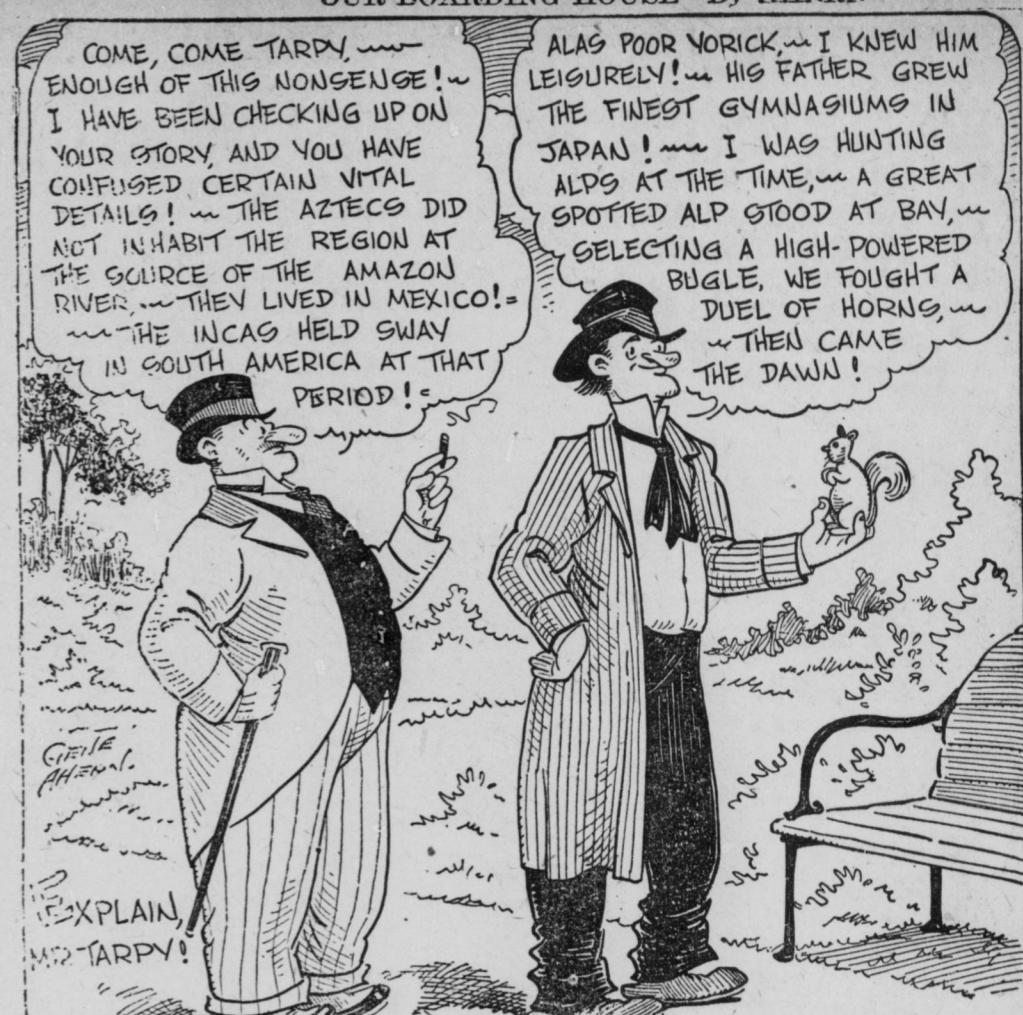

In England, Harry Beaumont is about to begin shooting the outdoor scenes of "One Increasing Purpose," a super-picture from the novel of that name by A. S. M. Hutchinson.
