

PROHIBITION IS PRINCIPAL KLAN QUESTION TODAY

Huge Parade Staged at Meet in Washington—Gov.
Smith Attacked.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Prohibition was expected to be the principal topic before the Ku-Klux Klan today at the second business meeting of the National conclave here.

The biennial Klavocation opened Monday with a parade of Klansmen. Auxiliary organizations, more than 11,000 marched, according to a count by the Washington Daily News. Other estimates were high as 15,000. The parade lasted two and one half hours. Traffic in the business section was forced to suspend.

Costumes Disappear

Marchers in the parade, except delegates to the business meeting, left Washington Monday night, and today the Klan costumes which flooded the Capital Monday have disappeared. Delegates are said to number about 1,600.

The re-election of Hiram W. Evans as grand wizard is expected at Wednesday's closing session.

Smith Attacked

Opposition to members of the Catholic Church as high Government officials, with a specific attack on Governor Al Smith of New York as a presidential possibility, was expressed at Monday night's session—the first in history which was open to newspapermen. Reporters had to agree, however, not to name the speakers.

The Mexican anti-church laws were praised. Premier Mussolini of Italy was warned not to "dictate" and complete ban on immigration and registration of all aliens in America were advocated.

KING GEORGE SUNBURNED

Got It on the Devonshire Moors,
Where He Has Been Riding.

By United Press
LONDON, Sept. 14.—King George, like thousands of his subjects, has come down with a sunburn—not an ordinary coat of tan, according to those who have seen him on the Scottish moors, but a regular red one.

He got his on the Duke of Devonshire's moors at Bolton Abbey, where he has been riding his favorite pony, Polly, and engaging in grouse shooting.

Nightgowns to Be Shorter, Is Word

By United Press
LONDON, Sept. 14.—Word from Irish and Belgian convents, where the newest secrets of madly's lingerie are first known because her finest underthings are made there, indicates that nightgowns will be worn shorter this year.

Last year the nightgowns had a sort of mid-Victorian cut and reached to the ankles. But not so this year, according to the authorities in the convents. The 1926 nightgowns have a modish cut and reach down only to the knees.

ANTI-SMUGGLING AGREEMENT WITH CANADA PLANNED

Expected to Be Negotiated
This Month—Aimed at Rum Runners.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—A new anti-smuggling agreement with Canada, similar to the one recently arranged with England, will be negotiated late this month by Canadian and United States officials, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews announced today.

The pact will be a "business agreement" for the exchange of information to prevent liquor smuggling, and not a treaty, Andrews said.

Secretary of State Kellogg now is arranging the date for the conference, it is understood.

Andrews, dry administrator will represent the United States at the meeting.

While the United States now has an anti-smuggling treaty with Canada, means of putting it into effect have not been perfected. At the meeting officials of both nations will strive to devise means to make the obligation effective.

Canada, it is understood, will be asked to allow American patrol boats to chase rum runners in Canadian waters. A double border patrol also may be arranged, the United States using prohibition patrol forces and Canada her royal northwest mounted police.

Information of smuggling activities would be exchanged by every agency of the two governments.

Andrews will make a complete study of the Canadian situation as soon as the conference of dry administrators is concluded next week.
