INFORMATION

For the information of straight-haired women who believe Heaven is the place where there are no permanent waving machines and where their hair will curl into beautiful waves, when and if they get there, the following iconoclastic revelation is made:

Fred Graf, hairdresser at the Paramount Long Island studio, spent a whole week putting water waves into male and female wigs to be worn by angels in the Heaven scenes of D. W. Griffith's "The Sorrows of Satan."

SHOW CLAIMS IN DAUGHERTY TRIAL

Contrast Between Handling of Large and Small Ones.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—A startling contrast to the speedy manner in which the $7,000,000 claim presented by Richard Merton, German financier, was allowed by the alien property custodian's office, was furnished in Federal Court today by introduction of evidence on a claim involving but 1-200th of that amount. United States Attorney Emory R. Buckner, heading the prosecution of Harry M. Daugherty, former Attorney General, and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, for conspiracy, read papers bearing on both claims and left the inference that the $7,000,000 case had required outside influence in the removal of "red tape." The Government contends that a bribe of $441,000 paid by Merton to the late John T. King, friend of Daugherty and Miller, supplied such an influence.

The larger claim was for the return of American Metal Company assets, impounded during the war. The smaller claim was that of Edward Greuter, a Swiss, for twenty shares of American Metal Company stock, valued at $3,894. It was not allowed after considerable time had elapsed.
