

ADVISORY GROUP WILL KEEP CIVIC DRIVE CONTINUOUS

Committee Named by Noyes
—Industrial Sales Body
Also Appointed.

An advisory committee, to aid directors of the Chamber of Commerce in promoting the Indianapolis First movement continuously was appointed today by Nicholas H. Noyes, Chamber president.

It also was announced that membership of the Chamber now totals 6,071, with 101 new members reported since the closing luncheon of the membership canvass phase of the Indianapolis First movement Tuesday. This makes the Indianapolis Chamber first in per capita membership among cities of comparable size or larger, and tenth in actual membership in the United States.

Noyes also selected a committee to aid directors in employing for Indianapolis an industrial sales engineer, who will work to draw new industries to the city and develop the industries now located here.

Members of the advisory committee include the following: Frederick M. Ayres, chairman; H. C. Atkins, Arthur V. Brown, Charles F. Coffin, Leslie Colvin, Linton A. Cox, John L. Duvall, Frank E. Gates, L. L. Goodman, W. B. Harding, Curtis A. Hodges, B. F. Lawrence, Joseph A. McGowan, William A. Mayborn, William J. Money, Sr., Paul Richey, A. M. Rosenthal, C. H. Rottger, Elmer E. Stout, Carl A. Taylor.

The industrial engineer advisory committee is composed of Dick Miller, chairman; G. M. Williams, Guy A. Waldwright, Harry Reid and George S. Oliver. It will aid in establishing an industrial engineering department in the Chamber. Members will interview those who may be under consideration for the position of industrial sales engineer.

NEW AIMEE EVIDENCE

Diver Who Hunted Body Called by State.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 7.—New evidence tending to disprove Aimee Semple McPherson's famous tale of kidnapping was prepared by the State today for presentation at the hearing of the evangelist on charges of criminal conspiracy.

The testimony includes details of the deep sea diving operations which attended the long search for Mrs. McPherson in the ocean after her disappearance last May and which caused the death of two men.

Robert D. Hunt, Venice diver, was one of the new witnesses called by the State. It was said, that the search for the evangelist's body was continued for publicity purposes.

TWO WOMEN INJURED

Auto Stalls on Tracks and Is Struck by Passenger Train.

Two young women, injured in an auto-train crash at W. Michigan St. and the Peoria & Eastern Railroad tracks late Wednesday, were reported improved at the city hospital today. They were taken there seriously injured about the body.

Lieut. George Winkler and squad said that Miss Audeline Hutton, 22, of 842 N. Capitol Ave., was driving an auto and Miss Violet Ray, 18, Elks Club employee, was riding with her, when the car stalled on the tracks just as the gates were being lowered to allow a passenger train to pass. The train practically demolished the auto. Miss Ray jumped but was caught in the wreckage.

SOUND QUALITIES HERE

City Has Basic Elements for Growth, Says McKee.

Indianapolis has the basic qualities of a truly great city and needs only sound merchandising and advertising to assure a more rapid growth, declared Homer McKee, in an address Wednesday before the local Kiwanis Club.

"Some cities cannot stand advertising because their products are inferior. But Indianapolis, with her superior products, can safely assert her supremacy," McKee declared.

BRAZIL—Heavy rains delayed workmen, who are strengthening the masonry of the dam to the city water works reservoir. The rains filled the reservoir and went water pouring over the top of the dam.

CHURCH SCENE OF PRETTY CEREMONY

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Van Arsdale Leave on Wedding Trip to White Sulphur Springs, Washington.

Christ Church was the scene Wednesday evening of the charming wedding of Miss Lucile Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hodges, 4078 College Ave., to S. B. Van Arsdale, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Van Arsdale, Sr., 1727 Park Ave.

The service was read by the Rev. Floyd Van Keuren before the altar and chancel, which were arranged with banks of palms and cibotium ferns. Tall gold vases, filled with roses, delphiniums, dahlias and chrysanthemums, were on each side of the altar. Candelabra were on the walls and tall white candles, entwined with greenery, were placed on alternate pews to lighten the aisles. The family pews were marked with clusters of flowers and an aisle for the entrance of the bride party was formed of white satin ribbon streamers, with a gateway of box-wood trees.

Selections Played
Proceeding the ceremony, Chester Heath played several organ selections, including the introduction to the third act of "Lohengrin," "Dreams" and "Wedding Chimes." During the ceremony the boy's choir sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," and "O Perfect Love." "Wedding Herald Notes" and the chorus from "Lohengrin" were played on the chimes.

The bride was attended by Miss Mary Ann Miller as maid of honor and Miss Elizabeth Hodges, Miss Helen Meyers and Miss Ruth McKenzie as bridesmaids. Miss Miller's gown was of silver cloth trimmed with blue ostrich, fashioned with a tight bodice and a draped bouffant skirt. She wore silver slippers and hose and carried a shower bouquet of Columbia, Claudius Permet and Butterfly roses and delphiniums.

Miss McKenzie and Miss Meyers wore gray georgette gowns fashioned alike with full skirts and bodice waists, plicated with silver. The gowns were fashioned with bertha collars with tight neck line around the throat. Large silver bows of ribbon at the back of the neck with long streamers down the back were the only trimming. Miss Hodges wore a pastel blue georgette gown fashioned as those of the other bridesmaids. They carried shower arm bouquets of various kinds of delphinium, roses and budelia.

Bride in White
Dr. Harry O. Alexander was best man, and the ushers were Howard Underwood, Telford Orblison and George Tomlinson and Earl Laker of Danville, Ill.

The bride was dressed in a beautiful gown of white satin fashioned in period style with a skirt of Chantilly lace, ankle length. The bodice was tight fitting and the long tight sleeves were set with inserts of the lace beaded with tiny seed pearls. Her long tulle veil was arranged with a cap of lace over satin and trimmed with bands of rhinestones. Her flowers were roses, lilies of the Valley, and orchids in a shower bouquet.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the Propylaeum. Mr. and Mrs. Van Arsdale left on wedding trip to White Sulphur Springs and Washington, and will be at home after Dec. 1, at Danville, Ill.

Mrs. Van Arsdale was a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority of Butler University and Mr. Van Arsdale of the Sigma Chi fraternity. Both are graduates of the university.

DEATH SENTENCE GIVEN
Slayer of South Bend Druggist Convicted at Elkhart.

By United Press
ELKHART, Ind., Oct. 7.—The first death sentence in the history of Elkhart County was to be imposed Friday by the Elkhart Superior Court on John Hall, convicted slayer of Louis Kreidler, South Bend druggist.

After one hour and five minutes of deliberations, the jury returned a verdict of guilty, recommending the death penalty and Judge W. B. Hile, granted pleas of attorneys for defense that sentence be deferred until Friday in order that they might have time to prepare a motion for a new trial.

TWO ARRESTED AFTER ROBBERY

Lone Bandit Holds Up Man in Car—Gets $83.

A lone hold-up man stopped an auto driven by Ralph Bending, 359 N. Illinois St., at Speedway Rd., near the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, and robbed Leonard M. Cox, 431 N. Illinois St., of $83. Bending was not robbed. Cox said the bandit had a handkerchief over the lower part of his face and carried a large caliber gun. He escaped on foot.

After receiving the report and checking the details, Detectives Houlman and Engelbright arrested Bending and John H. Smith, Indiana Harbor, Ind., whose auto Bending was driving, on vagrancy charges and set the bond at $2,000. Bending invited Cox to take a ride, officers said.

A man on crutches turned out to be a sneak thief, Harold Arnold, attendant at the filling station at Morris and Union Sts., told police today. He said the man walked into the station while he was waiting on a customer and left with $10.

TO DEDICATE OLD HOME

Many Will Attend Program at Madison on Saturday.

Approximately one thousand persons will attend the formal dedication Saturday of the Lanier memorial homestead at Madison, which has been taken over by the State in honor of James F. D. Lanier, the State's principal benefactor during the Civil War. A program has been arranged through joint efforts of the city of Madison, the Society of Indiana Pioneers and the Jefferson County Historical Society.

Visitors will assemble Friday at Clifty Falls State park, where a preliminary program will be given. Formal dedication of the memorial will take place Saturday afternoon. Governor Jackson will be principal speaker at a public dinner Saturday evening.
