

GIVE OUT FUND RADIO PROGRAM

Bill Will Be Broadcast Wednesday Night.

Mrs. William Herbert Gibbs, radio chairman for the Community Fund series over WFEB, announces that Wednesday night's program from 9:30 to 10 p. m. will include a miscellaneous group of songs and piano selections.

The Girl Glee Club of Girl Scouts Troop 28 and the women's quartet of the Y. W. C. A. will take part. Mrs. C. J. Summers, pianist, will open the program with "Liebestraum" (Liszt) and "Russian Waltz" (Wach). The Y. W. C. A. quartet, including Miss Ruby Steiner, Miss Dorothy Steg, Miss Louise Steg and Miss Viola Frye, will sing the Y. W. C. A. national song, "Follow the Glean."

Mrs. James Wolverson Stockton, formerly Miss Katherine Winders, will sing "I Love Life" (Mania Zucca). "Florida, the Moon and You" (Frim) and "At Parting" (Rogers).

RING AND FUR STOLEN

Local Police Advised of $700 Theft at French Lick Hotel.

Local police have been asked to watch pawn shops for a diamond ring, valued at $600, and a brown fur neckpiece, valued at $100, stolen from George W. Trendle, French Lick Springs. The theft was reported by F. C. Huntington of the Pinkerton Detective Agency, who is investigating the theft.

Leslie Wheeler, Edinburg, Ind., told police last week he stopped at the Palace Hotel, 4 N. New Jersey St., and went home over the weekend, leaving clothing valued at $50 in his room. He returned Monday and found the hotel vacant and his clothing gone.

James Newton, Negro, 25 E. Thirtieth St., told police his apartment was entered and two suits, an overcoat and a rug valued at $100 taken.

Chosen Officers By Butler Seniors

Below: Lester Budd

The senior class of Butler University has elected Lester Budd, president and Miss Helen Pascoe, vice president. Two elections were held before a majority was obtained. A new system of voting now is followed on the campus. Formerly a majority was required, but now a plurality can elect.

TO MEET SIX SCHOOLS

Schedule for Butler Women Debaters Is Announced.

Professor Siffritt, Butler University debating coach, announces that debates with six schools have been scheduled for the women's team. Feb. 16 the teams representing Earlham and Indiana Central will be met in a triangular meet. March 5 the locals will engage De Pauw and Miami, and will meet Albion and Wittenberg, March 25.

The question to be debated by the women's squad is, "Resolved: That Congress should enact uniform marriage and divorce laws." The varsity team will be strengthened with the return of last year's debaters, consisting of Alice Kepner, Elizabeth Moschenross, Marifrances Ogle, Betty Keller and Jane Jackson.

HASSLER REORGANIZING

Auto Accessory Company Taken Over by Eastern Bankers.

Reorganization of the Robert H. Hassler Company, 1409-1535 Naomi St., manufacturers of automobile stabilizers and shock absorbers, was under way today following announcement of its sale to a syndicate of Eastern bankers headed by Guy Lemmon, vice president. Lemmon will head the new company, which will undertake a broad advertising campaign.

A wholesale increase in business is predicted by the new owners. Established in 1914 by Robert H. Hassler, the plant became known as the largest manufacturer of automobile shock absorbers in the world. Practically no changes will be made now in the operating personnel of the business, Lemmon said.

DEMOCRATS SEE COUNTY VICTORY

"I am feeling very optimistic," Keach said. "The early vote was light, but the early voters were mostly straight party supporters. Democratic workers are on the job and we expect to get the big independent vote to the polls this afternoon. We are much encouraged by the fact that the Ku-Klux Klan is not at the polls in the strength it was in the 1924 State election."

Coffin Confident
"This is Republican weather," George V. Coffin, Republican chairman, declared two hours after the polls opened.

He reiterated his prediction of a Republican county victory by a majority of 15,000, and estimated that 400 voters would be compelled to make affidavit in Circuit Court in order to cast ballots, due to registration changes.

Republicans, however, seemed to realize that they were entering one of the most doubtful contests in years. Almost from dawn Coffin's headquarters in the K. of P. Bldg. was a beehive of activity. The machine was well-oiled and working smoothly, with hundreds of men employed in its operation.

Sheriff Omer Hawkins was on hand, with deputies to aid in guiding voters. Precinct workers were well equipped and every vote challenged was immediately taken care of by transporting the voter to the court house and getting an official O. K.

Call on Coffin

Some workers seemed to believe that approval from Coffin was the only thing necessary to O. K. the voter whose name did not appear on the official registration list. Coffin spent part of the morning in explaining such was not the case, both over the phone and in person.

Keach was on hand early, but few workers reported to Democratic headquarters in the Merchants Bank Bldg. They were told to go out and work at the polls and apparently they did, for the place was quiet.

(One fight was reported to election commissioners. When the regular election clerk failed to appear at 617 Massachusetts Ave., First precinct, Seventh ward, the Democratic precinct committee insisted on serving Gideon Blain, election commissioner who investigated, said.)

The Republican precinct committee objected and was about to settle the matter with a blackjack when the policeman stationed there interfered, Blain said. Appearance of the regular clerk settled the dispute. No arrests were made.

Some Trouble

There was some trouble in the Seventh precinct, Seventh ward, at 543 E. Market St. It was reported that the election clerk, a Republican, was challenging the vote of every one. The precinct sheriff, a Democrat, sought to prevent the challenging, but found himself unable to cope with the situation. He called to the election board for help.

Machines were reported out of order in the Second precinct, First ward, at 2961 N. Gale St., and the Twenty-first precinct of the Ninth ward, 4910 E. Michigan St. The latter reported about 8:30 a. m., had not been working since the polls opened, it was said. Repairs were sent to both places.

Voting in the Negro district, which in the past has been fairly heavy before working hours, was exceptionally slow, it was reported. Republican leaders, who usually count on a large majority of the Negro voters, appeared to be worried.

Fifty of the 800 voters registered in the Second precinct of the Second ward, at 915 Blake St., had cast their ballots at 8:30 a. m. Of these votes, half were estimated to be Democratic.

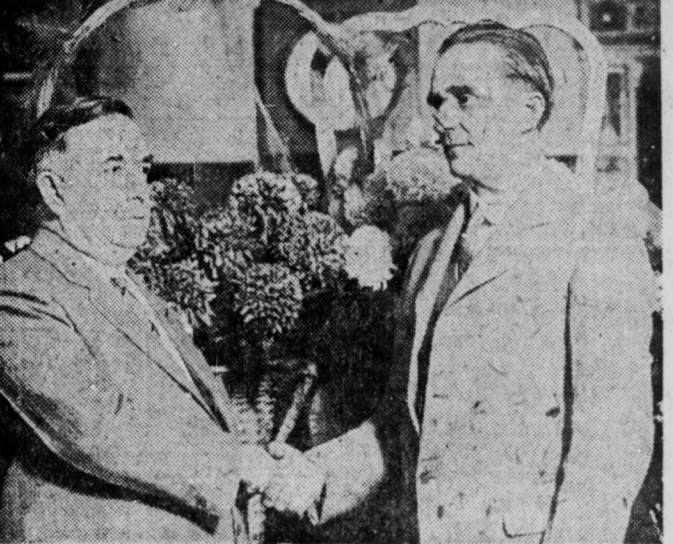

More Negro workers, both men and women, appeared at the polling places. Numerous fires were built, ward off the chill of the early morning weather.

Rufe Page on Hand
Rufe Page, prominent Negro Republican, who was said to be on the outs with the Coffin faction, was reported back in line. Page was recently arrested on a charge of keeping a gambling house, the police favorite club used by the county political boss to bring the "Avenue" boys into line. Page was about the polls at 1325 Lafayette St., Seventh precinct, Third ward. He was taking no active part however.

In this precinct nearly 500 votes were registered. Half of these were doubtful. At 9 a. m. 63 votes had been cast. Poll workers said nearly 200 votes should have been cast in the first three hours.

A heated scene took place at the Second precinct, Sixth ward, 819 N. Senate Ave. Failure to get the machine open until 7 a. m. was construed by the Republican poll workers as a move to discourage the regular line Republicans. With 500 registered, only thirty-four votes had been cast.

Typo Head Congratulated

Charles P. Howard (right), newly installed president of the International Typographical Union, being congratulated by Theodore Perry, who ran on Howard's ticket for first vice president. Howard was the only one on his ticket to be elected. A floral band sent by several out-of-town typographical unions for the installation ceremonies Monday is shown in the background.

At 9 a. m. and the Democrat workers claimed the majority.

Some Variety
By way of variety, workers in the Ninth precinct, Thirteenth ward, 1214 S. Meridian St., reported that more than a normal vote was recorded during the morning. Seventy-nine of 400 registered had appeared. The district contains many Jewish voters.

However, a few bucks away, in the Second precinct of the Thirteenth ward, at 1306 Wright St., only 18 of 800 votes were recorded. Scratching was prevalent in the Seventeenth precinct of the Tenth ward, at 1817 Woodlawn Ave., before 10:20 a. m. Of 600 voters, seventy-five had appeared.

Charles Duvall, Republican leader who was active in Mayor Duvall's campaign, said the Democrats were "cleaning up" in early voting in the Fourth precinct of the Tenth ward.

Remy Favorite
"But half of the Democrats are voting for Remy for prosecutor," he said.

The count showed 122 out of 1,100 votes in.

In the Seventh ward, where political counting tricks are frequent, early voting was better than in other districts.

At 10:35 a. m., 102 of 440 had taken a fling at the voting machine in the Eighth precinct of the Seventh ward at 303 E. Ohio St.

Democratic officials at the Third precinct, of the Seventh ward, 408 N. Delaware St., were jubilant at seeing the faces of Democrats, who have not voted for many elections. Out of 500 voters, 150 had appeared at 10:45 a. m. Workers complained, because many early voters were unable to wait for repairs to the voting machines that were not in commission until 7 a. m.

A light vote was reported in two south side precincts. At 10:38 S. Capitol Ave., Eleventh precinct, Thirteenth ward, ninety of 400 registered voters had cast ballots in the morning, mostly straight tickets. In the Twelfth precinct, Thirteenth ward, 1115 S. West St., eighty-five of 500 registered had voted, with an estimate of about 10 per cent scratched ballots.

Two downtown precincts were not crowded during the forenoon. Eighth precinct, Seventh ward, 303 E. Ohio St., had a total vote of eighty-seven out of 400, with few women ballotting. The First precinct, same ward, 617 Massachusetts Ave., had seventy-seven voters, about evenly divided between men and women.

An unusually light morning vote was recorded in the Ninth precinct of the Ninth ward, which has its polling place at 2217 E. Michigan St. Only 105 votes, out of a total registration of 1,200, had been cast. The balloting seemed about equally divided between Democrats and Republicans.

Women Voting
Women had cast most of the 197 ballots counted in the Tenth precinct of the Ninth ward, 2811 E. New York St. There were many scratches, it seemed and the vote by parties seemed about equal. Registration in this precinct is 936.

At Woodruff Place town hall, the balloting place for the Third precinct of Center Township, outside, the vote during the morning was 155, while registration is 642. Only about thirty-five of these votes were thought to be Democratic, though the precinct normally is Republican by only a small majority. Many women also had voted here and a great number of the votes were scratched.

A Democratic gain seemed likely from the early returns from the Third precinct, Ninth ward, 1323 E. Tenth St. This precinct normally is about two to one Republican, but the 120 ballots cast in the morning were thought to be about evenly divided. There was a registration of 600 in the precinct.

Patrolmen Harry Smith, assigned to this precinct, built a fire across the street from the polling place and soon had many visitors to share the warmth of the flames.

In Seventh Ward
In the Fourth precinct, Seventh ward, 250 of 800 votes were recorded at the polls at 327 N. Alabama St. at 11:40 a. m.

The Fifth of the same ward, at 620 E. Vermont St., revealed 129 of 700 voters had visited the polls, with little scratching. However, in the Seventh precinct of that ward only eighty-four of 742 persons had voted at 11:30 a. m. at 543 E. Market St.

Straight-ticket voting featured the Seventh precinct of the Eighth ward, where 147 of 400 voters had come to 848 Ft. Wayne Ave. before noon.

Second ward Democratic workers were rejoicing because they said they had moved the bulk of their vote to the polls before noon. Of 1,100 voters in the Tenth precinct of the ward at 419 E. Twenty-Second St., 300 had voted at noon. In the Eleventh precinct 250 of 800 had appeared.

Early predictions of a light Negro vote were borne out in the Second precinct of the Sixth ward, where only 400 of 700 votes had been recorded at 12:50 p. m.

Fourth Ward Higher
The Fourth ward showed a higher average of votes.

In the Seventh precinct, 280 of 1,100 voters came to the polls at 418 E. Thirtieth St. Total of 210 from 900 voters arrived at 255 C. Central Ave., Tenth precinct, before noon. At 12:30 p. m., 262 of 850 persons had voted at 2566 Talbot St., voting place for the Eleventh precinct. Two hundred of 998 voters came to the Twelfth precinct at 2702 N. Illinois St. before noon.

Other precinct reports at noon were:

Eleventh precinct, Ninth ward, 305 S. La Salle St., 272 votes cast; registration, 800. Many women voting; little scratching.

Eighteenth precinct, Ninth ward, 1430 E. New York St., 305 voted; registration, 1,250.

Twentieth precinct, Ninth ward, 4801 E. New York St., 284 voted; registration, 1,100.

of the Coffin-Dodson faction, was active in working at this poll.

West Side Slow

Voting in the west side industrial district was reported slow. Fifty-five of the 500 registered voters had voted in the Fourth precinct of the Fifteenth ward at 22 Bloomington St. by 9 a. m.

Coincidental with this, the same number of the same number of registered voters had voted at the Third precinct of the Fifteenth ward at 1843 W. Washington St., when a report was rendered just five minutes later. Voters there are reported to be casting straight ballots.

A very light vote of forty-six of the 500 registered voters was cast in the First precinct of the Fifteenth ward, at 2020 Wilcox St.

Early Count Seen

An early return of final and tabulated figures of the vote was predicted by Marion County election commissioners.

According to Commissioners, Ira Holmes, Gideon Blain and Albert Lasche, systematic handling of the polls and better condition of voting machines, along with the use of them, will be the cause of the vote being in early.

Holmes said he believed the official tabulation will be finished by 6 p. m. Wednesday evening at the latest. The commissioners have asked the police department to cooperate with them, not only in maintaining order at the polls during the day, but also in securing the machine sheets after the voting is through.

Any election employee who does not present his machine list immediately after it is reckoned is subject to arrest.

Poll officials were on the job around 5 a. m. and when the polls opened at 6, it was said that a normal vote would be cast.

Many downtown firms and factories permitted employees "time out" for voting, while some business places closed during the afternoon for voting.

Although the voting machines were supposed to be in perfect voting order, reports of mechanical troubles were received Monday night. A staff of mechanics under W. C. Whiting, factory expert, repaired all the machines before day break, however.

All machines were unpacked in the voting places Monday.

Extra Machines

Five extra machines are held for emergency in addition to the 269 in the precincts and also sixteen extra ones placed in larger voting places.

Commissioners are prepared to handle the vote by Australian ballot if the machines fail to work.

Immediate investigation of election fraud charges is promised by Prosecutor William H. Remy. Remy said any reports of fraudulent activities will be handled without delay.

He pointed out that these charges are punishable under the State and Federal laws.

Machines were reported out of order in the Twenty-Seventh and Twenty-Eighth precincts of Wayne Township. The lever on the first one was repaired and the machine was put back in operation, while a repairman was sent to the Twenty-Eighth precinct.

It was reported to election commissioners that in the Thirtieth-Ninth precinct of the Fourth ward, the name of one candidate had been pulled from the machine. This report was found to be false when it was investigated.

Election Commissioners Holmes and Gideon Blain used a police emergency automobile, equipped with a siren and all accessories for runs to outlying precincts where trouble was reported. County Clerk Lasche handled phone calls at the office in the courthouse.

Twelve machines in Bridgeport and Beech Grove, Perry Township, and in Lawrence Townships were reported out of order to election commissioners when the polls opened.

Ignorance of the election officials as to how to manipulate the machines was responsible for the trouble, experts said after examination.

Early vote was reported light in the Twenty-sixth precinct, Warren Township.

Stump, Robinson Vote

Albert Stump, Democratic senatorial candidate, and Senator Arthur R. Robinson, voters in this precinct. Ninety-seven persons had voted at the Broad Ripple home house, Forty-Sixth precinct, Washington Township, a Republican stronghold, by 8 a. m. This was the usual vote, officials said.

Heavy scratching was reported in the Forty-Sixth precinct, Washington Township, where Evans Woolen, Democratic opponent of Senator Robinson, voted at 8:30 a. m. Up to that time forty-nine persons had voted.

The world's largest machine, a turbine generator of 60,000 kilowatt capacity, has just been installed in the New York East River railway station. It generates enough energy to pull forty-seven trains.

Certain natives of Australia put balm in the skin of the soles of their feet.

Weights 18 Pounds at 2 Months

Harold Applegate weighed eighteen pounds at the age of two months, which gives him a chance for consideration among the bigger and better babies. The little chap is able to sit up and wonder about this business of having his picture taken, as is shown by the intense look that he is registering. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Applegate, R. R. 4, Shelbyville, Ind.

CHANGE FOR ALL, PLEDGE OF HOOPLE

And It Won't Be Small
Change Either, Declares
Major.

"Why change?"
"Ahem, that is one interrogation I shall not put to single folk who come to me seeking connubial bliss," Mayor Hoople declared today in a ringing election day statement.

"Bah, jove, I need change. Elect me justice of peace and I shall pledge every man change and it won't be small change either, egad," he declared.

"Why change? Egad, I'll tell folks who seek me out to have me marry them that they should change and change for the better. I shall cite them the happy-ahem-years of married life with the good wife Martha."

"Why change? Silly pother. Egad, I remember when I was running for Legislature in Siberia—"

Censored.

The Major, who lives in the boarding house on the corner page of The Times, became a candidate for justice of peace when the good Martha insisted she would drive him to work.

Members of the Owls Club, who are managing the Major's campaign, made last minute charges of corruption, alleging the Society of Indigent Women Against Indigent Husband was spending thousands of dollars in an effort to buy the election.

The club charged the society sought to defeat Hoople, to set an example in forcing all men to work.

"I rely on the goodly electorate to rally to my cause," said the major, incidentally pledging, if elected: "100 per cent beer."

"Abolition of laws suppressing poker playing."

"Five cent cigars that aren't five cent cigars."

"Abolition of the curfew law for husbands."

"Free rent and tax exemption for the Owls Club."

"Abolition of Woman's suffrage."

"Barbershops for men only."

"Passage of a law forbidding women from using their husband's chewing tobacco and cigars."

The Times tonight will flash returns on the outcome of the Major's race.

JUDGE SEES MENACE

Assails Drunken Drivers as He Gives Sentence to One.

"Drunken drivers of automobiles form the greatest menace in Indianapolis today," declared Municipal Judge Paul C. Wetter, when he sentenced Walter Copenhaver, 50, of 440 Forest Ave., Monday, to thirty days on the Indiana State Farm.

Copenhaver was fined $25 and costs for operating a motor vehicle while drunk; $25 and costs for assault and battery, and $10 and costs for drunkenness. He drove his car through a safety zone at E. Washington and California Sts., Saturday night, running down Frank McComb, 3707 E. Sixteenth St. McComb was bruised.

COMMUNITY FUND WORKERS ADVISED

Employees Division Gets Final Instructions.

One thousand workers in the employees' divisions of the Community Fund will receive "good luck" letters with last-minute instructions today, as a follow-up on their annual rally dinner which took place last Friday night in the Claypool, Riley room. About 400 attended.

Herman P. Lieber, campaign chairman, says: "The workers in these divisions have a task which can only be successfully finished by co-operation and steady efforts on the part of the section captains to keep in almost daily contact with the chairmen within the firms until each of them has carried out his solicitation."

A report from all the firms is expected at the first report luncheon of the campaign, Nov. 8. The opening luncheon of the campaign when Lieber and Fred Hoke, president of the Community Fund, will give the workers a send-off for the ten-day campaign will take place Friday noon at the Claypool, Riley room.

BREAKS A COLD IN A HURRY

"Pape's Cold Compound" is pleasant and affords Instant Relief

A dose taken every three hours until the three doses are taken will break up a cold. It promptly opens clogged nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dizziness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stuff up! Quit blowing and snuffing! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only thirty-five cents at any drug store.
