

NEW HOTEL FOR DUNES PLANNED

State Conservation Department May Build.

By Times Special
MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Dec. 8.—Construction of a 150-room hotel unit in the State Dunes Park at Tremont will be started in the spring if the State Legislature acts favorably on the budget request of the State conservation department, Richard Lieber, director, declared here.

Of the $750,000 requested for the park along Lake Michigan, a major amount would go for a hotel near the beach, Lieber said.

Eventually, the department hopes to build a 400-room hotel, building a 150-room unit first, Lieber explained. Other plans call for a bathhouse and commissary, he said.

DEMAND SAFE CROSSING

Civic League Aroused by Number of Fatal Accidents.

A movement to force the Bell Railroad to make its Madison Ave. crossing safer is being contemplated by the Garfield Park Civic League, as a result of the number of fatal accidents at that place.

"A number of fatal accidents have occurred at this crossing during the last two years," H. F. Kottkamp, league president, said. "Residents of the south side are aroused and intend to see that safety gates or some other devices are adopted in order to protect human life at the crossing."

"If necessary we will file suit against the board of works."

HEALTH TROUBLES ENDED 6 MONTHS AGO; STILL WELL

"Konjola Ended Stomach Misery," She Says; Feels Better Than She Has in Years.

"There was never a time in my life that I felt better than I have the past six months, since Konjola ended my stomach trouble, and my general health is improved so much it is hard for me to realize I am the same person," said Mrs. Mary

MRS. MAMIE SCHWARTZ
Schwartz, well-known Indianapolis lady, living at 433 Haugh St., this city, while taking a few days ago with the Konjola Man at Hook's Drug Store, Pennsylvania and Market Sts., Indianapolis, where large crowds are calling daily to hear his personal explanation of this celebrated new medicine that has been helping thousands of sufferers all over this vicinity.

"I was in poor health at least ten years," continued Mrs. Schwartz. "I always had to take something after meals for indigestion, and of course I only got temporary relief—every time I ate, I would suffer. Nothing would really end my stomach trouble until I started taking Konjola, and now it has been six months since I finished with this medicine, and I haven't had a minute of worry with my stomach to this day, so I wish to endorse Konjola for the great, lasting relief it has given me."

"I have suffered cramps so severely I would double over. Sharp pains would center in the pit of my stomach, and large quantities of gas would circulate around my heart, causing it to palpitate and tremble like a leaf. I would be short of breath, have dizzy spells, and dreadful headaches."

"Well, everything is different now, and as I said, these miseries have not troubled me in six months. I can rest better at nights than I have in years. I can eat anything I want and my digestion is perfect. Before I found Konjola I was on a restricted diet all the time, but since this medicine has put my stomach in healthy condition, I can eat just anything put on the table. It gives me great pleasure to praise a medicine that does so much for suffering people."

Konjola is non-alcoholic. It is different than any medicine previously known. Where many ordinary remedies contain only 7 or 8 herbal ingredients, which merely act as a laxative, this new Konjola contains twenty-two juices extracted from natural plants, which invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels to more health action. The effect of Konjola on the whole inner system brings amazing relief in cases of suffering that had been going on for years. At the same time, many weak and run-down systems have been restored to a new state of health thru the use of this compound. Such a vast number of men and women in this city have benefited by taking Konjola, until now it has become the most highly endorsed medicine that is known in this vicinity.

The Konjola Man is at Hook's Drug Store, Pennsylvania and Market Sts., Indianapolis, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Konjola is sold by every Hook Store in Indianapolis, and by all druggists in the nearby towns throughout this section.—Advertisement.

Dorothy Dix Explains Mystery of Married Men

By Walter D. Hickman
Dorothy Dix has let the cat out of the bag concerning the lure of the married man.

Taking it for granted that there is a "lure," and a certain amount of mystery, then we may proceed with Dorothy Dix and her chapter on this lure in her book, "Dorothy Dix, Her Book."

This book of a widely read woman newspaper writer is published by Funk & Wagnalls Company, selling for $2.

Miss Dix has this to say about the "lure" of the married man: "A man wants to know why married men have such a fascination for girls, and wherein a bachelors' wooing differs from that of a bachelor."

The first part of this double-barreled question was answered by Eve in the Garden of Eden, and every girl takes after her greatest grandmother. Married men are forbidden fruit, and that alone whets the appetite of the foolish little Evelyns for him, and makes them the prize pippins of the whole matrimonial orchard.

The thing that a woman cannot have, that she has no right to have, and especially the thing that some other woman possesses, is always the thing that she wants most.

"If you have ever watched women fight over a man's face and unattractive article on a bachelors' table, where each was determined to have it just because the other desired it, you have the psychological explanation of why a girl falls for a married man that she wouldn't look at if he were single."

It does not personally matter what the highbrows think of Dorothy Dix and the advice that she hands out to hundreds and hundreds of people.

My contact with reading this woman forces me to realize that she is a good saleswoman of what everybody wants to know in some form or other.

And yet I was very bold yesterday when I carried this book in plain view of everybody onto a street car. I guess about everyone present, including the conductor spotted what I was carrying.

About half way to town, a man sitting near me said, "Pardon me, Martha Lee on the Times to review."

And Martha writes a lot of things about life also.

GET READY FOR RUSH

Postoffice Department Heads Conference With Bryson.

Final plans for the hardling of Christmas rush mail were completed Tuesday at a meeting of postoffice department supervisors with Postmaster Robert H. Bryson.

"Beginning Dec. 15, we will employ extra help," Bryson said. "About 400 persons will be used during our rush season."

In her introduction, Dorothy Dix writes: "Above all, I have acquired a sense of humor, because there were so many things over which I had either to laugh or cry. And when a woman can joke over her troubles instead of having hysterics, nothing can ever hurt her much again."

"So I do not regret the hardships I have known because through them I have touched life at every point. I have lived. And it was worth the price I had to pay."

Probably I should have turned
