Desperate Fight on Woman Spies

By United Press. PEKING, April 20.—Every Shantung soldier who captures a woman spy can have twenty Mexican dollars and the spy as well under an order of Gen. Chang Shung-Chang, northern commander. Chang notified his men of the reward in a desperate effort to end the work of the woman spies, 1,000 of whom were said to be operating in Shantung.

JAPAN MAY SHIFT

Inability to Determine China's Future Cited as Factor.

By United Press. WASHINGTON, April 20.—Japanese inability to determine "the essential voice of China" in the present crisis may cause some alteration of Japan's policy toward the Chinese, thus far marked by conciliation and friendliness, diplomatic observers forecast today. This means, in effect, the Japanese government finds it difficult to estimate whether radical or moderate elements will dominate in China, and that she must therefore preserve a certain freedom of action in the event of unforeseen developments.

DELAYS $10 A DAY PAY

State Auditor Awaits Gilliom Plea for Rehearing of Case.

Members of the last Legislature are not going to receive pay at the rate of $10 a day right away. After the Indiana Supreme Court Tuesday reversed the judgment of Marion Superior Court Five by holding that the pay increase from $6 to $10 a day, voted themselves by the Legislature, is valid and constitutional, Auditor of State Lewis S. Bowman announced he would send no checks to cover the increase, pending advice from Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliom. Gilliom announced he would petition for rehearing of the case before the State Supreme Court within the thirty days allowed by law. He has contended the act is unconstitutional.

There is Relief!

A harmless way to stop pain. That really STOPS it. How long they looked for something like No-Ake tablets! A form of help that cannot form a habit.

No need, now, to bear a headache until you can't stand it! Neuralgia, neuritis, those pains no remedy seems to reach; they succumb quickly to the soothing influence of No-Ake! Try it when nervous, or nights you can't sleep; it acts in five minutes!

When sick, see a doctor. But to end pain—slight or serious—there's No-Ake. The druggist sells it readily, for he knows it's perfectly harmless.

CENTRAL ILLINOIS RAVAGED

Known Dead in Storm Reached 23—Injured Total 100

By United Press. SPRINGFIELD, ILL., April 20.—Central Illinois today had contributed at least a score of lives and hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property to the elements which are terrifying rural districts of the United States.

Cyclonic winds swept a path from the outskirts of St. Louis to Springfield late yesterday. The tornado struck in a dozen places and homes of thousands were destroyed.

Springfield, Carrollton and Lincoln, Ill., were centers of rescue work today. Injured and dead were taken to those places when possible. Many of the homeless are being cared for in those towns also.

Anna Keller, 55, a school teacher, was killed when the storm flattened her country school building at Centerville. Many of her thirty-two pupils were injured and some may have been killed. Two boys, Hobart Baker, 7, and Murray Goodwin, 9, were killed when the school they were attending in Logan County met a similar fate. A third schoolhouse was struck at Leroy, Ill. Most of the pupils managed to escape before the building collapsed, but some of them were trampled in the rush for the door.

Eldon Rathgeber and wife were killed when their farm home near Carrollton was leveled.

Reports of deaths received here from small towns in the twister's path are: Lincoln, 2; Mt. Pulaski, 2; Wright, 5; Hardin, 1; Woodville, 2; Athensville, 1; Kaser, 1; Loomis, 1; Buffalo, 2; Cornland, 2; Chestnut, 2; Carrollton, 2.

MRS. DUNNING TO ORGANIZE WOMEN FOR 'MANAGER'

Workers in Every Ward and Precinct to Be Named Soon.

Mrs. Lehman Dunning, 1565 College Ave., was named woman organizer today for the city manager movement.

Mrs. Dunning plans a city-wide organization to carry an educational program on the business-like form of government to Indianapolis women preliminary to the election, June 21.

A woman organizer for each of the fifteen wards with a worker in each of the 225 precincts will assist the movement, she said.

Strong Organization

A strong organization will be mustered within ten days, Mrs. Dunning declared.

She formerly was physical education director at Manual Training High School. She is the wife of Dr. Dunning and has lived here nearly all her life.

City Controller William C. Buser today sought an opinion on the means of meeting expenses of the city manager election from Chief State Examiner Lawrence F. Orr. There is no election fund available from which the approximate $80,000 can be paid this year, it is said.

Meeting Planned

City manager executive committee planned a meeting this week to outline campaign plans, according to Charles F. Coffin, executive chairman. Several mass meetings are planned later, to educate the public to the manager plan.

Edward O. Smetten, attorney, secretary of the manager committee, explained the proposal before the Lion's Club today at the Lincoln.

Claude H. Anderson, executive secretary, will address the Indianapolis Engineering Society at its luncheon Thursday at the Board of Trade.

DALE CONTEMPT CASE UP MONDAY

Oral Arguments to Be Heard by U. S. Supreme Court.

Assistant Attorneys General Edward M. White and Edward J. Lennon will appear before the United States Supreme Court Monday, representing the State of Indiana in oral arguments on the contempt of court case of George R. Dale, Muncie publisher, appealed from the Indiana Supreme Court.

Involved in the case is the "truth is no defense" opinion by Indiana Supreme Court Judge Julius C. Travis, when the State court upheld the judgment of Delaware Circuit Court Judge Clarence W. Dearth of Muncie. Dearth sentenced Dale to ninety days' imprisonment and fine of $500 when he found him guilty of contempt. Dale's attack against Dearth followed the publisher's indictment on a liquor charge.

The meetings are preliminary to a drive for $200,000,000 additional endowment for the university. More than half of the total has been subscribed and $35,000 has been pledged already by Indiana alumni. Canvass of Yale men will not be made at the dinner.

APARTMENT APPROVED

Permit Given for Building at Sixteenth and Pennsylvania Sts.

Permission to erect a $300,000 apartment at the northwest corner of Sixteenth and Pennsylvania Sts., was granted D. T. Smith, by the board of zoning appeals Tuesday, on condition that thirty-one feet on Sixteenth St. be left for the proposed widening of the street.

The board denied a permit to Sarah Sacks for a one-story six-room business building at the southwest corner at Fifth St. and College Ave.

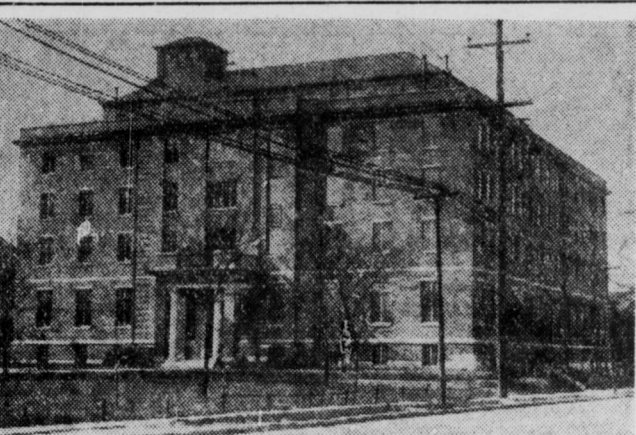

Mark Margolis, promoter, withdrew his petition for a $125,000 theater at Thirty-Eighth and Meridian Sts., in the face of protest.

Similar Danger in Indiana Cited

Unscientific drainage, devastated forests, eroded hillsides and disregard toward checking waters as they flow to southern outlets, make Indiana conditions today not dissimilar to the situation prevalent in the Mississippi valley, now swept by flood waters, Richard Lieber, State conservation department director, told the Kiwanis Club at its luncheon meeting today.

The conservation department is attempting to remedy conditions with an extensive program for reforestation of waste lands and flood prevention, he said.

GIVE 'EM THE CHAIR, 'VERDICT'

for an Emily Post on murder etiquette.

They Know Men

"Whatever the verdict is, it should be the same for both," is the unanimous decision. "She may get off with less because she's a woman, but she's really worse than he is, for it was her husband they killed, and he was a stranger to Gray. Besides, she probably goaded him on—you know how men are; like to show off—weak and ready to do anything for a woman."

This strikes an interesting note. Men on a jury generously make allowance for a woman's weakness, both physical and moral; she is unduly influenced, led astray by some man, really not responsible—poor little woman! And now women are ready to extend the same courtesy to men; after all they're mere babes, just putty in the hands of a woman; especially a blonde.

It's evident with a woman jury Ruth Snyder would be tried not for just murder, but for adultery.

Sob Factors Fall

Even the two children, Jane Gray and Lorraine Snyder, counted on to be excellent sob material for the defense, arouse women's wrath against the slayers.

"They should have thought of the children before they committed the crime," is the concise and swift comment. "Besides, they'll be better off without such parents."

And Gray's mother, who came to court the opening day and sat just five feet away from her son's partner in crime causes even more savage comment: "If I'd been here," said one woman, "I'd have torn Ruth Snyder to pieces!"

Super-Normal

"Sisters under the skin," Kipling may have been right, but it's sisters in tendencies rather than in sympathy. One can understand Ruth Snyder better after talking with other women. She is not abnormal, but super-normal, a monstrosity because she combines dangerously and in excess the most lovely traits of her sex—coldness, selfishness and a certain brutal savagery.

Yes, women on the jury would certainly do much to remove the present curse of sentimentality. There's only one objection—jurors must have open minds and so far not one single woman we talked to had an opinion that could be changed by anything less than a fifty-pound sledgehammer or perhaps a ten-ton truck.

But even at that, it would save the State time and money, for with women on the jury, there'd be no need for a trial at all! (Copyright, 1927, by New York Telegram)

Ceremonies Held at New Home Adjoining Hospital

Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent's Hospital today dedicated the new home for nurses, just completed at Illinois and Twenty-Sixth Sts. Services opened at 8 a. m., with solemn high mass in the hospital chapel. Benediction at 3:30 p. m. preceded the dedication service at 4, which began with the blessing of the new home by the Right Reverend Joseph Chartrand, bishop of the Indianapolis diocese.

The dedicatory service was held in Louise De Marillac auditorium in the new five-story home. Address was given by Bishop Chartrand. The Nurses' Chorus sang. Orchestra of St. John's Academy and the Cathedral High School band were on the program.

Dedication of the new home marked the thirtieth anniversary of the founding of the Nurses' Training School at St. Vincent's. Four members of the original class of seven attended the dedication.

Sister Mary Joseph is the present superior at St. Vincent's, while Sister Rose is superintendent of nurses. The nurses' home contains large parlors, library, study rooms, class and demonstration rooms, recreation rooms, a gymnasium, sitting rooms and sun porches.

It is built to harmonize with the hospital buildings adjoining. St. Vincent's, founded here April 27, 1881, was established in its present location in 1913.

The nurses training school has grown from seven graduates in 1896 to twenty-eight this year. The school has graduated 349 nurses. The number of students in training after May 1 will be 114. Fifty St. Vincent nurses served in the world war.

Mr. Hobbs had served as an officer of the Indiana Horticulture Society and once was vice president of the American Association of Nurserymen. He also had served as a trustee of Earlham College and Purdue University. The widow and four children survive.

Asthma Made His Life a Burden

Found Way to Conquer Trouble. Has Been Well Ever Since.

Sufferers from asthma and stubborn bronchial coughs will find unusual interest in a letter written by Jos. Thompson, 935 Tibbs Ave., Indianapolis, Ind. He says: "I had asthma for seven years and a severe bronchial cough for twelve years. My cough kept me awake most of the night and even kept my neighbors awake. I was so bad that my folks could hear me all over the house. I took one medicine after another without relief in all my life."

"Finally a relative who had been benefited by Nacor prevailed upon me to try it. I was confined to my bed at the time, but before I had finished the first bottle I was up and able to go downtown. I kept on improving steadily and am now feeling fine. I have had no cough and no asthma for over a year. Am sleeping like a baby, my appetite and digestion are good and I am working every day at the Link-Belt. I am 67 years of age, but never felt better in all my life."

Amazing as Mr. Thompson's letter may be to those who have suffered from asthma, bronchitis and severe chronic coughs, there are many other such statements from former sufferers who never expected to be well again. Their letters and a book of valuable information about these stubborn diseases will be sent free by the Nacor Medicine Co., 415 State Life Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind. Call or write for it today. No matter how bad your case seems, this free information may be the means of showing you the real road to health.—Advertisement.

Ft. Wayne Official Faces Contempt of Court.

By United Press. FORT WAYNE, Ind., April 20.—Charged with giving unlawful liberties to Federal prisoners in his custody, Guy Enrick, Allen County sheriff, today awaited hearing before Federal Judge Slack on April 28.

The action against Enrick was taken by Albert Wards, district attorney, who filed a bill of information for contempt of court against the sheriff. At the hearing he will be given opportunity to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt.

Ward charged that Enrick permitted Martin Bantz, of Ft. Other instances where the sheriff was alleged to have granted unusual liberties to prisoners were also cited by Ward.
