POISONING OF COUSIN LAID TO GIRL WIFE

Craze for Finery Cause of Plot to Get Insurance of Boy, Says Sheriff.

PAIR HELD IN JAIL

Lad Given Paris Green as Lemonade, Story Told to Marion Officer.

By Times Special
CLIFFORD COX, 12 years old, is dead, by poison, the victim of a girl's mad desire for finery for herself and her baby. Sheriff Jacob Campbell stated here today, declaring that the girl had confessed the crime.

Arthur Walser, his 16-year-old wife, and their baby, 6 months old, Fairmount, Ind., are held in county jail, awaiting grand jury action in the case.

Alleged confession of the girl wife had all the details of the plot to kill the boy, her cousin, and collect an insurance policy of $440 on his life, Campbell said.

Drinks Paris Green

The boy died last Friday, soon after drinking a glass of Paris green preparation, placed on a kitchen cabinet beside a glass of lemonade, according to the alleged confession.

He was found lying in the yard of the Walser home, in serious condition, succumbing a few hours later at his own home, and the sheriff immediately started an investigation. This resulted in Walser's arrest Monday and that of his wife Tuesday.

Six weeks ago, Mrs. Walser's confession is said to reveal, she took out the insurance policy upon the cousin, Clifford Cox. Last Friday she asked her husband for clothing for herself and the baby. According to the confession the husband told her he had only $3, and said: "We'll just have to get that money."

Given 'Lemonade'

Mrs. Walser said that under her husband's direction she got Paris green and placed it in a glass of lemonade. The cousin happened to come to the house. He lived with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Votz, at Fairmount.

The boy was told there was lemonade for him in the kitchen. Walser had left and Mrs. Walser was in a front room. She said a few minutes later she heard the boy making a strange, choking noise. She found him in the back yard. He died that night at his grandparents' home.

Suspicion Aroused

The grandparents did not suspect poisoning. The boy told of drinking the lemonade. Townspeople were puzzled, however, and Sheriff Campbell started investigation.

Walser denies any knowledge of the alleged plot.

FATHER OF CITY MAN IS BURNED TO DEATH

Dazed Wife Found at Door—Lamp Cause Seen.

By Times Special
BUNKER HILL, Ind., June 2.—Perry McCarthy, 57, junk dealer, was burned to death today when flames destroyed his home.

Mrs. McCarthy escaped. Neighbors found her at the home door, smoke dazed and unable to tell what had happened.

A lamp left burning in the one room in which the family lived, was believed to have started the fire.

A son, John McCarthy, and a daughter are said to live in Indianapolis.

UNABLE TO FIND SON

Indianapolis police were unable to find trace of John McCarthy, son of Perry McCarthy, who was burned to death at Bunker Hill. They were asked to find the son by James Glazier, Bunker Hill undertaker.

PLAYGROUND PROJECT

Park Board Considers 37-Acre Tract on West Side.

Acquisition of thirty-seven acres, southwest of Tenth St. and Olin Ave., tentatively decided upon for a west side playground, was considered by the park board this afternoon.

Park Engineer J. E. Perry submitted a drawing of the proposed site. Bids were to be received on the proposed repair of the Riverside shelter house estimated to cost $12,000.

FORD NOT AFTER LINDY

Motor Menace Denies He's Blinder for Flier's Services.

By Times Special
DETROIT, June 2.—Vigorous denial that he ever had made an offer to Capt. Charles Lindbergh, American trans-Atlantic flier, was made here by Henry Ford in a statement to the United Press.

Girl's 'Easy' Look Sends Pair to Prison

By Times Special
F. Joseph Hunter, 27, and Thomas Gathright, 35, who were sentenced to Indiana State prison Wednesday by Criminal Judge James A. Collins for holding up the Tuxedo Stat eBank, 4304 E. New York St., April 8, had not held to the old notion that women don't amount to much in crises, they still might be at liberty.

Sheriff Omer Hawkins returned from taking the two to the prison today.

They told him they had planned to hold up the Washington Bank and Trust Company, 255 W. Washington St., but changed to the Tuxedo bank when they saw Miss Chelsea Cogshall, bookkeeper at the door of the bank as they were driving by that morning.

N. Y. CENTRAL RAIL MERGER DENIAL ASKED

Not in Public Interest, Interstate Commerce Body Told.

By Times Special
WASHINGTON, June 2.—Recommendation for rejection of the New York Central Railroad unification proposal, involving the merger of the Big Four, the Michigan Central and the New York Central Railroads, was made to the Interstate Commerce Commission today by Examiner Ralph H. Molster, who said the plan was not in public interest.

The three systems are controlled by the New York Central and are operated as separate units. The merger, it was stated, was to bring about handling of the properties by one strong operating unit.

The systems have a total mileage of 10,760 miles.

SHORT LINE SAFETY FEARED

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The apparent controlling reason for the examiner's recommendation today to the Interstate Commerce Commission not to allow the New York Central to acquire, through a ninety-nine-year lease, the Big Four, and the later, in turn, not to acquire four roads, including the Evansville, Indianapolis & Terre Haute, was that insufficient provision had been made for the short lines connecting with the proposed unified system.

Among these short lines is the Chicago, Attica & Southern, an Indiana road which intervened in the case. It had asked the commission recently not to allow the B. & O. to acquire the Cincinnati, Indianapolis & Western until provision was made for its inclusion in this merger.

The commission decision allowed acquisition of the C. I. & W. While the commission does not always follow examiner's recommendations and may yet permit the amalgamation, this is unlikely.

The final decision will be of extreme importance to Indiana, as promises of better freight and passenger service, through unified control of the lines extending through the State were made by the New York Central in asking merger approval.

The short lines contend the merger would leave the New York Central-Big Four system so thoroughly integrated there would be little incentive for it to proceed with absorption of the short lines.

WIFE HURLS ACID ON HUSBAND AND WIDOW

Falls, Burns Self—Family Trouble Long Standing.

By Times Special
PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—Mrs. Charlotte Boulden, a widow, and Edgar Stanstreet, 30, a musician, were in a hospital today suffering from acid burns received when Stanstreet's wife early today waylaid and buried a bottle of acid at them as Stanstreet was escorting Mrs. Boulden home.

Mrs. Stanstreet tripped and fell as she threw the acid, burning her face and arms. She told police her husband long had been attentive to Mrs. Boulden. The Stanstreets, who have two children, have been separated several years. Stanstreet is a teacher in a studio run by Mrs. Boulden's daughter.

FROWNS ON NEW BANKS

State Examiner Symonds Hopes None Will Start Soon.

There are plenty of banks in Indiana and the State charter board is not planning granting more than one new bank charter during 1927, State Bank Examiner Luther Symonds said.

"Most of our meetings have been devoted to granting charters to community banks that are consolidating," Symonds declared. "We are usually glad to do this, as it means a strengthening of the institutions. We hope that there will be no new banks organized, since they are not needed."

Roadster Burns

Ten pieces of downtown fire apparatus and a squad of police responded to an alarm at Delaware and Walnut Sts. Wednesday night, only to find that the fire was in a Ford roadster, the property of Frank C. 1404 Central Ave., and the damage was $50.

They believed she was in charge of the bank and would be "easy pickings."

It was Miss Cogshall's coolness and courage which led to their capture. She sounded the burglar alarm when the bandits had left and gave police a good description of the two robbers.

A third bandit, driver of the hold-up auto, who according to Gathright and Hunter got most of the loot, has not been captured.

Tourist hold-ups pay better than bank robbing, Gathright and Hunter told him, Hawkins said.

They had been holding up tourists on Indiana and Ohio roads, and doing a little hi-jacking on the side, for several months before the bank hold-up, they said.

Gathright was sent to prison for fifteen years and Hunter for ten.

Hurry

To keep from spending the summer in jail, Harry Weatherholt, Federal prisoner in the county jail at Evansville, will file charges against himself.

Weatherholt was arrested on a charge of violating the Prohibition law.

The Federal grand jury does not meet until September. Unable to meet bond, Weatherholt would have to stay in jail until indictment before he could face the judge.

To hasten the day of judgment, Weatherholt has proposed to furnish the district attorney's office here with information necessary for immediate filing of a criminal information—which serves the same purpose as an indictment.

WARNING GIVEN AGAINST LULL IN MANAGER DRIVE

Campaign Leader Calls for Work to Continue and All to Vote.

Success for the city manager movement in the election June 21 was predicted by Claude H. Anderson, city manager drive executive secretary, today.

Anderson urged all workers to continue their efforts and warned against over-confidence.

"So great has been our progress since the city manager campaign was inaugurated that there has been a tendency, perfectly natural, but dangerous, to take it for granted that our battle is already won," Anderson said.

"We must continue our efforts unceasingly."

"To date the tide has been with us. It is up to us to keep it turned in our direction. This can be done, but it is imperative that we cast aside any sanguine feeling that the result is a foregone conclusion."

Another downtown mass meeting to educate civic leaders to the need of the city manager form here was considered by city manager campaign committee at luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce.

The gathering probably would be addressed by several local leaders, said Frank E. Gates, campaign chairman. A speaker from a city with the manager form may be brought.

Meetings tonight will be held at Trinity Reformed Church, Raymond and Perkins Sts., and Christman St. S. S. Farquhar, of San Diego, Cal., traveled farthest, to wed Miss Eileen Kessler, 19, 555 S. Harris St.

Among other things it was alleged that Stephenson had been treated cruelly at the prison, an attempt made on his life, and that Hiram wizard, was behind a plot to ruin him.

Warden Walter Daly and Trustee John H. Mooreman of the prison were in the city today to attend a meeting of penal institution heads. Brown declared that they would not be summoned for questioning before the board. The meeting will be secret.

JUNE BRIDE RETURNS SHOW DECIDED DROP

Sailor Travels Far to Marry Indianapolis Girl.

County Clerk George Hutsell today considered means of pepping up the June bride returns.

He issued nine fewer marriage licenses Wednesday, June 1, than on the same day in 1926. Eighteen couples were joined Wednesday.

What the boys lacked in numbers they made up in devotion. Seven came from outside the county for brides. James Doll, sailor from the U. S. S. Farquhar, of San Diego, Cal., traveled farthest, to wed Miss Eileen Kessler, 19, 555 S. Harris St.

LICENSE CHANGE FAILS

Police Note 7 of 1927 Auto Tag Is Revamped 6.

A clever bit of sheet metal work, by Henry Atkins, 1452 St. Paul St., failed to fool police. Atkins was arrested Tuesday by Sgt. Patrick O'Connor and squad, who said they found him in an auto at 500 W. Michigan St., with a loaded revolver. Policemen said they discovered Wednesday that he had falsified out the figure 6 on the 1926 license plates and remounted it to a 7. He was also charged with failure to have certificate of title and State auto license.

THIS TOPPER RETURNED

Police Head's Hat Stolen During Crime Wave Talk.

By Times Special
NEW YORK, June 2.—Police Commissioner Joseph A. Warren made yesterday on crime prevention at the Army and Navy Club, and when he finished he found his hat was missing. He borrowed a headpiece and left.

Members started a search for the lost gray fedora—and found it.

They declined to say where, but it was recalled that signs informing whom it may concern that "you can't win" had a powerful effect on the New York conscience in a recent anti-crime campaign.

II Duce Honors Slain Men

ROME, June 2.—Premier Mussolini and his ministers rose and bowed heads in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday after Deputy Alfieri had saluted the memory of Joseph Caputi and Nicholas Amoroso, Fascists, murdered in New York Monday.

POLITICS QUIZ CHARGES MAY COME EARLY

Prosecutor Remy Indicates Accusation of Several, Probably Next Week.

CITY HALL MAY BE HIT

Men From Firms in Municipal Dealings Called Before Probers.

Affidavits against several persons may be returned in Criminal Court soon by members of the county prosecutor's staff investigating alleged political corruption, it was indicated today by Prosecutor William H. Remy.

Although indefinite in his statements, the prosecutor declared such a move was "a possibility," but that no affidavits would be forthcoming this week.

Speculation on Target

It is believed the next group will aim directly at activities in the City Hall. Since Mayor Duval and William C. Euser, city controller, were charged with making out a fraudulent election expense statement, persons connected with various manufacturing companies with which the city has done business have appeared before the prosecutors.

Duval and Euser will be arraigned before Criminal Court Judge James A. Collins Monday, Special Deputy Prosecutor John W. Holtzman said "nothing will be done until after next Monday."

Publisher Sees Remy

Irving Webster, publisher of the Indiana Journal, was interviewed by Remy today. Another man was called, but Remy refused to divulge his name.

William H. Armitage, politician, was with the prosecutors Wednesday afternoon. He is the brother of James E. Armitage, recently sentenced to three months in jail and fined $500 for contempt of court for alleged attempt to bribe Claude Achey, member of the last grand jury.

Underwood puts ONE OVER JUDGE

Former Senator Gets Three Sets of Auto License Plates.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Former Senator Oscar Underwood of Alabama has sidestepped Virginia's famous roadside justice, Frank W. Troth, who held court at a hot dog stand.

Underwood, it developed today, has obtained a Virginia motor car license in addition to his Alabama and District of Columbia plates so he can drive to his summer home in Virginia without encountering the patriarchal Troth again.

Troth had sought to arrest Underwood for his alleged original failure to have a Virginia license.

Underwood, it developed today, has obtained a Virginia motor car license in addition to his Alabama and District of Columbia plates so he can drive to his summer home in Virginia without encountering the patriarchal Troth again.

Condition of Norman Batten, the driver burned when his car caught fire, was reported "fairly good."

Mrs. William E. English, widow of the late State Senator English, sent Batten a check for $500 and discussed his travesty plotting his flaming exit to the pits at the price of serious burns.

"It was a remarkable bit of grit and courage without parallel in the annals of race history. I expect to make Batten's heroism up with Postmaster General Harry S. New and hope Congress will award him a fitting medal," said Mrs. English.

C. C. YORK MAY KEEP PARDON BOARD FILES

Penal Heads Discuss Ex-Secretary's Employment.

Employment of C. C. York, former pardon board secretary, to take charge of pardon board records, was discussed today at a meeting of penal institution heads at the Statehouse.

The meeting was called to arrive at an equitable distribution of the $8,000 pardon board appropriation to which the institution trustees fell heir when the pardon board was abolished by the Legislature.

Heads of three of the four institutions, Warden Walter H. Daly, Michigan City Prison; Superintendent Ralph H. Howard, State Farm, and Superintendent A. F. Miles, Indiana Reformatory were represented. Trustees now function as a pardon board.

Children's Ship Burned

By Times Special
BOSTON, June 2.—The floating hospital, a ship used to carry sick children away from the city heat in summer, was destroyed early today by fire. Five seamen were compelled to jump into the Charles river to escape. The loss was estimated at $300,000.
