

NEW YORK PORT FATE IN BALANCE

Hearing June 30 on Freight Rate Boost.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Unless another postponement intervenes, the Interstate Commerce Commission will start a hearing June 30, the result of which may damage New York's port supremacy and alter the traffic balance of half the country.

The Baltimore Chamber of Commerce wants the Interstate Commerce Commission to add approximately 6 cents a hundred pounds to the freight charges on goods shipped from the central states to New York for export, or to lower Baltimore's freight rates from the same territory.

Baltimore charges the cost of getting goods from railroad to ship at New York averages the 6 cents through lighterage and other charges. At Baltimore the goods can be placed directly on ship.

What Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh is to the Atlantic ocean, Julia Nowalski, 14 Pittsburgh, is to Jackstones—that is, conqueror. Julia won the finals in a city-wide tournament in which there were more than 5,000 competitors. In the finals she played 20 games without a miss and was declared champion.

FORD FACES LIBEL SUIT

Detroit Man Asks $200,000, Alleging Jury Tampering Charge.

By United Press
DETROIT, June 1.—Henry Ford has named defendant in a $200,000 libel suit by Joseph Miller, Detroit real estate dealer.

An outgrowth of the million-dollar Ford-Sapiro trial which was declared a mistrial after charges of tampering with the jury had been aired. The present suit was filed Wednesday.

Miller accuses the billionaire and others of having attempted "maliciously and wilfully" to injure his good name and bring him into public scandal by causing him to be suspected of having attempted to corrupt a jury.

Fishing The Air

BY LEONARD E. PEARSON

Short wave broadcasting has been taken up by several stations. At first it was largely experimental, but now some of these send out their programs simultaneously on short waves as well as the regular wavelengths.

WGY, Schenectady, has two low wave transmitters, one temporary and the other permanent. KOA, Denver, and WLW, Cincinnati, are among others to use short wave transmission.

These stations receive reports of reception in far away points. WGY has reached Australia, 12,000 miles away. Just a few nights ago KOA had a special program for radio fans on that continent. WLW has arranged to do the same later this month. It has been heard in London, Trinidad, the Canal Zone and elsewhere.

Two things in favor of the short wavelength are the ability to cover greater distance and the fact that reception is good in daytime, either at point of transmission or reception.

The thirty-piece Cadillac-La Salle Symphony Orchestra may be heard at 6 p. m. through WEAF and twenty-four of its associated stations.

Fish for WPG, Atlantic City, to hear some good dance tunes at 9:30 p. m. They will be played by the Parolians.

A real dinner concert comes at 5:30 p. m. from KTW, Chicago.

Fifty-five minutes of enjoyment may be had by tuning in on KGO, Oakland, Calif., at 8 p. m. to hear Ben's Little Symphony.

For an old-fashioned goodtime listen to KFI, Los Angeles, at 9 p. m. That is the Old Times program, with Eddie Parr and his Arkansas Orchestra and Helen Guest, ballad singer. Parr calls the dances so realistically one easily imagines he is at a real barn dance.

From 8 to 9 WBAL, Baltimore, broadcasts the studio ensemble, from 9 to 10 the studio dance orchestra.

Chimes ring out at WOC, Davenport, at 8:45 p. m.

Dan Dugan and his Melody Boys are on the air at 9 p. m. from WSAL, Cincinnati.

A concert of great operatic arias and of the more beautiful but popular ballads goes on the other at 7:20 p. m. from WIP, Philadelphia. The artists are Hilda Reiter, coloratura soprano, and Charles Cline, tenor, both of the Philadelphia Civic Opera Company.

WFAA, Dallas, Texas, radiocasts a choral society recital at 8:30 p. m.

A cleverly arranged musical sight-seeing tour of New York, first scheduled to have been broadcast last week over WJZ and the Blue network, will be on the bill tonight at 7 p. m. The feature opens with luncheon music, followed by tunes representing Little Italy, the Irish section, East Side (Ghetto), Chinatown, Spanish quarter, Battery and Aquarium, all different parts of New York City.

Le Paradis radiocasts for receptionists of WRC, Washington, at 9 p. m.

WHO's midnight dance entertainment commences at 11 p. m. Dial for the Des Moines station and couple off.

The musical program at 9 p. m. over WCCO, Minneapolis-St. Paul, is provided by the Y. W. C. A., that at 9:30 by Nelson's Orchestra.

Some of the big events at WLW, Cincinnati, tonight are the Zoo dance music at 8:30, the Crosey Cossacks at 9 and Night Howls at 11 p. m.

The New Britain, Conn., Normal School Glee Club entertains fans of WTIC, Hartford, at 9 p. m.

The Flotilla Club revue goes on the wireless waves at 9 p. m., flashed by WCAE, Pittsburgh.

RACE TRACK LAUDED

Speedway Tests Mean Safety for Driving Public.

Local race car builders have the advantage over other manufacturers because they have the track to test their product. Theodore Myers, Speedway secretary, told the Kiwanis Club Wednesday at the Claypool.

Myers declared the risks race drivers take insures greater safety for the motorist.

Fred S. Duesenberg, designer of this year's winning car, pointed out that the three leading cars had been run in previous races.
