

LIQUOR PERMIT PLAN HAILED AS TEMPERANCE AID

Ontario Officials Comment
as Property and Hotel
Prices Soar.

By United Press
WINDSOR, Ont., June 2.—Ontario's descent from the water wagon after eleven years has boomed property values and increased hotel prices, but authorities think the government sale of liquor will promote temperance.

Liquor went on sale yesterday for the first time since 1916, but there was no great rush except in Toronto, one of the eight cities in which government stores were opened.

A statement by the liquor commission, summing up the first day's business, said:

"The sale of permits indicated that when the people can get what they want, they will not go crazy over it. This new law will be a big thing for temperance."

There was no celebration last night. The stores closed their doors at 4:30 p. m. and any increased drinking was done in private homes. Many women were among first customers. Their ages ranged from 21 to 51.

MANAGER FIGHT TO HIGH COURT

Injunction Suit Appealed to Supreme Bench.

Supreme court judges may be given opportunity of deciding whether Mayor John L. Duvall can remain in office after the city manager government has been adopted. Injunction suit of Franklin Vonnegut and W. H. Insley, city manager leaders, was appealed to the high court Wednesday.

It asks that Secretary of State Frederick E. Schortemeier be restrained from publishing Senate Bill 187, which permits mayors to complete their terms after citizens have voted the city manager change.

Passed by the 1927 Legislature, the bill became a law with publication of the acts. A temporary restraining order was granted by Marion Circuit Court, but later dissolved.

Attorney General Arthur L. Gilman contended that since it was signed by the Governor, nothing could prevent its becoming law. In another suit he declared that bills received after the last two days of the session could not be declared laws constitutionally.

The fact that the city manager bill had been received on the last day of the session furnished basis for the present suit. Should the court hold for appellants, the law would be considered unpublished.

HOOSIER BRIEFS

Terre Haute school board has chosen its teaching staff for the coming year. George Carroll will succeed J. O. Engleman as superintendent.

When the town clock lost an hour over night, some Monticello wag remarked that it was a good kind of clock to get up by.

Harry Heier nearly believed for three hours that a cow on his farm near Greencastle had evaporated. He searched and finally found her in a sinkhole, alive but provoked.

John Smock, Terre Haute chief of police, is in a quandary. He doesn't know whether to keep roller skating children off the sidewalks, thus upholding a city ordinance and forcing the motorist danger on them.

They're having twin time at Marion. Some factories are going by daylight saving and most everybody else is going by central standard. The time had by all still is a matter of doubt.

Restrictions are being placed on the manufacture and sale of fireworks at Connersville, but merchants may sell them starting July 1.

Linton Elks held home-coming the other night. Several out-of-town guests were present.

Only 126 seniors were graduated at Peru High School, although 128 were on the list. Just prior to graduation two students raided the institution and marred some records.

Miss Vera Crites, Wilmington, Ohio, who is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lieber, Seymour, suffered a broken ankle when she fell in her host's house in a fainting spell.

Five officers, one for each Municipal or Criminal Court, will be picked.

3 CONVENTIONS SOUGHT

Nursing, Railway, Accounting Groups May Meet Here.

Three organizations will be asked to bring their national conventions to Indianapolis in 1928 and 1929. They are the National League of Nursing Education, the mechanical division of the American Railway Association, and the National Accounting Officers' Association, convention bureau officials announced.

Touring Suggestions

- 1—The Pipestone Quarries in Minnesota are well known because of the Indian lore and legend associated with the peculiarly reddish stone found here. This stone was used by the Indians for making peace pipes. Large rocks called "The Three Maidens" are the subject of a legend of fierce battles between warring tribes. These quarries are part of the setting of Longfellow's immortal poem, "Hiawatha." Near State Highways 47 and 6.
- 2—Higgins Lake, Michigan. Remains of the old walled town of the Yemskodesh, the powerful tribe of Indians who dominated this section before Columbus discovered America. Camp Curnalia, the outing camp of the American Legion is located here. State Trunk Line M-14.
- 3—Gay Mills, Wisconsin, in the heart of the Kickapoo Valley. Splendid view of the Kickapoo River curving its sleepy way through the narrow valley. Nine hundred acres of cherry and apple orchards. State Trunk 131.
- 4—Rapid Canyon, one of the beautiful canyons in the Black Hills, South Dakota. Fine trout fishing in Rapid Creek. Many summer cottages and lodges. South Dakota Highways 40 and 79, U. S. 16.
- 5—Grand Detour, a New England village transplanted to the Illinois prairie, where John Deere wrought the first steel plow. Near Dixon, State Highway 2.
- 6—Lake Taneycoma, in the rugged region of the White River near Hollister, Missouri. One of the largest power lakes in the Middle West. Famed for its fishing and summer sports. Shaded by huge peaks and heavy timberland. U. S. Highway 65.
- 7—Home of Nancy Hanks Lincoln, mother of Abraham Lincoln, at Lincoln City, Indiana. State Highway 18.
- 8—The yawning hole in the bed of the Big Smoky River which has caused so much conjecture among scientists. The earth fell away at this spot for apparently no reason whatever, leaving a hole several hundred feet deep and of great width. Near Sharon Springs, Kansas, on State Highway 22.
- 9—"The Little Brown Church in the Vale," made world famous by the song of Dr. W. S. Pitts. Hundreds of young couples come from far and near to be married within its appealing old walls. The number of marriages solemnized here annually is exceeded only by the "Little Church Around the Corner" in New York City. Nashua, Iowa, State Highway 40.
- 10—Fort Yates, North Dakota, most strategic point on the Missouri in the days of Sitting Bull. Grave of Sitting Bull, historic cemetery, Bells of Yates Chimes, Standing Rock Monument, from which the reservation takes its name. Highway 6.
