

50 BOYS AND GIRLS TO SEE CIRCUS FREE

Giraffes, Tigers and Camels Are Coming With Robinson's Show.

Abyssinian giraffes, said to be the most perfect pair in captivity, are one of the zoological features of John Robinson's Circus, and the boys and girls of 16 years or younger have an opportunity to see them Thursday afternoon as guests of The Indianapolis Times.

The giraffes are but one of the many features of the augmented zoo which is carried by the Robinson Circus. They even have a juvenile department, which boasts of baby tigers, pumas, lions, monkeys and camels. Two of the baby camels were born right here in Indiana, which makes them natives of the Hoosier State. One of them is named Andrew Volstead, and the other "Monon," after the railroad.

Any Animal Will Do

It is very easy for the boys and girls to see the circus as guests of The Times. All one has to do is to write an essay of not more than 150 words on any animal, and that includes everything in the three general orders, which are grass-eating, flesh-eating and four-handed animals.

If you prefer an elephant to a horse or a lion to a polar bear, then write a neat and accurate essay on one side of the paper and send or mail to the Circus Editor of The Indianapolis Times. These essays must reach The Times office not later than 6 p. m. next Tuesday.

Every boy or girl, 16 years or younger, is eligible. And if you want to know more about animals come to The Times office and get a copy free of "A Short Lesson in Zoology."

Fifty Get in Free

Fifty writers of the essays will be rewarded with free tickets for the afternoon performance on Thursday. All others who write essays will get a special ticket, which when presented at the circus with 25 cents will admit the winner to the exhibition.

PURDUE ESTABLISHES NEW GRADING PLAN

Marking of "H" Above "A"—Less Stress on Percentage.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., June 24.—A change in the system of grading will be started at Purdue University next fall, in which the students will be graded on actual fundamentals they acquire in a given course rather than strictly on a percentage basis.

Under the new plan, an instructor will outline definitely the ideas which each student is expected to gather during one particular course, and then, at the conclusion of the work, determine what the student has attained. The final examinations which have counted one-third on the semester grade will be continued, but they will no longer have a definite proportion of the final grade, the amount depending on nature of the course.

A new grade, (that of "H," is to be given, denoting completion of a subject with high honor, which is above the "A" mark by most institutions and now given by Purdue. In order to be graduated under the new plan, a student must have received B or higher in at least six semester hours of all four-year courses, or sixty-five semester hours in the three-year pharmacy course.

HONOR REV. CRAFTON

Third Christian Church Expresses Appreciation of Work.

The Rev. Thomas W. Grafton, who resigned as pastor of Third Christian Church, that he might take up his new duties as chaplain and student adviser at Butler University, was honored Thursday evening by a reception given by his old congregation.

Rev. and Mrs. Grafton were each given checks in appreciation of their church work. Rev. Grafton became pastor at Third Christian fifteen years ago when the church had but 500 adherents. Its membership is now more than 2,000. The Rev. William E. Rothenberger, Springfield, Ill., who is to succeed Rev. Grafton, will take charge Sept. 11. Next week Rev. and Mrs. Grafton will go to Chicago for a visit. Arrangements are being made to fill the pulpit until Sept. 11.

Do You Know 'Em? They Win Times Prizes

Whoosits? Are you one of these women? Do you know these women?

A prize awaits them at the office of The Indianapolis Times. If you are one of them come in and claim it—if you know them tell them to come in and get it.

Snapping at random on the streets of Indianapolis, The Times photographer will each day continue to provide free theater tickets for persons whose pictures are printed in this space. Each person photographed who gives the Whoosits Editor of The Times proper identification will receive two tickets to an Indianapolis theater.

The women shown above will receive two tickets each to see "Resurrection" and hear Max Fisher's "Californians" at the Circle Theater or to "The Butter and Egg Man" at Keith's in which Elliott Nugent is being starred by the Stuart Walker Company this week.

Feted at Fourth Capital

By United Press

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 24.—Clarence Chamberlin and Charles Levine were feted by their fourth European capital today. They arrived here from Vienna by air last night.

The trans-Atlantic fliers previously had been entertained at Berlin, Vienna and Budapest.

Informed of suggestions of American aviation authorities that a flight from the United States to Buenos Aires would be of great value to international relations, Chamberlin told the United Press he considered such a trip practicable.

The Columbia, in which he and Levine crossed the Atlantic, could fly from New York to Buenos Aires with a single stop, and a new Belanca plane, now under construction, could make the trip without a stop, he said.

PLAN IVES FOUNDATION

Alfred M. Glossbrenner on Committee Raising $50,000 Fund.

Alfred M. Glossbrenner, president of the Levey Printing Company and director of the Employing Printers' Association of America is a member of a national committee which is seeking to raise a $50,000 fund to establish the Ives Foundation as a tribute to Frederick E. Ives inventor of the half-tone process by which photographs are reproduced in newspapers and magazines.

Although he made possible use of pictures in newspapers and magazines, Ives never benefited financially from his invention. The income from the fund will go to Ives during his life and after his death will be used to found a chair in photo-engraving at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Big—And Still Growing RICHMAN'S CLOTHES

Win Thousands of New Friends Each Month

The World's Greatest Clothing Factory had to be made larger—the addition now under construction, 75,000 square feet, equals the total floor space of most clothing factories—yet it adds less than 25 per cent. to the capacity of this great Richman plant.

This addition will be equipped with the latest improved precision machines and appliances for good clothes making, and ready to carry its share of the needed production by August first. The capacity of our big Lorain factory has also been greatly increased—mighty convincing evidence that Richman's Clothes are giving buyers unusual satisfaction—and a generously big measure of value.

Meanwhile, there is no interruption of our regular manufacturing schedule—big shipments of newly styled and freshly tailored Richman Clothes are delivered, weekly, to each Richman store.

Richman's Clothes are all one price—$22.50 for unrestricted choice of any suit or tuxedo with silk dress vest.

If all men knew, as we know, the true worth of Richman's Clothes—how well we style them, how carefully we select the woollens and lining, and how much painstaking effort goes into the tailoring—we could not produce clothes enough to keep pace with sales.

Come in and see the clothes produced by our big family of stock-owning tailors—imitable style, woollens worthy of high prices, tailoring any manufacturer might be proud to have bear his label—and the most comprehensive selection of styles, weaves, patterns, colorings and sizes to be found anywhere.
