

BOY DIES WHEN PLANE FALLS; PILOT INJURED

Edward McCalip Killed, Weldon Worth Hurt in City Air Tragedy.

Tragedy ended the dreams of Edward McCalip, 20, of 330 Downey Ave., and Weldon Worth, 20, of 5920 University Ave., of winning fame and fortune in the field of aviation which only a few weeks ago brought such renown to Colonel Charles Lindbergh.

Were Butler Students

The two boys, Butler University students, and 1926 graduates of Technical High School, took up aviation last summer under the tutelage of Goodwin Weaver, local commercial flier, who went to California in December.

Weaver left them two planes and his passenger business. The two started for Shelbyville two weeks ago to take Spanish-American War veterans, in convention there, on flights. They were forced to land on a cornfield because of a disabled wing.

Hit Air Pocket

They returned to Indianapolis, built a new pair of wings for the plane and went back for their ship Sunday.

The fatal crash occurred when the plane hit an air pocket at an altitude of 150 feet and went into a tail spin. Worth was operating the plane from the rear seat.

Launches Two-Month Crusade for Fundamentalism.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Dr. John Roach Straton, Baptist fundamentalist pastor, prepared today for a two months' joust with modernists, the devil, members of his flock and certain New York editors.

Uldine Utley, 15-year-old evangelist of the Glad Tidings (Pentecostal) Tabernacle here and a protégé of Mrs. Almie Temple McPherson, presumably will be a weapon in Dr. Straton's campaign.

In a sermon last night in which he explained "why I am opposed to pentecostalism," Dr. Straton suggested that Miss Utley be the "little child" referred to in the Bible.

Churches of every denomination would unite in a universal crusade for "world fundamentalism union," under the program announced by Dr. Straton.

One sermon during the campaign will be devoted to scolding the members of the Calvary Church congregation whose protests against alleged pentecostalism or hysterical religion in the church resulted last week in the resignation of five deacons.

PROBATION LAW REDUCES CRIME

Official Points to Benefits of New Statute.

Striking reduction in criminal output of Indiana will result from the recently enacted adult probation law, according to Charles L. Chute of New York, general secretary of National Probation Association, who is conducting examinations today and Tuesday for candidates for probation officers in Marion County.

"Over 80 per cent of offenders put under probation through well-organized probation systems, finally make good," declared Chute. "The opportunity to redeem themselves is extended through this new law to adult as well as youthful offenders. This law will affect the young potential criminal in an indirect, but striking way in that it supervision of their parents that moved."

"The phase of the law which makes it compulsory for those in charge of probation work to take examinations and prove their competency, is an excellent thing," added Chute. "Heretofore, adult probation work in Indiana has not been organized and was fearfully handicapped by having insufficient officers. With the new law these added officers, the whole system of controlling crime probation is sure to be wonderfully benefited."

Fifty-six candidates are taking both oral and written examinations at the Indiana Extension rooms, 319 N. Pennsylvania St. From the list of those who successfully pass this examination, five will be selected by judges of circuit, criminal and municipal court for petitions at a salary not to exceed $2,500.

Chute is aiding a committee composed of Homer W. Borst, Eugene C. Foster and Prof. H. E. Jensen. A probation survey recently conducted under the auspices of the Indianapolis Bar Association ascertained outstanding needs of both adult and juvenile courts and will shortly be announced, Chute said.
