

BOYS WILL PLAY HARMONICAS IN TIMES CONTEST

Minevitch and Indiana Theater to Present Prizes.

Borrah Minevitch, recognized as the world's greatest harmonica player, who is with his band of fifteen harmonica comedians are at the Indiana this week, have accomplished what was thought by the music world to be an impossibility and that is, that they have forced the organized musical organizations to accept the lowly harmonica as part of part and parcel of every musical organization in the country.

These youths who are former newsboys, bootblacks and urchins have surprised even the most skeptical of music critics that the harmonica is no longer a toy, but is a musical instrument that not only allows an expression of music, but also is an instrument that the poorest of kids may own and who knows, but some Indianapolis boy may have the ability to find his way up the ladder of success as the Borrah Minevitch, who rose from a poor newsboy of the streets to that of being recognized as one of the leading lights of Broadway.

It is with a view of giving every boy in the country a chance to gain the position that he has attained that Borrah is conducting a harmonica contest in the various cities that he is playing and it is Borrah's desire to find some boy who may be able to gain a place with his band during his stay in this city.

Every boy who is not over 19, is eligible to enter into this contest and there is no red tape attached to this chance for being able to earn a good salary while he is seeing the country.

All that is necessary for any boy to enter is that he send his name to the Harmonica Editor of The Times or better yet come up and pay a personal visit.

Besides a chance to gain the much coveted position in the band, first prize of a gold plated harmonica such as used by the band and also five cash prizes donated by the Indiana Theater.

Chance of Lifetime Is Given Warren T. McCray

New York Times Hopes He'll Go Before Grand Jury and Tell Story.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The New York Times carried the following editorial in regard to Warren T. McCray:

Seldom does such a chance for moral recovery come to a man as that of Warren T. McCray, once Governor of Indiana and lately a Federal prisoner for using the mails with intent to defraud. His early career marked a steady rise in wealth, influence and popularity, until his party carried the State election and made him Governor.

While in office he was indicted for a get rich quick scheme, was convicted and sentenced to ten years in Atlanta Penitentiary—a sentence now cut down two-thirds under the Federal parole. During his term the Ku-Klux Klan gained control of the Republican party in Indiana, and the administration of his successor, Governor Jackson, has been marked by that control and by scandals arising from it and from the conviction of the Klan leader, D. C. Stephenson, on a charge of murder. Mr. McCray returns to his State to find its politics smoldering of corruption and its official prosecutors intent upon investigating charges made by Stephenson, of which the former Governor must have first hand knowledge.

Among the accusations made against Governor Jackson's intimate Klan cabinet is that members of it, when the indictment of Governor McCray made it necessary for his son-in-law to retire from the office of public prosecutor at Indianapolis, offered the Governor $10,000 in counsel fees and implied friendship in the courts if he would name an official recommended by them.

Instead, the Governor named William H. Remy. Since then Mr. Remy and two associates have been delving into documents purported to support the Stephenson charges against Governor Jackson and others.

Surely Mr. McCray knows whether the story about the offer made to him by the Klan politicians is true. Also he knows much of what lies back of the other assertions of Stephenson. If he will go before the grand jury and tell the whole truth, regardless of whom it may affect and whatever it may cost his own party, he will have performed a public service that will do much to wipe out the stain upon his own name.

CHURCH IS URGED TO CREATE RIGHT SPIRIT IN LABOR

Dr. McDowell Issues a Strong Labor Day Appeal.

Recognizing industrialism as "the most dominant factor in modern life," and insisting that "the time has come for the Christian Church to take a definite responsibility for creating a spirit in industry that will insure continued harmony between employers and employees," Dr. John McDowell, secretary of the Presbyterian Board of National Missions, today issued a Labor day message addressed not only to the 10,000 ministers of the Presbyterian Church, but also to the 2,000,000 lay members.

Secretary McDowell considers that the entire future of our national progress and happiness is bound up in the success of this undertaking on the part of the church," and he adds that "if the church endeavors to evade this responsibility or ignore it, it will lose, in my judgment, the largest opportunity it has ever had in promoting the kingdom of God here on this earth."

"I have endeavored," says Secretary McDowell, "to put into this Labor day message my deepest convictions regarding the primary need of our American industry."

As the author of the social creed of the church, which was adopted some years ago by the Presbyterian General Assembly, Dr. Dowell is regarded in his denomination as an authority on the relations of capital and labor. He himself began life in the coal mines, where he lost an arm.

"Industrialism," says Dr. McDowell in the forward of his Labor Day message, "not only makes and unmakes men; it makes and unmakes communities, states, nations and the world. If the kingdom of God is to come here on this earth, industry must be permeated with the principles of that kingdom."

"I cannot think of praying 'Thy kingdom come' and 'Thy will be done on earth,' except in the realm of industry. That kingdom must come in the realm of industry if it is to be a world kingdom."

"Of course I am thinking of the kingdom in the light of the teachings of the New Testament, which defines it in terms of spirit rather than in terms of any particular political social or industrial system. We are not suffering here in America from the lack of industrial systems. We are long on systems and short on spirit; and unless this condition is changed we are not likely to make much progress."

"Any system of relations between employers and employees that usual

MILLER YIELDS SCHOOL OFFICE

Wisehart Takes Over Berth as Superintendent.

Roy P. Wisehart, former Union City school superintendent, today took over the office of State superintendent of public instruction and closed the controversy which has waged around the office since Charles F. Miller accepted the Indianapolis school superintendency.

Miller and Wisehart conferred in the State superintendent's office Saturday afternoon. Their statements at the end of the conference closed the controversy.

"I was not acquainted with Mr. Wisehart's policies, but after going over the situation fully I feel perfectly free to surrender the office to Mr. Wisehart, who will have my loyal support and cooperation. He and his staff have my best wishes," Miller's statement said.

"I expect to carry out the platform on which Mr. Miller was nominated and elected and in so doing I think it to the best interests of the department to retain the present personnel of the office. Fred T. Gladden will continue to serve as assistant State superintendent," Wisehart said.

It is great to have a clear skin. A clear skin means everything to the popularity of men and women. You cannot get it with external applications. If you are unfortunate enough to have pimples or skin blemishes, in justice to your friends and yourself, you should treat the source of the trouble. Nature will then provide the complexion which is so much desired. Thousands have been enabled to free themselves of unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S. You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished. "I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S.S.S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio. S.S.S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory. It is time-tried and reliable. S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.—Advertisement.
