

JAPAN WANTS U. S. AS FRIEND, ADMIRAL SAYS

No War, 'Ever,' If America Is Willing to Come Half Way, He Asserts.

By NEA Service
NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 20.—Japan likes Americans and wants to be friends, and if this nation will meet Japan half-way, no one ever need worry about that "war in the Pacific" that agitates so many statesmen and generals.

This is on the word of Rear Admiral Osami Nagano of the imperial Japanese navy, who is in New Orleans in command of the Japanese training cruisers Asama and Iwate, touring the world with a party of naval cadets.

The admiral speaks excellent English; he spent five years in America, as student at Harvard and naval attaché to the Japanese embassy in Washington.

Japan Has Problems
"Japan's problems?" he repeated in answer to a question. "Japan has them. We are a nation of more than 70,000,000 souls on an island which in size may be compared to your State of California.

"And our population is increasing rapidly. Japan must expand. The same urge and necessity that drove the British out from their small islands across the world are impelling Japan today.

"We are trying to meet this in many ways. Thousands of Japanese are in Korea. Thousands more have gone to Brazil; more thousands have gone to Mexico and Central America. But that does not solve our problem.

Developing Industries
"So we are developing industrial life in Japan. We are building industrial centers to provide work for thousands of men making all sorts of things.

"We want to make Japan a great importer of raw materials that Japanese workers can make into finished products. Already we are doing that—from New Orleans alone Japan imports some $80,000,000 worth of cotton every year.

"We are doing everything we can to keep the increasing number of Japanese hands busy. It is a real problem—a problem to which Japan is giving its best thought. It is a problem about which America, too, has reason to think."

"The immigration laws are the sore spot. Thinking Japanese cannot help feeling that America's immigration laws discriminate against the Japanese as against no other nation on earth. And that hurts our national pride.

Don't Want Trouble
"No intelligent Japanese wants trouble with America, just as no intelligent American wants trouble with Japan. But in America you have what you call your 'jingoism'—and in Japan we have our 'jingoism' too.

"It is a problem for the cool heads and intelligent brains of both nations to settle. Our two nations should be friends, both by ancient tradition and by modern relations."

Child Bathing Beauties

Lew Wentz, multi-millionaire oil operator of Ponca City, Okla., has started an annual bathing beauty contest for young ladies under 5—and he's shown here with the prize winners in this year's contest. Holding the cup is Juanita Georgia Jones; seated is Angelina Jane Hardy.

New Holes Punched in Story of Paul Revere

British Not Halted by Tide, Cold-Hearted Science Test Reveals.

By Times Special
BOSTON, Sept. 20.—Another popular American tradition, closely linked with the famous ride of Paul Revere, has been subjected to scientific examination and found untrue.

It was not the tide that delayed the British troops landing at East Cambridge on the night of April 18, 1775, thus giving Paul Revere a better chance to arouse the country side.

The fact is that the British probably were delayed that night because they waited for supplies from Boston.

The condition of the tides that night has been determined scientifically by the use of a machine known as tide predictor No. 2, owned by the Geodetic Survey of the government.

This instrument computes automatically the tides at any time, past, present or future, and it was brought into use recently to determine the reliability of the Paul Revere tide story.

Succeeds Missing Official

By Times Special
NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Sept. 20.—Clyde Pettijohn, treasurer-elect of Hamilton County, today is holding the office to fill out the unexpired term of Thomas E. Setters, who disappeared six weeks ago. Appointment was made by the county commissioners.

REVIEW GRAVEL LEVY

State Tax Board to Pass on Higher Rate.

County council action in reducing the proposed free gravel road fund rate from 3 to 5 cents will be reviewed by the State tax board, under a ruling by Superior Court Judge James M. Leathers Monday afternoon.

The court issued a mandamus directing County Auditor Harry Dunn to certify the higher amount, approved by county commissioners, to the tax board.

Council members sliced the levy 2 cents. The court held the council must follow recommendations of the commissioners.

The suit was filed by eight taxpayers.

AND THE BANKS SHUT

Alleged Kokomo Bootlegger Can't Get to His Money.

KOKOMO, Ind., Sept. 20.—Guy Evans, accused as a bootlegger, testified before City Judge Joe Cripe that he had all his money in the American Trust Bank which closed its doors last week. The judge is now thinking it over, and announces he will decide Thursday on the case, taking into consideration the ability of Evans to pay a fine.

Chief of Police Rollie Benson testified during the trial that Evans has been a bootlegger for ten years.

LEGION GIVES OVATIONS TO WAR LEADERS

Foch and Pershing Are Cheered Several Minutes Before Speeches.

By A. L. BRADFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent
AMERICAN LEGION CONVENTION HALL, TROCADERO, PARIS, Sept. 20.—The American Legion convention today paid tribute to two outstanding figures of the World War—Gen. John J. Pershing, commander in chief of the American expeditionary forces, and Marshal Foch of France.

Both military leaders were cheered long and loudly when they arose to address the Legionnaires.

When Pershing stepped forward the convention rose to its feet and cheered him for five minutes.

Tribute Is Impressive
The tribute to Foch was hardly less impressive, and clearly demonstrated that France's "Grand Old Man" was easily dearest of foreigners in the hearts of the American veterans of the World War.

Pershing recalled the critical days of the war when he offered the American army to Foch because, he said, he felt that the war had reached the deciding point and unless the American actually entered the fighting the allies would lose.

Thus, Pershing said, Foch was the real symbol of victory and the real friend of America.

As Foch arose to speak he saluted the American flag in recognition of the A. E. F. victories from Flanders to Argonne.

"It is impossible," he said, "to say that one army more than another won the war. Victory resulted from the splendid cooperation of all leaders under a single command.

Legion Is Revelation
"General Pershing figured largely in the result, without, however, gaining, he went the limit toward victory by offering me the whole American army, or man by man as needed.

"Your legion is a revelation to France. With your youth, your powers of accomplishment you sweep away every barrier before you.

"If ever you are needed for peace and liberty and you cry out to the world 'together and forward,' there isn't a Frenchman who wouldn't respond."

Auxiliary at Meeting
The American Legion Auxiliary met jointly with the Legion today. Mrs. Adalin W. Macauley, national president, addressed the convention, explaining the scope of welfare work.

James A. Drain, former national commander of the Legion, reported to the convention on the safeguards placed around the Legion's $5,000,000 fund for care of orphans and disabled veterans. He said the men handling the fund had decided to work without salaries.

General Gouraud, military governor of Paris, described for the convention the joy of the French in front line trenches when news was received that the United States had entered the war. Then he told how that joy had been dampened, with realization of the hazards of transporting troops through the submarine zones.

SAFETY CAR SEEN HERE

Traction Company "Demonstrator" on Tour of State.

Displayed at the Traction Terminal station here Monday, the Interstate Public Service Company's "safety car" was proceeding on its tour of Indiana cities and towns today.

The car carries posters urging caution at crossings and safety precautions in general. It was taken to Greenwood Monday night and today to Franklin and Columbus. Wednesday it will be in Seymour and Scottsburg, Thursday at New Albany, and Friday will proceed to Louisville, Ky.

Dr. Mayo continues, pointing out the thousands of unfortunates who are permanently injured by face lifting, wrinkle removing and feature alterations by inexperienced persons posing as plastic surgeons.

"At its foundation the whole beauty business is sound and legitimate," says Dr. Mayo, "but the border line between legitimate and illegitimate in facial operations is hard to define. Leaders of the profession are careful to keep away from that border line beyond which the patient's motive is only pretty pride."

FACE-LIFTING QUACKS ARE TARGET OF MAYO

Thousands Are Disfigured in Quest for Beauty, Says Surgeon.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—"Plastic surgery of the face, one of the compensations of the great war, is now being perverted by quacks to the detriment of thousands who suffer disfigurement silently because of their pride," declares Dr. William J. Mayo, the eminent surgeon, quoted in the Woman's Home Companion.

Dr. Mayo continues, pointing out the thousands of unfortunates who are permanently injured by face lifting, wrinkle removing and feature alterations by inexperienced persons posing as plastic surgeons.

"At its foundation the whole beauty business is sound and legitimate," says Dr. Mayo, "but the border line between legitimate and illegitimate in facial operations is hard to define. Leaders of the profession are careful to keep away from that border line beyond which the patient's motive is only pretty pride."

Thousands are disfigured in quest for beauty, says surgeon.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—"Plastic surgery of the face, one of the compensations of the great war, is now being perverted by quacks to the detriment of thousands who suffer disfigurement silently because of their pride," declares Dr. William J. Mayo, the eminent surgeon, quoted in the Woman's Home Companion.

Dr. Mayo continues, pointing out the thousands of unfortunates who are permanently injured by face lifting, wrinkle removing and feature alterations by inexperienced persons posing as plastic surgeons.

"At its foundation the whole beauty business is sound and legitimate," says Dr. Mayo, "but the border line between legitimate and illegitimate in facial operations is hard to define. Leaders of the profession are careful to keep away from that border line beyond which the patient's motive is only pretty pride."

Dr. Mayo continues, pointing out the thousands of unfortunates who are permanently injured by face lifting, wrinkle removing and feature alterations by inexperienced persons posing as plastic surgeons.

"At its foundation the whole beauty business is sound and legitimate," says Dr. Mayo, "but the border line between legitimate and illegitimate in facial operations is hard to define. Leaders of the profession are careful to keep away from that border line beyond which the patient's motive is only pretty pride."

Dr. Mayo continues, pointing out the thousands of unfortunates who are permanently injured by face lifting, wrinkle removing and feature alterations by inexperienced persons posing as plastic surgeons.

"At its foundation the whole beauty business is sound and legitimate," says Dr. Mayo, "but the border line between legitimate and illegitimate in facial operations is hard to define. Leaders of the profession are careful to keep away from that border line beyond which the patient's motive is only pretty pride."

Dr. Mayo continues, pointing out the thousands of unfortunates who are permanently injured by face lifting, wrinkle removing and feature alterations by inexperienced persons posing as plastic surgeons.

"At its foundation the whole beauty business is sound and legitimate," says Dr. Mayo, "but the border line between legitimate and illegitimate in facial operations is hard to define. Leaders of the profession are careful to keep away from that border line beyond which the patient's motive is only pretty pride."

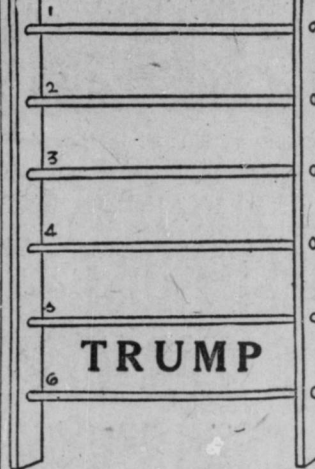

Dr. Mayo continues, pointing out the thousands of unfortunates who are permanently injured by face lifting, wrinkle removing and feature alterations by inexperienced persons posing as plastic surgeons.

"At its foundation the whole beauty business is sound and legitimate," says Dr. Mayo, "but the border line between legitimate and illegitimate in facial operations is hard to define. Leaders of the profession are careful to keep away from that border line beyond which the patient's motive is only pretty pride."

Dr. Mayo continues, pointing out the thousands of unfortunates who are permanently injured by face lifting, wrinkle removing and feature alterations by inexperienced persons posing as plastic surgeons.

"At its foundation the whole beauty business is sound and legitimate," says Dr. Mayo, "but the border line between legitimate and illegitimate in facial operations is hard to define. Leaders of the profession are careful to keep away from that border line beyond which the patient's motive is only pretty pride."

Laddergram Climb Down! CLUBS

This one looks like a bridge player's dream. The bid belongs to you—provided, of course, you climb down a rung at a time, using only good words and changing just a single letter in each step. Save the answer until tomorrow. Solution of Cold-Feet; 1, Cold; 2, Colt; 3, Colt; 4, Felt; 5, Feet.

(Copyright by Public Ledger)

PLAN RESUMING BABY HEARING

Thursday Set for Further Testimony in Case.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 20.—Final arrangements had been completed today for the resumption Thursday of the habeas corpus proceedings of Mrs. Sam Smith to force a maternity hospital to produce a baby boy she declares was replaced with a girl.

Common Pleas Judge Carl V. Weygant, who is hearing the case, interviewed the mother at the hospital late yesterday, made a careful check of the hospital records, and examined outward characteristics of Mrs. Smith and the baby she insists is not hers.

"The child has the brown hair and the dark eyes of Mrs. Smith," Judge Weygant said today. "Their foreheads are shaped the same and their eyes are set at about the same distance apart. However, I'd prefer to leave this matter to experts on the subject before forming any definite opinion on the physical characteristics of the two."

Miss Ruth Meyer, nurse, who was absent on vacation when the hearing opened a week ago, was reported today as having stated definitely that the child born to Mrs. Smith was a girl. Previously, in an exclusive interview in Detroit, Miss Meyer, who was present at the birth of the Sam Smith baby, made the statement that she did not know and could not remember the exact sex of the child.

Immediate creation of the endowment has been demanded by the North Central Association of Colleges. Failure to comply will result in surrender of Class A standing. The association has jurisdiction over all State, sectarian and non-sectarian colleges and universities in Indiana and adjoining States.

While the dinner is in progress here a separate organization of Terre Haute men and women will hold a similar meeting at the college. Both organizations will work simultaneously in obtaining the $300,000 sought in the two cities for the $1,000,000 fund.

Immediate creation of the endowment has been demanded by the North Central Association of Colleges. Failure to comply will result in surrender of Class A standing. The association has jurisdiction over all State, sectarian and non-sectarian colleges and universities in Indiana and adjoining States.

While the dinner is in progress here a separate organization of Terre Haute men and women will hold a similar meeting at the college. Both organizations will work simultaneously in obtaining the $300,000 sought in the two cities for the $1,000,000 fund.

Immediate creation of the endowment has been demanded by the North Central Association of Colleges. Failure to comply will result in surrender of Class A standing. The association has jurisdiction over all State, sectarian and non-sectarian colleges and universities in Indiana and adjoining States.

While the dinner is in progress here a separate organization of Terre Haute men and women will hold a similar meeting at the college. Both organizations will work simultaneously in obtaining the $300,000 sought in the two cities for the $1,000,000 fund.

Immediate creation of the endowment has been demanded by the North Central Association of Colleges. Failure to comply will result in surrender of Class A standing. The association has jurisdiction over all State, sectarian and non-sectarian colleges and universities in Indiana and adjoining States.

While the dinner is in progress here a separate organization of Terre Haute men and women will hold a similar meeting at the college. Both organizations will work simultaneously in obtaining the $300,000 sought in the two cities for the $1,000,000 fund.

Immediate creation of the endowment has been demanded by the North Central Association of Colleges. Failure to comply will result in surrender of Class A standing. The association has jurisdiction over all State, sectarian and non-sectarian colleges and universities in Indiana and adjoining States.

While the dinner is in progress here a separate organization of Terre Haute men and women will hold a similar meeting at the college. Both organizations will work simultaneously in obtaining the $300,000 sought in the two cities for the $1,000,000 fund.

Immediate creation of the endowment has been demanded by the North Central Association of Colleges. Failure to comply will result in surrender of Class A standing. The association has jurisdiction over all State, sectarian and non-sectarian colleges and universities in Indiana and adjoining States.

While the dinner is in progress here a separate organization of Terre Haute men and women will hold a similar meeting at the college. Both organizations will work simultaneously in obtaining the $300,000 sought in the two cities for the $1,000,000 fund.

Immediate creation of the endowment has been demanded by the North Central Association of Colleges. Failure to comply will result in surrender of Class A standing. The association has jurisdiction over all State, sectarian and non-sectarian colleges and universities in Indiana and adjoining States.

While the dinner is in progress here a separate organization of Terre Haute men and women will hold a similar meeting at the college. Both organizations will work simultaneously in obtaining the $300,000 sought in the two cities for the $1,000,000 fund.

Immediate creation of the endowment has been demanded by the North Central Association of Colleges. Failure to comply will result in surrender of Class A standing. The association has jurisdiction over all State, sectarian and non-sectarian colleges and universities in Indiana and adjoining States.

While the dinner is in progress here a separate organization of Terre Haute men and women will hold a similar meeting at the college. Both organizations will work simultaneously in obtaining the $300,000 sought in the two cities for the $1,000,000 fund.

Immediate creation of the endowment has been demanded by the North Central Association of Colleges. Failure to comply will result in surrender of Class A standing. The association has jurisdiction over all State, sectarian and non-sectarian colleges and universities in Indiana and adjoining States.

While the dinner is in progress here a separate organization of Terre Haute men and women will hold a similar meeting at the college. Both organizations will work simultaneously in obtaining the $300,000 sought in the two cities for the $1,000,000 fund.

Immediate creation of the endowment has been demanded by the North Central Association of Colleges. Failure to comply will result in surrender of Class A standing. The association has jurisdiction over all State, sectarian and non-sectarian colleges and universities in Indiana and adjoining States.

AL SMITH AND BULLARD HAIL RADIO PROGRESS

42,000 at World Meet See First Photo Sent by Broadcasting Station.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Governor Alfred E. Smith and Admiral W. H. Bullard, chairman of the Federal Radio Commission, were the principal speakers at the fourth annual Radio World's Fair, which opened auspiciously at Madison Square Garden last evening with an attendance of 42,000, who witnessed the first radio-photograph ever sent from a regular broadcasting station. The picture was that of Governor Smith.

It was the outstanding feature of the evening, and thirty minutes after the click of the camera a Cooley rayfoto picture transmitter had picked up the sound waves from the air and was projecting a smiling "Al" on a screen in full view of the thousands who eagerly watched.

Commenting on it, Governor Smith said: "Nothing has made a greater impression than the advance in television and radio transmission of photographs. This is the first time, I am told, that any photograph has ever been sent from a regular broadcasting station, and I am proud of this distinction."

Continuing, he said, in part: "Radio is the most modern and complete form of communication. It is at the same time a great instrumentality for the promotion of human understanding. A lack of such human understanding breeds intolerance, ill will and disagreements."

"To hear a man's voice, to hear a man speaking in his own way, to have him explain his views in person, to exchange views, all promote sympathy and good will."

Commenting on it, Governor Smith said: "Nothing has made a greater impression than the advance in television and radio transmission of photographs. This is the first time, I am told, that any photograph has ever been sent from a regular broadcasting station, and I am proud of this distinction."

Continuing, he said, in part: "Radio is the most modern and complete form of communication. It is at the same time a great instrumentality for the promotion of human understanding. A lack of such human understanding breeds intolerance, ill will and disagreements."

"To hear a man's voice, to hear a man speaking in his own way, to have him explain his views in person, to exchange views, all promote sympathy and good will."

Commenting on it, Governor Smith said: "Nothing has made a greater impression than the advance in television and radio transmission of photographs. This is the first time, I am told, that any photograph has ever been sent from a regular broadcasting station, and I am proud of this distinction."

Continuing, he said, in part: "Radio is the most modern and complete form of communication. It is at the same time a great instrumentality for the promotion of human understanding. A lack of such human understanding breeds intolerance, ill will and disagreements."

"To hear a man's voice, to hear a man speaking in his own way, to have him explain his views in person, to exchange views, all promote sympathy and good will."

Commenting on it, Governor Smith said: "Nothing has made a greater impression than the advance in television and radio transmission of photographs. This is the first time, I am told, that any photograph has ever been sent from a regular broadcasting station, and I am proud of this distinction."

Continuing, he said, in part: "Radio is the most modern and complete form of communication. It is at the same time a great instrumentality for the promotion of human understanding. A lack of such human understanding breeds intolerance, ill will and disagreements."

"To hear a man's voice, to hear a man speaking in his own way, to have him explain his views in person, to exchange views, all promote sympathy and good will."

Commenting on it, Governor Smith said: "Nothing has made a greater impression than the advance in television and radio transmission of photographs. This is the first time, I am told, that any photograph has ever been sent from a regular broadcasting station, and I am proud of this distinction."

Continuing, he said, in part: "Radio is the most modern and complete form of communication. It is at the same time a great instrumentality for the promotion of human understanding. A lack of such human understanding breeds intolerance, ill will and disagreements."

"To hear a man's voice, to hear a man speaking in his own way, to have him explain his views in person, to exchange views, all promote sympathy and good will."

Commenting on it, Governor Smith said: "Nothing has made a greater impression than the advance in television and radio transmission of photographs. This is the first time, I am told, that any photograph has ever been sent from a regular broadcasting station, and I am proud of this distinction."

Continuing, he said, in part: "Radio is the most modern and complete form of communication. It is at the same time a great instrumentality for the promotion of human understanding. A lack of such human understanding breeds intolerance, ill will and disagreements."

"To hear a man's voice, to hear a man speaking in his own way, to have him explain his views in person, to exchange views, all promote sympathy and good will."

Commenting on it, Governor Smith said: "Nothing has made a greater impression than the advance in television and radio transmission of photographs. This is the first time, I am told, that any photograph has ever been sent from a regular broadcasting station, and I am proud of this distinction."

Continuing, he said, in part: "Radio is the most modern and complete form of communication. It is at the same time a great instrumentality for the promotion of human understanding. A lack of such human understanding breeds intolerance, ill will and disagreements."

"To hear a man's voice, to hear a man speaking in his own way, to have him explain his views in person, to exchange views, all promote sympathy and good will."

Commenting on it, Governor Smith said: "Nothing has made a greater impression than the advance in television and radio transmission of photographs. This is the first time, I am told, that any photograph has ever been sent from a regular broadcasting station, and I am proud of this distinction."

Continuing, he said, in part: "Radio is the most modern and complete form of communication. It is at the same time a great instrumentality for the promotion of human understanding. A lack of such human understanding breeds intolerance, ill will and disagreements."

"To hear a man's voice, to hear a man speaking in his own way, to have him explain his views in person, to exchange views, all promote sympathy and good will."

Commenting on it, Governor Smith said: "Nothing has made a greater impression than the advance in television and radio transmission of photographs. This is the first time, I am told, that any photograph has ever been sent from a regular broadcasting station, and I am proud of this distinction."

Continuing, he said, in part: "Radio is the most modern and complete form of communication. It is at the same time a great instrumentality for the promotion of human understanding. A lack of such human understanding breeds intolerance, ill will and disagreements."

"To hear a man's voice, to hear a man speaking in his own way, to have him explain his views in person, to exchange views, all promote sympathy and good will."

Commenting on it, Governor Smith said: "Nothing has made a greater impression than the advance in television and radio transmission of photographs. This is the first time, I am told, that any photograph has ever been sent from a regular broadcasting station, and I am proud of this distinction."

Continuing, he said, in part: "Radio is the most modern and complete form of communication. It is at the same time a great instrumentality for the promotion of human understanding. A lack of such human understanding breeds intolerance, ill will and disagreements."

Held in Killing

Lorena Trickery, one of the best-known cowgirls of the West, is held at Lake View, Ore., to await grand jury action in connection with the death of her cowboy husband, "Slim" Harris. Harris was stabbed to death while he and his wife were autoing; the knife has been identified as one she bought a few days before.

SHRINERS ARE BEER BARONS FOR EVENING

Only Things Missing from 'Garden' Are 'Real Stuff,' Sawdust on Floor.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on the floor and real beer in the steins.

A cabaret entertainment and a girls' orchestra livened the evening. The Murat Temple fifty-piece band gave a concert.

The Shrine is preparing another surprise event for Oct. 17.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Monday night became German beer barons for the evening.

The Murat entertainment committee, headed by Granville Riskey, decorated the temple social room in the fashion of a "Bierhaus" with large tables, steins, cheese and crackers and pipes and tobacco. The only thing missing was sawdust on