

EXTENSION OF BOULEVARDS IS BEFORE BOARD

Park Commission Discusses Projects; Delays Action for Further Parley.

City park board had under consideration today a report on the proposed extension of the city's boulevard system, which it received Thursday afternoon.

Committee members who submitted the report were John E. Milnor, board president; A. W. Brayton, consultant landscape architect; J. E. Perry, park engineer, and E. Walter Jarvis, park superintendent.

On motion of M. E. Foley, board member, the report was filed with the secretary and formal consideration deferred until another meeting. Meanwhile, the board will discuss the project with the Chamber of Commerce civic affairs committee and other civic organizations.

Report Favorable to Plan
The committee report is favorable to enactment of the plan for extending Fall Creek Blvd. north along the fairground and Fall Creek to Sixty-second St., which is north of Millersville. It also favors extension of Kessler Blvd. from Crow's Nest hill east to Holliday Park and east through Wardleigh and Broad Ripple to Sixty-second St., and on Sixty-second St. to the Allisonville Rd.

There a subway crossing would be constructed under the Monon and L. E. & W. tracks. The projects would cost from $100,000 to $150,000, it is estimated.

No Work for Six Months
If the reports result in favorable action, the park board would not contemplate actual work for six or eight months, it was indicated. It was the first time the present administration has discussed the projects. The park board under Shank's last administration favored extension of Kessler Blvd. on Fifty-ninth St.
