

THREE WOMEN SERVE STORE FOR 20 YEARS

Among Honor Guests at L. S. Ayres & Co. Dinner Tonight.

The masculine argument that women regard their work in the business world as something of temporary interest, to fill in their spare time, is convincingly refuted by the records of Mrs. Louise Clark, Miss Mary Elward and Miss Mary Baggett, all of L. S. Ayres & Co., whose twentieth year with the store will be celebrated tonight at the annual dinner of the Twenty-Year Club of L. S. Ayres & Co.

Four Men Also Honored

Fighting Back

WARS DECRIED IN ADDRESS TO CHURCH GROUP

United Brethren End Parley; Committee Heads Are Named.

Make the army and navy policemen to protect the ideals of the American Government," said Dr. E. E. Violette, Kansas City evangelist, today before the closing session of the Indiana conference of the United Brethren Church in the U. B. Church, Walnut St. and Park Ave.

Dr. Violette decried the wasting of the lives of millions of America's youth in the battle fields of Europe. "Let the fellow who declares war fight it," he said. "We do not want to be told what to do by a few men gathered around a table. We want to be told what to do by men like Woodrow Wilson and William Jennings Bryan."

Supports Endowment

"Our entire program should center about the enlistment of the laymen in fields of evangelism and stewardship," said the Rev. William H. Todd, secretary of the State goals committee in resolution, which also granted support to the $1,000,000 endowment and extension campaign of Indiana Central College and cited the opening of an intensive evangelism campaign.

Although the United Brethren church are known to support E. S. Shumaker, official of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League, now under a sixty-day sentence for contempt of the Indiana Supreme Court, endorsement of his tactics was passed over.

FEAR STRIKE CLASH

Colorado National Guard Is Told to Be Ready.

By United Press

DENVER, Oct. 27.—With the Colorado coal strike apparently approaching a crisis, it became known today that Governor William H. Adams has ordered the National Guard to move into the strike area on short notice.

Officers of the guard were understood to have received instructions for moving their men to the mines at the first sign of serious violence.

The Governor last night rebuked the L. W. W. for calling the strike and enforcing it without regard for anti-picketing laws.

The most serious situation today appeared to be in Fremont County, where 100 automobile loads of strikers from other districts were encamped.

W. C. T. U. Acts to Place Ten Commandments in Each School Room.

Proposed north side extension of the Indianapolis park boulevard system was toured Wednesday by the Women's Department Club municipal affairs committee headed by Mrs. Ella V. Gardner and A. W. Brayton, landscape architect.

Plants for distribution of the decalogue by the W. C. T. U. were unfolded to Indianapolis school members by Mrs. Eva Davidson. The school commissioners saw no objection to the commandments, but asked that a copy be first filed with them.

Mrs. Davidson assured them there would be no dry additions made to the code as randed to Moses on Mt. Sinai and that the only other printing was "Compliments of the National W. C. T. U., Washington, D. C."

Board Members Charles W. Kern suggested that a copy might be placed in the corner stone of the new Shortridge High School.

"The many dents that are being made in the commandments in modern times may render the old edition quite a curiosity in several decades," he declared.

It would be the plan of the park board to build future playgrounds along the boulevard system.

The new aerial hangs vertically and consists of an ordinary ground wire sheathed in a long copper tube. It is said to eliminate static and the sharpest possible tuning.

VIEW ROUTE OF PARK SYSTEM

North Side Improvement Plan Shown to Women.

Proposed north side extension of the Indianapolis park boulevard system was toured Wednesday by the Women's Department Club municipal affairs committee headed by Mrs. Ella V. Gardner and A. W. Brayton, landscape architect.

Brayton took the party over the proposed route, which would join Kessler Blvd. via Sixty-Fourth St. along White River to Broad Ripple, Millersville and Allisonville Rd. with Fall Creek Pkwy. at Thirty-Eighth St.

Brayton explained that the nine-mile extension would "increase the tax valuation of property en route sufficient to pay the costs and fifteen times over."

"The Fall Creek system cost $350,000 and it could not be taken away for ten million. If we wait too long it will be difficult to acquire the right-of-way. We would have no trouble at present. I have found only cooperation from property owners," Brayton said.

It would be the plan of the park board to build future playgrounds along the boulevard system.

A Shimmier for Coolidge

(NEA Service, New York Bureau)

This vibrator is now a stable mate of the Presidential electric horse at the White House. It is said that Mr. Coolidge sometimes tires of his bobbing mechanical mount and takes a shimmier at the vibrator for variety. Cora Stephens and Beth Milton were exhibiting it at the New York electrical show when this photo was made.
