

SLOT MACHINES TAKEN OUT OF HIDING PLACES

Vending Apparatus Again in Operation After Defense by Judge.

Slot machines are being operated again in Indianapolis.

The machines have been reinstalled in several places in the city, since Municipal Court Judge Fred W. McCallister issued a permanent injunction preventing the sheriff and police from arresting officers and employees of the Indianapolis Mint Vending Machine Company.

The suit was brought by Carl Viebahn, president of the firm, who is represented by Oren S. Hack, former Democratic member of the board of works.

County Plans Appeal

As the nickels go in and the cents come out, William B. Miller, deputy prosecutor, is planning to appeal to the Appellate Court, on the ground that municipal court does not have jurisdiction to issue injunctions.

McCallister said that "even if the evidence did show that merchandise was paid in return for the device slugs, it would not be a gaming device under the law."

Miller asserted he had presented the court with a case in which McCallister had been prosecutor against a similar law violation and that the Supreme Court had held that the machines gambling devices. The court explained to Miller that "that was different."

Druggists Were Arrested.

According to Miller, some of the machines are being operated with a printed card showing McCallister's signature under a statement that the machines are not illegal.

Several weeks ago, druggists and store owners all over the city were arrested for permitting the devices to be operated. A jury in the court of Municipal Judge Thomas E. Garvin found a drug store owner and his clerk guilty of operating a gaming device.

MARINES GUARD LAND FROM HOMESTEADERS

Court Order Opens Part of Mare Island; Defied With Guns

By United Press
VALLEJO, Cal., Nov. 8.—An armed guard of United States marines was on duty at Mare Island Navy Yard to prevent settlers from staking homestead claims upon a part of the island which was thrown open to entry by an order of the District of Columbia Appellate Court.

The posting of sentries climaxed ten years of litigation in which the Government has sought to keep the land under the contention that it was purchased from Victor Castro, who held it under a Mexican grant.

Suit was brought by James E. O'Donnell who contended the land is swamp land and under what is known as the "Arkansas Act," should have been ceded to the State for entry.

The Appellate Court upheld O'Donnell.

DELAY ARRAIGNMENT ON BRIBERY CHARGE

Affidavits on Justice of Peace, Detective Held Up.

Arraignment of Oliver P. Bebin, a Washington township justice of the peace, and Leslie Langlund, detective agency operative, charged with conspiracy to commit a felony in soliciting a bribe, was postponed in Criminal Court Monday. Attorneys declared they had not received affidavit copies.

Sheriff Omer Hawkins informed Judge James A. Collins that Robert McElroy, manager of the O'Neill Secret Service, had not been found. He and Langlund were charged with blackmail in another affidavit.

Jesse Haines, loan agency operator, filed a motion to quash an affidavit charging him with blackmail. He is alleged to have threatened railroad employees with "getting your jobs" if they did not pay interest on loans.

Fifty-five other persons were arraigned.

Avoid Poorly Balanced Breakfasts

Start the day with Quaker Oats—food that "stands by" you.

If you feel tired, hungry, "fidgety," 1 hours before lunch, don't jump to the conclusion of poor health. Thousands have unenergetic mornings because they start the day with wrong breakfasts.

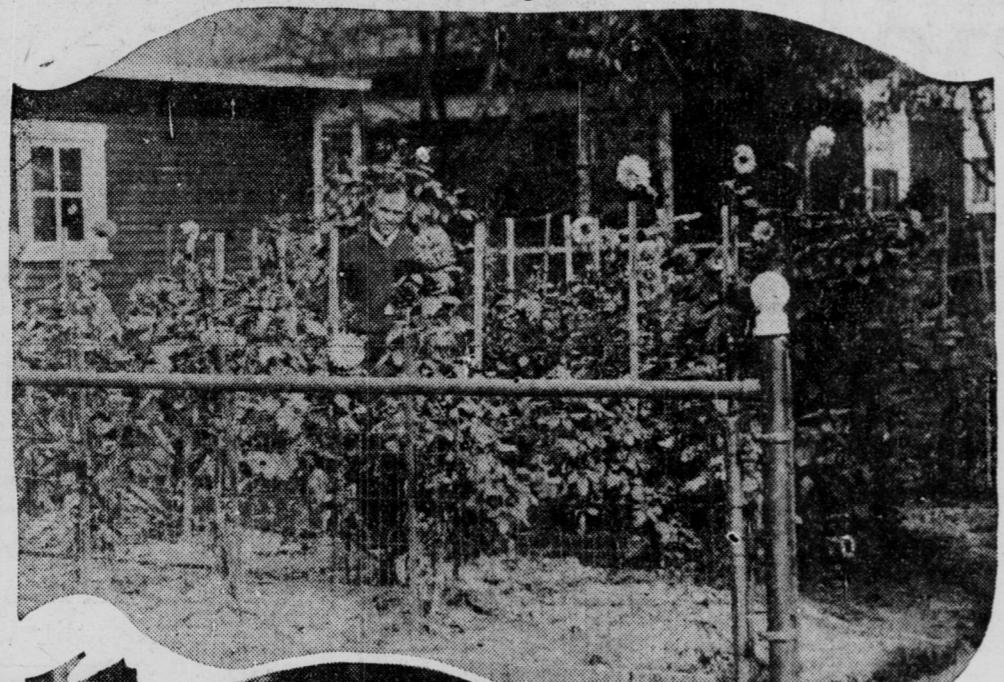

To feel right, you must have a well-balanced, complete breakfast ration. At most other meals—lunch and dinner—you get it. But breakfast is a hurried meal, often badly chosen.

Thus Quaker Oats, containing 16% protein, food's great tissue builder, 65% carbohydrate, its great energy element, plus all-important vitamins and the "bulk" that makes laxatives seldom needed, is the dietary urge of the world today.

Don't deny yourself the natural stimulation this rich food offers you. Get Quaker Oats today. Grocers have two kinds: Quick Quaker, which cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes, and Quaker Oats.

PARLIAMENT'S HOLIDAY ENDED

Reconvenes in London; Cecil Notable Absentee.

By United Press
LONDON, Nov. 8.—Parliament reassembled here today after its three-month holiday.

As the present session is merely a continuation of that of last spring, there was no State opening. The speaker took the chair at 3 p. m. and the members of the Commons settled down to the routine of the first day's work.

Before the opening the lobbies at either end of the house were crowded and as the assembly was announced members entered the chamber and took their seats.

The government bench, just in front of the speaker's chair, was crowded, each ministry being represented by its member on the cabinet, or by an under-secretary or parliamentary secretary.

One of the conspicuous absentees in the cabinet bench was Lord Cecil, who resigned his position due to differences with his colleagues over matters of policy at Geneva.

BUS CRASH HURTS 6

Passengers Hurled to Floor as Cars Collide.

Five women and a man today were recovering from injuries received when a Peoples bus collided with an automobile driven by Albert Teaford, 37, of 647 N. Jefferson Ave., at Cornell Ave. and Seventeenth St., Monday.

The bus swerved into a tree, hurling passengers to the floor. The injured:

Mr. Raymond Davidson, 30, of 2709 N. Olney St., left leg and both knees bruised; Mrs. Theresa Lynch, 52, of 3475 School St., back and legs bruised; Mrs. Mildred Felknor, 25, of 3215 School St., back and legs bruised; Mrs. Gertrude Brown, 45, of 3605 School St., face cut and head injuries; William May, 51, of 2612 School St., face cut and legs bruised.

One will be the days of falling elevators. The old elevator has slipped to the basement pit many times. Recently with a carload of prisoners it dropped about ten feet, but no one was injured.

The ancient carriage works the greatest hardship on the basement, second, third and fourth floor employees who try to make wild dashes to the lunch stand on the first floor while the boss is out for a few minutes.

When the new elevators are installed it is the fond hope of courthouse purists that the old, familiar sign, spelled just like this, "Elevator not running," will be thrown away.

Tired Dogs' Bark Joy; New Courthouse Lift

A bright and hopeful future is at the Courthouse is beginning to replace the dim and distant past as an elevator service is concerned.

Today the structure for one of the two new high speed elevators being erected by the Warner Elevator Company is nearing completion and as soon as it begins to operate, the old shaft will be replaced by a new one.

Instead of one antiquated elevator two new ones will take up the vacant spot in the center of the wing building.

INVITE HOOISERS ON CLARK MEMORIAL TOUR

Pilgrimage to Be Made to Virginia Birthplace.

All Hoosiers have been invited to take part in the pilgrimage of the George Rogers Clark memorial commission to Clark's birthplace and other points of historical interest in Virginia.

The party will leave Indianapolis in a special car at 6:15 p. m. Nov. 15. They will return Nov. 20, at 11:30 a. m. on the Big Four.

Nov. 19 is the 175th anniversary of Clark's birth near Charlottesville, Va., and Governor Byrd of that State has invited all residents of the old Northwest Territory and Kentucky to visit the shrine.

Persons desiring to make the trip may secure accommodations through Secretary William H. Book, 610 Chamber of Commerce building.
