

SANTA'S GUIDE TAKES WRITER ON SEAL HUNT

Animal 'Shot' With Camera; Story Is 'Written' in Pictures.

This is another of the series of stories Holly Berry is sending The Times from North Poleville, Santa Claus' home, by radio. Berry is the Times' correspondent accompanying the expedition to obtain pictures of Santa Claus. The pictures have been obtained and will be rushed back to Indianapolis and shown to children here. Arctic Explorer Capt. F. E. Klein Schmidt is heading the party.

BY HOLLY BERRY
(Special Correspondent of The Times in Eskimoland)

Our expedition party has just returned from an all-day seal hunt and although I am writing this while seated in Santa's library in front of the brightest grate fire you ever saw, my fingers are so stiff with cold that I hardly can make out the letters.

Before I tell you about the hunt, which was very exciting, I must tell you of a funny incident that happened a short time ago. You Indianapolis children almost missed having a story from North Poleville today! It happened this way:

Writes Story in Pictures

When I got back from the hunt, cold and tired, Wahno, Santa's chief guide on these hunting trips, noticed how much difficulty I was having in writing with cold fingers that he offered to write my story for me today. I thought it was a wonderful idea so I told him to go ahead and tell Indianapolis children all about the hunt in the words of one of Santa's little helpers.

While I fell asleep before the fire, Wahno wrote the story. When he finished, he woke me and held it up very proudly.

As I told you before, these little men do not write like we do—they draw wonderful little pictures of what they want to say. And here was this story, all written out in pictures! I knew it was impossible to send this over the radio and still I hated to hurt Wahno's feelings. So he doesn't know but what I am sending his story to you today.

"Snow Flowers" Deep

I have tried to follow Wahno's story exactly, and this is what he wrote as near as I can write it in English:

"Snow flowers fell all day. (These people call snowflakes 'snow flowers'). The sun behind heavy gray clouds looked no brighter than the moon. Underfoot the snow flowers were piled deep as our noses in places.

"We had to watch where we stepped or we might go in up to our red noses. In other places, where the wind blew hard, the ice was very clear and smooth—like a mirror.

"We found a seal 14,987 steps (see how accurate these little men are!), from the palace. He was running and flopping up and down on the ice. His black fur was very shiny and beautiful. We shot him.

Of course, not with a gun—that would be cruel, because the seal had never done us any harm—but with our camera—one like Santa gives to boys and girls, sometimes. We came back to the fire in the library."

This is a short story and does not describe the thrills of the hunt very well, but I thought you would like

Santa Helps Aid Fix 'Jumpy' Engine

Santa Claus and one of the little helpers are puzzling over a toy locomotive in this extraordinary telephoto picture from Holly Berry, Times correspondent in Eskimoland. The locomotive has a bad case of "jumps," Holly Berry said, which made it leap the track frequently. Santa and his helper will get it fixed, though, before some Indianapolis boy, perhaps, has it for his own Christmas morning.

to hear it coming from one of Santa's little helpers.

More Indianapolis Names

Here are some more Indianapolis names I promised. They were found in the books which Santa keeps the name of every boy and girl in the world.

GUARD'S NEEDS CITED

Military Bureau Chief Urges Increased Enlistments.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—More National Guard troops are needed, according to the annual report of Major General Creed C. Hammond, chief of the militia bureau, made public today.

Present strength was given as 181,142, including 12,010 officers. Guard troops were used in seven states during the year to render aid in disasters such as floods and to assist in maintenance of law and order.

"As indicated in this report the National Guard has made most gratifying progress in training and general efficiency," according to the general.

SERVICE CIRCLE TO HOLD ANNUAL CHURCH BAZAR

One-Day Event to Be Held Wednesday Night in Social Hall.

Members of the Women's Service Circle of the Carrollton Avenue Reformed Church will hold the annual Christmas bazar Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 30, in the social hall of the new church, Forty-Fourth St. and Carrollton Ave.

Mrs. Harry A. Rost, president of the Circle, is general chairman of arrangements, and the Rev. G. H. Gebhardt, pastor of the church, is chairman of the reception committee.

A wide selection of attractive hand-made articles, useful for holiday gifts, will be on display.

Chairman of committees in charge of the various booths are as follows: Mrs. Emma J. Pfafflin, fancy work; Mrs. Anna Schumacher, aprons; Mrs. Charles Scholer, candy; Mrs. Bertha Iske, home cooking; Mrs. Matilda Martin, parcel post; and Mrs. Ariel B. Mulford, fish pond. The Young Women's Missionary Society will have a handkerchief booth, in charge of Mrs. Robert C. Hayes and other members of the society.

A cafeteria style dinner will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 o'clock, under the direction of Mrs. Harley Russell and Mrs. William E. Kennedy. Mrs. John B. Schramm will have charge of the dining room. The public is cordially invited to attend the bazar and the dinner.

SENDS TRAFFIC LETTER

Worley Warns More Care Needed on Part of Motormen.

Traction companies were warned that motormen must pay more attention to traffic and safety rules in letters sent to heads of the T. H. & E. Indianapolis Street Railway Company, Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company and the Interstate Public Service Company by Police Chief Claude M. Worley.

Motormen must pay more attention to Indianapolis traffic ordinances, particularly the one requiring the conductor to flag a railroad crossing, Worley said. Indianapolis and Cincinnati officials conferred with Worley today and promised cooperation.

Many Are Given County Permits to Carry Guns

'Personal Protection' and Guarding of Property Chief Reasons.

Revolvers and guns are carried by persons other than bandits and irate husbands in search of the certain party.

This was revealed today in records of permits issued for gun toting in the county clerk's office. Since July, 105 persons have obtained permits. Many of the permits set out that the firearms are to be used in places of business while others are issued under the heading of "personal protection" which might include the aforementioned husbands.

Undertakers Carry Guns

Surprising is the fact that undertakers carry guns. To the ordinary citizen the business of "undertaking" might be considered dead from start to finish.

Clerk's office attaches declare that many times undertakers are called to scenes of fires and accidents where looting would prevail were it not for the brandishing of a six-shooter. It is advisable for undertakers to carry guns when they cruise around all hours of the night on "runs," it was pointed out.

Must Explain Much

When Joe Clutch or Bill Spivis applies for a permit, there is plenty to explain. They first subject themselves to a rigid description of their physiognomy. "Blue eyes, black curly hair, five feet ten inches, wart on right cheek, 37 years old, artificial right leg" and other such terms of description are entered on the record.

The business of the applicant, his address and the purpose for which the "gat" is obtained also is set out, in addition to a minute description of the artillery.

Two taxpayers in the county must affix their signature to the application blank.

FORD DOCTOR FACING INDIANA DIVORCE SUIT

Mrs. Leslie Lingeman, Noblesville, Says She Was Asked to Leave.

By Times Special
NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Nov. 28.—Dr. Leslie Lingeman, X-ray specialist in the Henry Ford hospital at Detroit, Mich., is defendant in a divorce suit on file in Hamilton Circuit Court here in which Mrs. Georgia Lingeman alleges he has often insisted that she leave him.

The doctor's wife is now at the home of her parents near here where she has been staying for three months. Mrs. Lingeman alleges Lingeman is of a melancholy disposition and is quarrelsome. The couple was married two years ago. Dr. Lingeman practiced here five years.

Asthma Disappears, Had It 15 Years

Mrs. Woodward, 65 Years Old, Says Cough, Wheezing and Asthma Gone.

Elderly people who suffer with asthma and bronchial coughs will find particular interest in a letter written by Mrs. Elizabeth Woodward, 65 years old, who lives at 1400 West Michigan St., Indianapolis. She writes:

"I had asthma in severe form for 15 years. I coughed hard, wheezed and was very short of breath, and in addition my stomach caused me a lot of trouble. For one year I had been unable to do any work, not even to washing the dishes. On Feb. 7, 1923, I started taking Nacor. The wheezing and cough have left entirely, and I do not have the slightest sign of asthma now. My stomach condition has improved. I am feeling fine, able to wash and iron and do the housework and am gaining steadily in every way."
