

SANTA PLEASE AT ARRIVAL OF FILMS IN CITY

Urges Every Boy and Girl to See Movies of His Home at North Pole.

This is another story from Holly Berry, special Times correspondent, accompanying the Times-Klein-Schmidt expedition which found the home of Santa Claus and the movies of the Christmas season which are now being shown in Indianapolis theaters.

By HOLLY BERRY
NORTH POLEVILLE, Eskimoland, Dec. 6.—(By Radio).—I received your radiogram today in which you said that the Santa Claus movies arrived in Indianapolis on scheduled time, and that they are now being shown in neighborhood movie theaters.

Santa Claus smiled all over when I told him that the films arrived safely. He said that every boy and girl in Indianapolis, who possibly could see these pictures.

"Just ask those Indianapolis children if they would like to see pictures of me surrounded by my toys or catching my wild reindeer for the long trip around the world," Santa Claus said.

We spent the day today in taking a final turn around Santa's palace before starting for civilization. We expect to start tomorrow if the weather permits.

Santa Is Very Busy
Santa told us he was sorry to see us leave, but he is busy this time of year—and getting busier every day as Christmas draws closer—that we don't like to take up any more of the kindly old fellow's time.

We are expecting the letters which children readers of The Times wrote on "Why I Like Santa Claus" to arrive tomorrow.

The aviator who took the Santa Claus films to Alaska, where they were picked up by Lieut. C. Earl Halstead, who took them to Indianapolis in his plane, is expected to bring these letters with him. His return from Alaska was delayed by the great Polar storm which raged a couple of days ago.

Santa Claus has promised to take as much time off as necessary to judge these letters and to award the prizes as fairly as he possibly can.

Local Names in Book
When I first told him about it, he was a little sorry that a prize could not be given to every boy and girl, but of course this is hardly possible so he promised to do his best in picking the winners.

Here are some more names from the books in which Santa keeps the name and record of every boy and girl in the world:

A 10-cent sale was the ruse used by a Negro bandit to loot the Standard grocery, 803 N. Senate Ave., late Monday.

The Negro ordered a box of matches, tendered a dime in payment and when Paul Graham, manager, opened the cash register, pointed a gun at the grocer.

After searching Graham and taking $8 from the cash register the Negro fled.

They Must Show Cause

The first step to bring to order the confused state of the Fall-Sinclair Teapot Dome case and subsequent jury-tampering charges has been started by the Government. The defendants are before Justice Siders at Washington "to show cause why they should not be cited for contempt of court."

They are Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil man; William J. Burns, head of the Burns Detective Agency, and his son, W. Sherman Burns; Henry Mason Day, alleged "lison man" between Sinclair and detectives shadowing the Fall-Sinclair jury, and Sheldon Clark, right-hand man of Sinclair.

READY FOR BIG POWER

WFBM Wattage to Be Increased from 250 to 1,000.

Preparation for the first use of 1,000 watts of power by WFBM, Indianapolis Power and Light Company radio station, is nearing completion. The new power arrangement probably will be in effect late this week or early next week.

The station was granted an increase of power from the present 250 watts to 1,000 watts by the Federal Radio Commission Oct. 15, effective when the power plant is moved from within the city limits. The new transmitter is being completed at a point about ten miles south of the city on the Three Notch Rd. The power plant is in a remodeled school building.

EUROPE ARMED CAMP ALL SET FOR CONFLICT

Writer Pictures Nations
Talking Peace, Ready for Greatest War.

This is the third in a series of six articles by Milton Bronner, foreign correspondent for The Times and News Service, discussing the situation in Europe today.

By MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Writer
(Copyright, 1927, NEA Service, Inc.)
LONDON, Dec. 6.—A great race in armaments preceded the World War.

Today, with that war nine years back in history, another race in armaments is on.

All Europe is arming. Hammers clang and forges glow in the shipyards where cruisers and submarines are taking form. Munitions factories have found prosperity returning.

The bark of the drill sergeant is heard in Army cantonments from the Volga to the English Channel, and epauletted generals study maps in every capital of Europe.

Improve Killing
In the sky is the whirl of thousands of motors as air fleets take wing. Laboratories hide chemists, working over test tubes that contain samples of new explosives and new gases for the next war.

Everywhere, with the exception of the Scandinavian countries, perhaps, there is preparation for fighting.

France has the greatest, most powerful army on earth. She also has the world's finest fighting air force. She refused to participate in the Geneva naval disarmament conference last summer because she intends to build all the cruisers and submarines she pleases.

Italy has an army second only to the French. Her air fleet is growing; likewise her submarine flotillas. Italy eyes France with an unconcealed suspicion that France openly returns.

Fleet Biggest on Earth
England's army, as before the war, is a skeleton. But she keeps her fleet the biggest on earth. She refuses to abide by America's cruiser limitation suggestions at the Geneva conference, insisting that she must have plenty of cruisers to protect her commerce.

England's publicists cry that war with America or France—the only two nations at this writing that could give her a real fight—is "unthinkable," but the arming process goes on unabated.

And Germany?
The treaty of Versailles put the limit of Germany's army at 100,000 men, prohibited any military air force and slashed her navy to a mere squadron. Sharp eyes keep watch to see that the treaty is not violated. Offhand, it would seem that Germany was hamstringed. But is she?

Germany No Weakling
There are indications that she is not. The army stays within the 100,000 limit; but the number of officers is out of all proportion to its size. A framework that could be filled in quickly is being built up, with all the traditional German efficiency and thoroughness. In the navy, officers constitute nearly 50 per cent of the total force.

Germany has no military air force, to be sure; but she has the best commercial aviation service in the world, and a commercial plane, with its trained pilot, can become a first-class fighting plane over night.

The government-subsidized Luft-hansa, or air trust, has created an amazingly efficient air fleet that would be an extremely valuable weapon in case of need.

In addition, there are disquieting rumors, never substantiated, of German munition factories in Russia.

A big splash attracted Lieut. Walter Claffey and Sgt. Charles Hodges as they walked over the canal bridge at Indiana Ave. Investigation disclosed John Smith, Negro, 323 W. Vermont St., had fallen in. The officers dragged Smith out and charged him with intoxication.

Sees Coolidge

When 13-year-old Bethel Pugh of Pueblo, Colo., heard about the national essay contest on safety conducted by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, she took pen in hand. Her essay won and she was given a trip to Washington and shook the hand of President Coolidge. More than 400,000 entered the contest.

That are turning out ammunition and guns in vast quantities, to be delivered when called for.

Russia, of course, is heavily armed. The bolsheviks have acquired a sizeable fleet of German-built airplanes, and are beginning to learn how to use it.

Poland, lying between Russia and Germany, has a huge army, trained by crack French officers, and its staff has worked out detailed plans for campaigns against either neighbor.

Jugo-Slavia is building an army and planning for the day when it will be as big as Italy's. Czechoslovakia is building a large army; Rumania has one out of all proportions to Rumania's relative size. Even Spain, formerly considered a third-rate military power, is getting together a very respectable army and is assembling a fleet of several hundred airplanes.

SAN FRANCISCO, KANSAS CITY IN CONCLAVE LEAD

Poll of Republicans Lets
Detroit, Chicago and Others Out.

BY RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Kansas City and San Francisco are overwhelming favorites as the Republican convention city for 1928, it was disclosed today by an informal poll among members of the Republican national committee.

Two days ago Detroit and San Francisco were running neck-and-neck battle, but when Senator Butler of Massachusetts, committee chairman, proposed Kansas City, he won many of the ninety-six delegates away from Detroit. The first poll of the ninety-six committee members gave the following result: San Francisco, 41 votes; Kansas City, 32; Detroit, 9; Chicago, 4; Philadelphia, 2.

Ballot Soon

The votes of delegates who have not yet arrived and of southern members, who are said to favor a less distant city than the Golden Gate, will probably decide the contest. Final balloting may take place at today's meeting, though it is more probable that it will be put off until tomorrow.

Growing resentment against Butler's regime broke out when he virtually demanded that the committee members line up for Kansas City. But eventually even the critics of the National Chairman recognized the point in his suggestion, which is designed to placate discontented Middle West farmers.

"Dry G. O. P."

There was less discussion of candidates, but sentiment for renomination of President Coolidge is still strong. Among those who declared they would stand by Coolidge until he entered a positive refusal to run again were Hamilton K. Keen, New Jersey, and J. Henry Roraback, Connecticut.

The liquor question threatens to influence the choice of a convention city.

Detroit's early lead was cut down when women members of the committee expressed their choice. They declared that Detroit's proximity to Canada and its reputation for wetness made it highly undesirable to hold the convention of the dry Republican party in that city.
