

NEW MARMON MODEL SHOWN 1,500 DEALERS

Distributors From All Over Country Are Here for Annual Meeting.

At elaborately staged sessions today at the Murat Theater, the Marmon Motor Car Company outlined the largest program in its history to nearly 1,500 Marmon distributors and dealers from all parts of the country in Indianapolis for the company's annual convention.

Coincident with the meeting, the Marmon company made its first display of the new Marmon 68, a straight-eight in the low-priced field which marks the entrance of Marmon into quantity production.

Public announcement of the new 68, which will sell at $1,395 at the factory, gives to Indianapolis the distinction of having the first automobile manufacturer to enter into quantity production of both low and medium priced lines of straight-eights.

In a completely reequipped plant unit which a floor space of more than 300,000 square feet under one roof, manufacture of the new Marmon 68 has been started at the rate of 200 cars a day.

Inspect Marmon Plant The new and lower priced eight is a companion car to the new Marmon 78, which was introduced early in December in the medium priced field. Production of the new 78 has reached 10 cars a day, thereby giving Marmon an output of 300 cars a day—by far the largest automobile manufacturing operations ever to be realized by an Indianapolis company.

Convention delegates to their annual meeting arrived in Indianapolis all day Monday, and three special trains from Atlanta, Chicago and the east brought several hundred additional dealers.

Sessions will be held Wednesday morning at the Marmon factory where the visitors will be taken on a tour of inspection through the entire three plants now engaged in automobile manufacture and Wednesday afternoon at the Claypool Hotel, where an open forum will close the convention.

Plan Display for Public Immediately following the meeting Wednesday afternoon a special train bearing officials of the company and many dealers will leave for New York, where the Marmon company will show at four elaborate exhibits its full line of motor cars during the National Automobile Show, which begins Saturday.

Sam V. Harding, general manager of the Indianapolis Marmon sales branch, Eleventh and Meridian Sts., has arranged a display of the new 68 line, together with numerous new 78 body styles, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The new Marmon 68, like its companion car the new 78, was designed and constructed to follow the most modern straight-eight principles. It has a seventy-two horsepower engine which makes possible a top speed of sixty-five to seven miles an hour and an ability to accelerate from ten to fifty miles an hour in fifteen to sixteen seconds. The wheelbase is 114 inches and there are four body styles including a full five passenger sedan, four passenger Victoria coupe, two passenger coupe and two passenger roadster.

The new 78 is produced in six body styles. Normal Output 300 Daily The Marmon company entered into production of straight-eights a year ago and the largest volume of 250 cities, compared with $99,595,000.

sales in its history in 1927 led to the announcement this year not only of a medium priced eight but of a low priced one as well.

Introduction of both of these cars comes at a time when the Marmon Company is entering its seventy-seventh year as a manufacturer of precision machinery and its twenty-sixth in the automobile industry.

Introduction of the two new straight eights immediately follows the completion of a program of plant expansion that occupied more than six months. The company's factory has a normal output of 300 cars a day, or approximately three times the capacity a year ago.

The sales organization has been enlarged including the opening of six regional factory headquarters in various parts of the country.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Police protection costs the city-dweller $5.70 a year. The police are getting better pay or else there are many more of them than ten years ago, for the average cost then was only $3.09.

The figures, announced by the commerce department today, covered expenditures for police departments, criminal courts and correctional institutions in 250 cities, with a population of more than 30,000, representing in the aggregate more than one-third of the nation's population.

CRIME FIGHT COST GROWING

Law Enforcement Expense Up Rapidly; Says Report.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Cost of combating law violation in the United States is increasing rapidly, according to figures made public by the census bureau today after a long survey.

Operation and maintenance of police departments, courts and jails in 250 principal cities representing 35 per cent of the Nation's population cost $238,684,000 in 1926, or $5.70 per capita. Corresponding figures for 213 cities in 1916 gave a total cost of $99,595,230, or a per capita of $4.09.

Per capita cost of police departments alone increased from $2.10 to $4.09 in the ten years, and proportionate increases occurred in other items.

An increase in the number of youthful offenders is indicated in the amounts spent for correctional institutions. In 1926, correctional institutions increased in cost from 18 cents per capita to 26 cents.

Next to public schools, the police department is by far the most expensive branch of the average municipal government. Schools represent 37 per cent of the total and police 10 per cent.

NEURITIS PAINS RELIEVED BY NEW KONJOLA, SHE SAYS

Another Indianapolis Lady Tells How the Celebrated Medicine Relieved Her.

"Konjola is the most highly recommended medicine in the city of Indianapolis today for cases of disordered stomach, liver, kidneys or rheumatic and neuritis suffering. The Konjola Man is at the Hook Drug Store, Illinois and Washington Sts., Indianapolis, where he meets large crowds in person each day and explains this celebrated new compound. At the same time, a steady stream of endorsements are being received from any who have benefited by the use of Konjola. For instance, just a few days ago, Mrs. Rose Wright, 922 E. Tenth St., this city, made the following statement:

"I can truthfully say that Konjola has been a big help in my life," said Mrs. Wright. "I know of no medicine that has been praised as much as this medicine and after taking a few bottles of it I can see why so many Indianapolis people are giving their testimonials for it. I know I can truthfully recommend this medicine as a real help to humanity. My trouble was mostly neuritis. That word certainly spells misery and any one who suffers with it will verify my statement. Terrible pains would shoot all over my body and cause me untold suffering, which was almost more than I could stand at times. I tried remedy after remedy, but could not get relief from this awful suffering until I finally happened to get a bottle of Konjola. I had taken only a small amount when I noticed a difference in my condition. I continued and although the medicine worked very slow I was gradually getting better. This medicine continued to help me until now I am almost well. I give Konjola credit for this, as it is the only medicine that has started me on the road to health, after all this suffering. I voluntarily recommend this medicine as the best medicine I have ever known. I am still using it and believe that after I have given it the trial it deserves that I will be fully restored to health. The Konjola Man is at the Hook Drug Store, Illinois and Washington Sts., Indianapolis, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Konjola is being sold by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Advertisement.

HOPE FOR DIARY IN SUNKEN SUB

Last Messages May Be Left in Wrecked S-4.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Secretary of Navy Willbur was urged today to order precautions in raising the submarine S-4, that records, diaries and messages kept by the men might be preserved.

Representative McClintic (Dem.), Oklahoma, in a letter to Willbur, recalled the famous diary written by a Japanese officer who lost his life in a submarine disaster years ago. The diary forms a historical exhibit at the Congressional Library here.

McClintic said he is prompted by a belief that the six men who were alive in the torpedo room after the S-4 sank "would, if possible, chronicle their sensations, giving to the loved ones a farewell message before their lives ebbed away."

"As an addition to the knowledge now at the disposal of submarine experts, it seems to me that the condition of the dead men in the various compartments of the S-4; their position when life became extinct; the object or objects they held in their hands, and the register of various gauges and meters, would be extraordinarily valuable to those charged with submarine responsibility in the future," McClintic wrote.
