

FLAY SMOKING; WOMAN PASTOR BAN DEPLORED

M. E. Missionary Society
Disclaims Responsibility in Controversy.

By United Press
CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—The Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church was on record today as deploring smoking, but disclaiming responsibility for the barring of Miss Maude Royden, English preacher, from making public appearances because she accepted the practice.

Local committees in the cities involved cancelled Miss Royden's engagements, Mrs. Dan B. Brummitt of the missionary society said.

A formal statement issued by Mrs. Brummitt last night said:

"When it was learned that Miss Royden had accepted the English custom of smoking, a conference was called of all general officers (of the society) and all local committees.

"It was decided that, while as American Christian women, they deplored the practice, they could not presume to judge the integrity and religious life of such a woman as Miss Royden.

"Later at Chicago and Boston, the arrangements for Miss Royden's lectures were cancelled by local committees."

Engagement Is Cancelled

By United Press
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 6.—The Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church here has decided to cancel the engagement of Miss Maude Royden to speak at its luncheon, Jan. 19.

Mrs. William Peace, chairman of the committee, said the cancellation was due not so much to the fact that smoking and drinking as to the notoriety accompanying her statement.

Other Negro clubs were ordered to get new charts, keep doors unlocked and remove electric buzzer systems.

Frank Freise, 903 N. Illinois St., was charged with keeping a gambling house by Lieut. Patrick O'Connor, who said he found two men in an upstairs room playing poker. He seized cards and $4.

SEEKS TO BAN STATE PRODUCT

La Porte Firm Hits Basket Making at Farm.

By Times Special
GREENCASTLE, Ind., Jan. 6.—Suit on file in Putnam Circuit Court here charges management of the Indiana penal farm at Putnamville is exceeding authority granted by the State Legislature by manufacturing willow baskets for the general wholesale trade.

Plaintiff in the case is the Ove Gnat Company, Laporte, basket manufacturers. Alleging that its trade in Indiana and other States has been damaged by competition with the prison-made product, the company asks an injunction forbidding basket making at the farm. It declares prisoner labor enables the farm to sell baskets 40 per cent under the company prices.

Named as defendants are Governor Ed Jackson, Ralph Howard, farm superintendent, and the farm trustees, Charles C. Huestis, John E. Jones, John G. Klinger and John F. Boyd.

New West Park Pastor Scoffed at Obstacles

Gave Church to Princeton by Indomitable Toil, After Disaster.

The Rev. N. L. Collins

"To win in spite of obstacles" has been the creed of the Rev. N. L. Collins, new pastor of the West Park Christian Church, who recently moved with his family to Indianapolis from Princeton, Ind., where he was leader of the Broadway Christian congregation.

Mr. Collins has overcome obstacles that to many another man would seem impossible to surmount. He took charge of the Princeton Church immediately following the disastrous tornado there several years ago. The church was demolished, and the congregation completely discouraged with their personal disasters.

Realizing the difficulties of arousing interest in a new church building at such time, the preacher pluckily planned an even better structure than the congregation had before. Federal Judge Robert C. Baltzell, Indianapolis, became interested in his work and gave a new parsonage to the congregation.

Before Mr. Collins was called to the West Park church, the Princeton Church had acquired property valued at $75,000. The membership of his church had doubled and three ministers had been ordained by him. Mr. Collins' problem is the raising of the church debt. Though he has been in Indianapolis but a short while, he already has become enthusiastic about the overcoming of his new difficulty.

"You see, it really seems like a family affair, this debt," said Mr. Collins. "I used to play basketball with many members of my new congregation when we were boys down in Hancock County."

Mr. Collins received his degrees at Hedding College, Abingdon, Ill., and at Texas Christian University. He is married and has three sons.

VONNEGUT

Expected to Be R.
School Board H.

Re-election of Theodore Vonnegut as school board president today was expected.

Charles W. Kern, majority faction member, has been mentioned prominently for the post, but he is understood to be satisfied with chairmanship of the buildings and grounds committee, which he now holds.

With the two new members on the board, Lewis E. Whiteman and Fred Kepner, succeeding Fred Bates Johnson and Charles R. Yoke, members are not certain what alliances will be made, but it is thought the old majority faction composed of Vonnegut, Kern and Mrs. Lillian V. Sedwick will retain its identity.

BURGLARS ROUTED

Escape From Two Homes on North Side.

Two burglars escaped from north side homes early today after residents had awakened while they were ransacking the homes.

Mrs. E. L. Norcross, 2939 Kenwood Ave., said she heard a noise in the hallway and arose from bed to investigate. Just then she heard the bathroom door slam and she raised a window and screamed for help. Police arrived and found the bathroom window open, and Mrs. Norcross' purse, with $8 missing, in the room.

Footprints on the ground below revealed the burglar was a youth. Police recalled a report by parents in the neighborhood that their son left home, carrying a revolver, after he had taken $35.

S. C. Wadley, 3074 N. Pennsylvania St., awakened at 3 a. m. to see a man in his bedroom. The burglar ran out through the kitchen, where he had entered. Nothing was missing.
