

PIOUS SUNDAYS ARE ASKED FOR U. S. CAPITAL

Southern Congressman
Urges Law for 'Blue'
Sabbath in Washington.

BY ROBERT TALLEY
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—A 50-year-old Congressman who represents a group of rural counties in the extreme southern part of Georgia would make Washington the most pious city in the United States on Sundays.

He is Representative William C. Lankford, former mayor of the little town of Douglas, Ga., whose Sunday "blue law bill" for the District of Columbia is due for hearings before a congressional committee within a few days. Citizens' meetings of protest are being held all night long.

Wants 'Blue' Sunday
The Congress of the United States is sort of a glorified city council for Washington, enacting all its local laws, so hence this bill.

At present, Washington has Sunday theaters, Sunday baseball and other amusements. Also, quite a few small groceries and meat shops keep open on Sunday.

Years of residence here as a Congressman have convinced Representative Lankford that this is very wicked and very wrong, so he

An Old Recipe to Darken Hair

By JANICE RANDALL

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Advertisement.

Immunity?

Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador to the United States, has asked diplomatic immunity for his son, Henry Howard (above), 14, whose automobile struck Beatrice Deforest, 12-year-old daughter of a weather bureau employee at Washington. They boy is two years under the minimum age requirement for driving an automobile in the District of Columbia, police said, and any action to be taken will have to come through the State Department.

has introduced a bill to make Sundays in Washington as "blue" as they are in his native town of Douglas, Ga.

His bill would prohibit all work on Sunday except a few "acts of necessity or charity." Further, it specifies Sunday as the particular day to be observed, and not merely just one day in seven.

He Worked on Sabbath
Led by the Seventh Day Adventists, whose Sabbath is Saturday, opponents of the bill are preparing for a hot fight before the committee. With them are the theater men and the liberal element residing in the Capital.

Two years ago when Representative Lankford introduced a similar bill to outlaw Sunday labor, the Washington News posted a reporter to watch Lankford's office one Sunday. The reporter observed that the "blue law" proponent, himself, worked that day.

The bill apparently has slight chance of passage, but apprehensive Congressmen are hoping that it won't come to a vote on the floor. Such might be quite embarrassing for lots of them who come here from districts, where there is a strong "blue law" element.

BALK MAYOR IN BOARD CHANGES

Park Group Approves Only
Part of Dismissals.

Adolph G. Emhardt (Dem.), and Mrs. Mary Hoss (Rep.), park board members who refused to resign when requested by Mayor L. Ert Slack, won a partial victory Thursday afternoon when dismissal recommendations for the department made by the mayor and Park Superintendent R. Walter Jarvis were approved only partially.

Mrs. Hoss voted with other board members to dismiss her step-son, Frank E. Hoss, construction superintendent, but succeeded in keeping Harold McClure, another relative, in his position of manager of the Coffin golf course. Original recommendations asked his dismissal.

Board Member Michael E. Foley, spokesman for the mayor, failed to get a second when he moved to dismiss Recreation Director Jesse P. McClure and to place Charles Myers, Democrat, and Miss Mary Griffin in places of Charles Davidson, chief clerk, and Clarence Myers, secretary, both Republicans.

Board President John Milnor, who conferred with the mayor when called to his office during the meeting, asked Telford Orblison, board attorney, if he could second Foley's motion and was told "no." Orblison's job later was combined with that of recreation attorney, William Quillin, Republican, and the new position given to Edward B. Raub.

Jr., Republican, son of a councilman. The members voted unanimously to release Hoss, Landscape Architect A. W. Bratton Jr., Construction Foreman E. L. McCallip and Assistant Park Engineer Chester C. Oberless.

Jarvis and his assistant, George Morgan (Rep.), will be retained. Several minor office shifts will be made to meet the reduced budget and salary reductions may be made at the next meeting. The new legal position pays $3,000. All changes are effective Jan. 14.

SUFFERED YEARS OF MISERY FROM HEALTH TROUBLE

"I Strongly Indorse Konjola As a Blessing for Anybody," Says Local Lady.

Another well-known Indianapolis lady who tells about the wonderful work of Konjola in her case is Mrs. Elizabeth Volderauer, 1223 N. Illinois street, Apartment 1, this city. She made the following statement while talking to the Konjola Man at the Hook Drug Store, Illinois and Washington streets, Indianapolis, where he is daily meeting large crowds of men and women who come to hear his personal explanation of this surprising medical preparation.

"I suffered years of misery from stomach trouble," said Mrs. Volderauer. "I thought there would never be an end to my suffering. Every bite of food I would eat just laid in my stomach in a solid mass, like a heavy rock. My food would sour and ferment and awful gas pains and bloating would follow. Even a piece of bread and butter would sour on my stomach. I was subject to belching spells and a hot, bitter liquid would rise in my throat. Cramps in the stomach would nearly make me wild and I would double up with pain. Day after day I had that worn-out feeling and never had the ambition to do anything. My whole system was in a weak and rundown condition, but I was at loss to know what to do to relieve me of this suffering since none of the other remedies I tried would help me.

"Then I began to hear reports about this new Konjola and how it had helped others here in Indianapolis. I decided to give this medicine a fair trial. It proved to be exactly what my upset system had always needed. My stomach was soon in a more healthy condition so that I could eat anything I wanted and know the food would digest properly. All the old miseries I used to suffer after meals have disappeared. I am in better condition now than I have been in years and I owe it all to Konjola. I will recommend this medicine every chance I get."

Konjola is different than any other known medicine in this section. It contains twenty-two juices extracted from natural plants which invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels to more healthy action. The effect of Konjola on the whole inner system brings amazing relief in cases of suffering that had been going on for years. At the same time, many weak and rundown systems have been restored to a new state of health through this compound. Such a vast number of men and women in this city have told of their experience with this new medical product until now Konjola is the most highly indorsed medicine that is known in this vicinity.

The Konjola Man is at the Hook Drug Store, Illinois and Washington Sts., Indianapolis, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Konjola is being sold by all Hook stores in this city and by all druggists throughout this section.
