

KIDNAP KILLER IS ON WAY TO LIFE IN PRISON

Swift Justice Is Meted Out to Adolph Hotelling, Child Slayer.

By United Press

BAY CITY, Mich., Jan. 19.—Shackled to a guard, Adolph Hotelling, model citizen of Owosso, looked at life today through the window of a moving train. At the end of his journey, he knew, were the portals of Marquette prison.

A week ago Hotelling was a moral beacon in his community. He never smoked and he never drank liquor. Into his life had entered religious zeal and the happiness of rearing a large family of healthy children.

Late today he will be given a number and a rough suit of clothing, a prison inmate sentenced to live his life out doing hard work in solitary confinement, because of the murder of little Dorothy Schneider. Justice had been as swift as the cerebral explosion which caused Hotelling to commit the crime. Less than forty-eight hours after his arrest for the atrocity which aroused the country, he was convicted and sentenced despite mob fury.

He was hustled away from the courtroom to Saginaw in an automobile, and then rushed here early today and taken on a train bound for Marquette. This forenoon the train was due at Mackinaw City, where preparations were made to avoid a demonstration against the prisoner.

Hotelling was crying when taken into the compartment on his train here. No one was permitted to talk to him, leaving it to the imagination whether they were tears of self pity or tears of remorse over the slaying of the child.

"The details as shown by the confession and the proofs in the case almost convince me that we should have capital punishment in this State," said Judge Fred Brennan when he imposed the life term, maximum punishment under the law.

Only one untoward incident marred the smooth functioning of justice. Leslie Schneider, father of the slain girl, struck Hotelling one blow in the face before he was restrained by deputies.

Before many people knew he had been taken back to Flint, Hotelling was on his way to the Marquette branch prison.

Just as the crime had been one of the most atrocious in the State, so was its disposition one of the fastest in history.

Brennan said he would appoint a sanity commission to examine Hotelling. If adjudged insane, he will be removed to a State hospital.

ANOTHER SLEEPLESS NIGHT

You go to bed dog-tired but still no sleep, no real rest. Morning finds you a rag. One of the first effects of a poisoned system is "nerves"—restless, sleepless nights. The whole thing is traceable to our modern habits of life which put too great a burden on our vital organs, especially the liver.

The liver becoming "dead" or sluggish fails to remove the toxic poisons from the blood, which then poisons the system, weakening stomach, kidneys and heart, causing high blood pressure and undermining health in general.

It is universally recognized that occasionally the liver needs a little help. Nothing is better for this, say medical men, than ox gall. Ox gall is a great natural stimulant for the human liver, promoting its normal active functioning so essential to real health. Dioxol tablets are genuine ox gall in dainty and tasteless form, each tablet representing 10 drops of pure ox gall. To be sure of getting the genuine ox gall, be sure of getting Dioxol. They cost less than 2c each at good druggists, and a few bring new days.

Crowd Waits at Station

MACKINAW CITY, Mich., Jan. 19.—A crowd of several hundred persons struggled to catch a glimpse of Adolph Hotelling when his train arrived here today. A ferry trip started at 7:30 a. m., Central time, took him to the Upper Michigan peninsula, where Marquette penitentiary is situated.

HOSPITAL NEEDS ARE EXPLAINED TO SLACK

Mayor and Holtzman Inspect City
Institution as Board Guests.

Mayor L. Ert Slack and City Corporation Counsel John W. Holtzman made an inspection tour of city hospital today and were guests of Superintendent William A. Doeppers and the city health board at luncheon. Dr. Doeppers explained the dire need for added facilities at the institution, particularly a new four-story building to house 100 beds vacated by condemnation of the old main building by the State fire marshal. The building would cost about $500,000 to $600,000, including equipment, he said.

Prominent City Democrat Died at His Home Tuesday.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 9 a. m. at SS. Peter and Paul Cathedral for Jeremiah C. Foley, 67, who died Tuesday at his home, 2548 Central Ave. Mr. Foley was a prominent local Democrat, brother of the late John E. Foley, chief deputy United States marshal until his death.

He was a native of Madison, Ind., but spent his life from boyhood here. At one time he was a candidate for city clerk and again held the position of assistant secretary to the late United States Senator John W. Kern, making his home at Washington at that time.

Returning here he became manager of the General News Bureau and remained in this position until his death. Surviving, besides the widow, is a sister, Sister Mary Theophora, of the sisters of Notre Dame.

MRS. RIGG RITES SET

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. for Mrs. Lou E. Rigg, 80, who died Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Rethmeier, 841 N. Dearborn Street.

The services will be at the Rethmeier home, followed by burial at Washington Park cemetery. The Rev. C. J. G. Hussom, pastor of the First Reformed Church, will officiate.

Mrs. Rigg was a native of Ohio, but had lived in Indianapolis for the last forty-three years.

UTILITY GOLIATH MEETS DAVID IN GUISE OF WALSH

Lone Warrior Combating High-Paid Industry Aids in Probe Demand.

By ROBERT TALLEY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—All the resources that a $15,000,000,000 industry can command and the best brains that money can buy were arrayed today against one gray-haired, determined man.

They clashed before the Senate committee on interstate commerce. The lone individual was Senator Thomas J. Walsh (Dem.) Montana, and his opponents were the representatives of the Nation's vast public utility corporations which he is trying to make the subject of a Senate investigation.

Wants Study of Rates

He wants the Senate to study rates paid by millions of Americans for power, lights and gas and the flotation of utility securities in staggering sums.

Resisting Walsh are the National Utilities Association, the National Electric Light Association, the American Gas Association, the American Electric Railway Association and their lobbyists.

Once reported in their trade journals as not objecting to an investigation, they are fighting now on the grounds that no need for a Federal inquiry exists.

Watson Heads Committee

The decision lies with the committee headed by Senator Watson, Indiana Republican and presidential hopeful.

Arrayed against Walsh are a big group of corporation attorneys, including two former United States Senators. They are Irvine L. Lennor of Wisconsin, representing the National Utilities Association, and Charles S. Thomas of Colorado, representing the American Cities Company.

GOES TO JAIL RATHER THAN DESERT HIS PAL

Insists on Going Along When Friend
Is Arrested; Booked; Released.

Brotherly love of Damon and Pythias type was exemplified in a minor manner by Lester Isaacs, of 30 N. Lansing St., and his friend, Jack Crump, 32, of Columbus, Ind., both of whom were arraigned before Municipal Judge Paul C. Wetzel Wednesday.

After Isaacs threw a bottle to the floor in a restaurant, Patrolman Carl Wilson placed him under arrest. Crump insisted on accompanying his friend to jail, so was booked for being drunk.

Crump's case was dismissed and Isaacs was sentenced to pay $100 fine and serve thirty days at Indiana State Farm.

He was placed on probation for six months when the judge learned he has a wife and two children and is working daily to support them.

49 Cents Saves

By Times Special
COLUMBUS, Ind., Jan. 19.—A 49-cent bank account saved William M. Bultmann, 26, Vincennes, from punishment here on a charge of issuing a bad check. Circuit Judge Julian Sharpnack considered the account was evidence of good faith in Bultmann's assertion that failure of his employer to deposit money as had been agreed caused a $22.50 check to be returned.

MAYOR CASE BRIEF IS BRANDED CONTEMPT

Holmes Attorneys Claim Salsbury
Has No Right in Suit.

Action of Elias D. Salsbury, Indianapolis attorney, who last week as a friend of the court filed brief with the Appellate Court in which he declared the question of Ira M. Holmes' pretensions to the mayor's office was moot, was branded as contempt of court by attorneys for Holmes in their motion filed Wednesday.

Salsbury in his brief declared the question of Holmes' claim to the mayor's chair was settled when the council elected Claude E. Negley mayor pro tem. The Holmes motion asks the brief be dismissed on the grounds that Salsbury was not a party to the action, was not asked by the court, is presumptuous and discourteous and is an intruder and intermeddler.

His action infers, they charge, that the court is not informed of the case and practically constitutes contempt.

DOWNTOWN FIRE QUELLED; LOSS NEARLY $8,000

17 Companies Called Out to Extinguish Early Morning Blaze.

Fire breaking out on the second floor of the Bob's Motor Company building, 340 S. Pennsylvania St., at 1:40 a. m. today, caused an estimated loss of $8,000 to the structure and tenant firms.

Seventeen companies responded to the second alarm blaze. After being impeded by dense smoke, they managed to extinguish it with ten lines of hose.

G. A. Schnull is owner of the building, a two-story brick structure. Fire was confined to the second floor, where it consumed a portion of the roof and caused a wall to collapse. Preliminary building damage was estimated at $6,000.

Loss to stock and equipment of the motor company's garage was estimated at $1,500 by W. L. Herder, owner.

Thomas E. Miller, operating a pattern shop on the second floor, placed his loss at $400. Water caused about $100 damage to the Indianapolis Stereotype Company, also on the second floor. Wilson D. Nash is the owner.

Cause of the blaze is unknown. The theory was advanced it was started from sparks from locomotives.

Council Seeks Attorney After Slack Ouster Move

Legal Problems Perplexing
Members, With No One to Give Opinion.

The question "Who will advise city council on legal matters?" drew humorous comment at city hall today.

Council confronted several provoking legal problems at the session Monday night when an attempt was made to oust Mayor L. Ert Slack, and found itself without an attorney.

Assistant City Attorney Don T. Roberts, ousted by the Slack administration, always attended council meetings to advise the members but his successor, Smiley Chambers, did not appear at the session.

Council President Otis E. Bartholomew wished for legal counsel several times during the meeting.

"I always have contended that if anybody ever needed an attorney this council certainly does," Bartholomew said.

Bartholomew asked if there was a disinterested attorney in the crowd who could give an impartial opinion. Someone cited Roberts, who was leaning over the railing.

"I'm interested in the case, but I think I can give an impartial opinion," Roberts replied giving his views.

Councilmen and City Clerk William A. Boyce Jr., finally dug out their rule books and settled the dispute over parliamentary procedure.

Corporation Counsel John W. Holtzman said he would be glad to assign a member of the legal staff to attend council meetings if the council requests it.

RENTS ROOM; ROBS

Gunman Gets $12 in Hold-up of Landlady.

A "late hour rooming house bandit" made his initial appearance here at midnight Wednesday. Mrs. Nellie Morris, 521 N. Alabama St., was robbed of $12.

The young gunman appeared at her home and rented a room "to get in out of the weather," and gave her a $5 bill. When she went to a bureau to get change he pointed a gun at her, taking her $12 and the bill he had given her.

Two young masked bandits held up C. O. Mitchell, proprietor of the grocery at 1180 W. Twenty-Ninth St., about closing time. They took $18.

John Clark, 3155 Boulevard Pl., driver for the Franco-American Cleaners, was robbed of $20 Wednesday afternoon by two men who called him to Apt. 2, 7 N. Tacoma Ave., an empty apartment, on the pretext some one there had some clothing to be cleaned. They left him bound and gagged, but he crawled into the hall.

CASE REVEALS QUEER TWIST IN SON'S LOVE

Man in Columbus Court
Cold to Mother—Made
Own Way at 7.

By Times Special

COLUMBUS, Ind., Jan. 19.—Charles McMillan, 31, Martinsville, feels more affection for a woman who took him into her home when he was 7 than he does for his own mother.

This twist of filial love was revealed in Bartholomew Circuit Court here when McMillan's sister, Mrs. Carrie Cheatham, sought an order compelling him to aid in supporting their mother, Mrs. Anna McMillan, 64.

The son declared that at the age of 7 he was thrown out upon the world to make his own way, and that as Mrs. Rheolora Birk had given him a home and a mother's care until he married, he felt he owed his mother nothing.

During one period of twenty-one years, McMillan lived here, but did not visit his mother. Questioned by the court on this point, McMillan said: "Well, I just drifted away. I always thought of Mrs. Birk as my mother, I guess."

Judge Julian Sharpnack took final decision in the case under advisement, but ordered McMillan to pay $1 weekly toward supporting his mother until further notice.
