

PARENTS CLING TO HOPES FOR VANISHED GIRL

Search Continued, Without Single Clue to Fate Being Found.

By United Press
NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Jan. 24.—A blind hope that their daughter Frances disappeared from Smith College because she sought privacy and quiet kept up the falling spirits of Mr. and Mrs. St. John Smith today.

The girl has been missing eleven days without leaving a trace. Searches have extended over every section of the East. A reward of $10,000 has been offered. The family and Governor Al Smith have broadcast letters to the girl.

"I have only a desperate hope that she is safe somewhere and will let us know," the father said today.

The parents came to Northampton shortly after the girl's disappearance was made known. They have helped direct State police in the search.

Both have held up well under the strain.

Smith, a well-known New York broker, scouted reports from Washington that his daughter had been seen there and identified because of initials on her baggage.

"I know that Frances had no intention of leaving," the father said.

The increased force of State police, brought here shortly after the girl's disappearance was made known, probably will be diminished somewhat, immediately.

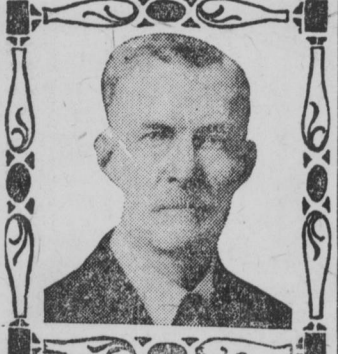

A 20-mile area about the school has been searched by State police and there was little indication that further searches in this territory would be of avail.

Extend Hunt to Chicago
By United Press
CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Chicago police searched apartments and rooming houses on the south side today seeking trace of Miss Frances St. John Smith, missing Smith College student.

Inspector Leahy of the New York police notified Chicago police last night that the missing girl might be found "with a woman in apartment 15 and 16 at 115 W. Eighteenth St."

Only a vacant lot was found at that address, but the search continued.

SAYS THE ACTION OF THIS KONJOLA WAS SURPRISING

MR. H. HOCKERSMITH

A few days ago with The Konjola Man at Hook's Drug Store, Illinois and Washington Sts., where crowds are calling daily to find out for themselves about this surprising new Konjola compound.

"The action of Konjola was surprising in my case," continued Mr. Hockersmith, "because it cleansed my whole system and built me up so many ways that I am feeling better than I have for the past five or six years."

"My main trouble had been constipation, from which I suffered for twenty years, and I am stating the facts when I tell you that Konjola proved to be just what I had needed to banish the poisons which caused my whole system to be upset for years."

"My stomach was also giving me a lot of trouble, and I could hardly find a thing to eat which would agree with me. My food would sour, ferment and bloat me so that I felt stuffed up and sometimes had a hot, feverish sensation from my throat to the pit of my stomach. Frequent headaches and bilious attacks would overcome me, and besides, I very seldom got a decent night's rest. In the mornings I would get up feeling like I was all beaten down. Finally, all these miseries sapped my strength so that my health was a complete wreck."

"As soon as I found out that this Konjola was made up of juices from plants, such as roots, herbs, etc., I decided to try it, and now that I have taken a course of this medicine I can say with confidence that my constipation is ended, my stomach is again working in the best condition and I am feeling better in every way. Yes, the action of Konjola certainly surprised me, as I didn't expect such quick relief from all my health troubles and I am glad to in-dorse this medicine to the public."

The Konjola Man is at the Hook Drug Store, Illinois and Washington Sts., Indianapolis, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Konjola is sold by every Hook store in this city and by all druggists throughout this section.—Advertisement.

FAMILY LIFE IS A RIOT IN 'TOMMY'

William Janney Will Bring Back to Many People a Fine Memory of the Beloved Gregory Kelly as He Was Known on the Stage.

BY WALTER D. HICKMAN
"Tommy" is filled with as many theatrical tricks, quarrels and yells as a leopard has spots.

But "Tommy" is fine fun in the theater. It brings one back to the days when the theater was theater because it was theater. There is no pretense to this little play, maybe a sort of a twin to "Kempy," and the other monkey wrench yells of stage, but it is fun and even truth that you and all of us will recognize because it is our language.

It is the language of everyday tragedy done in the tempo of a laugh. This little yarn of a play really holds up the mirror to married life. All overdrawn, but the truth is there reflected in the mirror of theatrical fun. The proof of the dish was demonstrated last night when the play and the cast obtained one laugh after another. I became so wild with the fun that I found myself yelling and slapping my own knee, my right one.

It is plays like "Tommy" that bring us back to the Main Street theater. Here is universal fun because life is just Main Street, whether you ride in the highest priced auto or use a bus. Main Street is just around the corner.

Here is a sweet play done in all the bitter intensity of the theater. Here is just a family group—the Thurburs, with Mrs. Thurbur's brother, David Tuttle, living under the same roof.

"Uncle" Dave is a politician who might be versed in a certain political system that may exist in Siam or some other place outside of the United States of America. Anyway the audience yelled and applauded when Uncle Dave showed his fine hand in selling the Thurbur land for public improvement.

But Uncle Dave was equally successful in straightening out the tangled front room and front porch love affairs of Marie Thurbur. The way he does it is a scream.

"That is enough of the story of 'Tommy,'" Tommy's rival is Bernard, a nice boy who made an enemy of Uncle Dave when Bernard did not understand Lincoln—then the affair became a private matter. (Have told you enough of the story to make you want to see it.)

I am sure that you will find in the Tommy of William Janney a beautiful memory of Gregory Kelly in "Seventeen." And that I am sure is enough to compensate anyone in seeing "Tommy." Janney is a lad who yields naturally and intelligently to the demands of the theater. Here is real freshness in acting. Splendid.

And Sidney Toler as David Tuttle knows he has won lines and he delivers them in the best theatrical style. You will enjoy the sweetness of Regina Brown as Marie Thurbur. And you will pass out with the Dr. Thurbur of Lloyd Neal. Here is a high degree theater, but what theater on the part of Neal.

The cast is as follows:
Marie Thurbur Regina Brown
Bernard Alan Buncie
Mrs. Thurbur Florence Walcott
David Tuttle Mabel Turner
David Tuttle Lloyd Neal
Tommy Miller Sidney Toler
Judge Wilson William Janney
Ben Johnson Ben Johnson

You will love "Tommy" and you will love the cast.

LENDEL TRIAL BOON TO TOWN

Ohio City Dresses Up for Murder Drama.

By United Press
LISBON, Ohio, Jan. 24.—This Columbus County town next month will furnish the background on which will be painted the last scene of the now famous Don R. Mellett murder case.

Scorned by her sister cities of East Liverpool and Wellsville, because of her old fashioned serenity and failure to keep pace with the times, Lisbon soon may attract national attention as prosecutors and defense lawyers fight over the guilt or innocence of former Police Chief Seranus A. Lengel of Canton as one of the murderers of the former Canton editor.

Now, after many years of this quiet and nonchalant, Lisbon is dusting the doorknobs and putting out the welcome sign.

Decision to hold the new Lengel trial here came when Common Pleas Judge Edwin W. Diehl of Canton allowed the former police chief's motion for a change of venue after the Ohio Supreme Court granted him a new trial by overruling the conviction of the Stark County Common Pleas Court.

Judge Frank L. Jones, Wellsville, is expected to preside. The case will be prosecuted by Henry W. Harter, Stark County prosecuting attorney.

ASSERTS SHAKESPEARE NEVER SAW A HEBREW
Terre Haute Rabbi Criticizes Portrayal of Shylock Character.

By Times Special
TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 24.—William Shakespeare never saw a Jew in his life, and for that reason was not qualified to portray the character of Shylock in "The Merchant of Venice," Rabbi J. Marshall Taxay declared in an address at Temple Israel here.

There were no Jews in Great Britain until half a century after Shakespeare died, the rabbi asserted, concluding with this statement:

"Having no facts before him, the poet was free to revel in the slanders and prejudices of the age. How easy it is to traduce and defame people one has never met."

HOOSIER WILL LECTURE

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Jan. 24.—George W. Purcell, local newspaper editor, is one of fifteen speakers scheduled to address the Medill School of Journalism, Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., in a course on modern practice and problems of the small city daily.

Lectures will begin Feb. 13, and continue through the second semester. Purcell's subject will be "Making a Newspaper Pay and Cost Accounting."

Woman Talks; Man Pays
By Times Special
TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 24.—Orville Mattox was assessed a fine of $25 and costs in Vigo Circuit Court for "beating up" Sarah Hollingsworth. He said she had gossiped about him.

It is so fast that it is nearly impossible to distinguish the words of the songs. The redeeming feature to it is the action is swift and that is something.

Gladys Clarke is nearly the whole show. She is a very versatile young woman playing musical instruments, singing and many other things. She instills some art by doing a classical dance and having the chorus in some poses that border on the classical.

This show is run somewhat differently than most of its ilk, having all the leads, that is the women, on the stage at the same time. Not just once, but in nearly every ensemble do they lead the chorus.

Fred Bender is chief among the comedians and although he gets into the risqué more than once, the show is clean. At least when I saw it.

This is good burlesque. At the Mutual. (By the observer.)

Other theaters today offer: Mae Murray at the Indiana; "Grandma's Boy" at the Apollo; "Seventh Heaven" at the Circle, and "Sharp Shooters" at the Ohio.

LOOKING OVER FAST BURLESQUE
"The Girls From the Pollies" is billed as the fastest burlesque show on the circuit. I believe it. In fact:

The new furnaces and installations will last longer and produce more heat with the lowest coal consumption. They are far superior than the heating plants of a few years back.

Perhaps your furnace only requires a few minor changes, which will more than pay for themselves with added comfort, a better heated home and the saving in coal.

Only a Few Changes May Be Needed
We will gladly tell you what is needed to modernize your present furnace. Just call one of our heating experts; there will be no obligation on your part should you not have the necessary work done.

HUGHES VOICES HARMONY PLEA

Friendship Is Keynote of Havana Parley Speech.

BY LOUIS JAY HEATH
United Press Staff Correspondent
HAVANA, Jan. 24.—Two views of strengthening the friendship and national cooperation of the Americas were before the sixth Pan-American conference today.

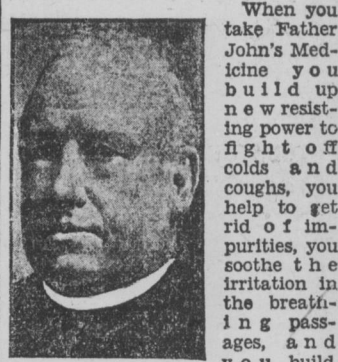

Both were presented at a meeting of the committee, on Pan-American Union affairs.

On one side was Charles Evans Hughes, pleading for a community of interests to bring about betterment of conditions. On the other was Dr. Honorio Pueyrredon, Argentine ambassador, asking a reduction of trade barriers and customs duties among the nations.

Hughes' speech was directed toward the Mexican proposal for revision of the Pan-American Union. He opposed a change in the composition of the governing board; stressed necessity of a permanent director general, and disclaimed knowledge of the presidency of the union having any special advantage.

The Roman emperor Claudius wrote a book on dice playing.
