

FAIL TO BREAK SCHOOL STRIKE IN IRVINGTON

Board Refuses Demands of Parents; Attendance Law Enforcement Hinted.

Strike of fifty-six pupils of School 57 as a protest over transfer to School 85 remained unbroken today, despite threats of school board members to enforce attendance laws. Threats were made today by several parents to move to other school districts. Several others planned to enter their children in the Catholic school, two blocks west of School 57. Practically all the striking children remained out of school today.

A committee of five, representing parents of the striking pupils, protested recent boundary changes, causing pupils living north of Washington St. and east of Arlington Ave. to be transferred to School 85, at the school board meeting Tuesday night.

Refuse to Alter Boundary

The board refused to alter its boundary lines announced several days ago. A delegation of more than 100 Irvingtonites living south of Washington St. was present to protest any change in the present boundaries.

The strike was started Monday when the new boundary lines became effective.

Objections presented to the board's ruling, voiced by Orville E. Crawford, spokesman, were principally the additional hazards imposed on children forced to cross Washington St. and also the unguarded Arlington Ave. Pennsylvania railroad crossing.

Promises of police and school police protection at crossings were given by the board.

Purchase of seven and one-half acres of ground south of Broad Ripple High School to allow for expansion, urged by a delegation from the north side, was taken under advisement two weeks.

Delay Architect Selection

The board authorized by resolution a temporary loan of $550,000 to meet current operating expenses, $375,000 to be borrowed from the Shortridge building bond fund and $175,000 from the Arsenal Technical building bond fund.

Selection of architects for four grade school buildings was delayed until a special meeting.

Resolutions to name two Indianapolis schools after Joseph J. Bingham, former board member from 1871 to 1887, and George B. Loomis, first musical director, appointed in 1886, were taken under advisement.

WILD WEST TOUR LANDS 3 IN JAIL

Police held three men today, one in city hospital, badly beaten, following a kidnapping attempt in which there was much miscellaneous shooting. The row is said to have originated over liquor.

Those held are Leo Snider, Arthur Dampier, 25, of 647 Buchanan St., and George Fluder, 29, of 755 E. McCarthy St.

The three, police charged, drove to the home of Mrs. Ora Troutman and dragged William Stewart from his bed, beat him, pulled out a handful of "air" and accused him of stealing a "load of whiskey."

A shot they fired at Stewart narrowly missed Mrs. Troutman in another room.

They dragged Stewart in his underclothes to the machine and took him to the home of Carl King, 37 S. Gray St., where they kicked in the door, but found King not at home. Enraged, they shot up the house, endangering Mrs. King and Mrs. J. R. Kram, who also lived there. Two of the bullets crashed through windows of neighboring homes.

In the meantime, Stewart escaped from the machine and called police. Later at the E. Pratt St. house, Motorpolice Viles and De Barr saw Snider and Dampier pass in their machine and gave chase. After a running gun battle, in which a number of shots were exchanged, police hooked the bumper of their car into that of the pursuers and forced them to a stop at Park Ave. and Twentieth St.

Snider and Dampier were charged with assault and battery with felonious intent, kidnapping, burglary, resisting an officer and drawing and carrying concealed weapons. Fluder, arrested at his home today, and identified, police said, as one of the men who kidnapped Stewart, was charged with vagrancy.

DRY SHAKEUP PUT IN EFFECT BY U. S. CHIEFS

Seven Districts Re-Divided; Many Shifts Are Made in Machines.

By JOSEPH S. WASNEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—A general shake-up in the Government's field prohibition forces proceeded in the Middle West and South today as orders from Assistant Secretary of Treasury Lowman to redivide seven dry districts went into effect.

Agents and investigators were being transferred from one territory to another; several administrators' territories were enlarged or reduced; and other officials did not know just how long they were to remain in the service.

Indiana and Ohio were grouped as District No. 12 under W. H. Walker, acting administrator, with headquarters at Columbus, Ohio. Indiana previously had been grouped with Illinois and eastern Wisconsin, while Ohio was a separate district.

Work Permanent Chief

Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska were designated as District 15, under George H. Wark, permanent administrator with headquarters at Topeka, Kan.

Texas was made a separate district under Charles E. Warkmen, acting administrator with headquarters at Ft. Worth. Oklahoma previously had been grouped with Texas.

Iowa, Illinois and eastern Wisconsin—District 13—were placed under Acting Administrator E. C. Yellow to at Chicago. Iowa heretofore was grouped with South Dakota and Nebraska.

North and South Dakota Minnesota and western Wisconsin were grouped as District 14 with headquarters at St. Paul, Minn., under S. B. Guale as acting administrator. South Dakota formerly was in District 15.

Missouri and Arkansas were designated as District 16, under S. S. Haley as acting administrator with headquarters at St. Louis. Missouri was formerly grouped with Kansas while Arkansas was under the New Orleans administrator.

Many Changes Predicted

Northwest Florida was grouped with Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi, under O. D. Jackson as acting administrator at New Orleans. Prohibition Commissioner Doran, who announced the changes, said all administrators, with the exception of Wark, were acting until permanent appointments were made under civil service.

He indicated several administrators would be dismissed, and there would be a large number of changes in assistants and deputies.

The changes today, he said, were made so States with similar problems would be grouped together.

BRITISH HERO LIES IN STATE

Services for Earl Haig to Be Next Week.

By United Press

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Soldiers and ex-soldiers, in and out of uniform and of all social classes, predominated today among thousands of people who filed slowly past the flag-draped bier of Field Marshal Earl Haig, wartime commander-in-chief of the British army in France, as it lay in state in St. Columba's Church.

Diplomats and army and navy officers were interspersed among the ordinary members of the crowd.

Various crack regiments of the army furnished guards of honor. Individual guards were relieved at twenty-minute intervals, and every two hours a new regiment furnished the guard.

The body was to remain lying in state at St. Columba's Thursday.

The burial will be at Barmersyde, Scotland, Tuesday instead of Friday as had been announced.

Funeral services for the noted soldier will be at Westminster.

Thought Asthma Would Smother Her

Sleeps All Night Now. Bronchial Trouble Is Gone.

How to get rid of asthma and severe bronchial coughs is convincingly told in a letter by Mrs. E. J. Bain, 1902 W. Vermont St., Indianapolis, Ind. She says:

"I had bronchial asthma severely and was so weak and nervous. It just seemed I would drop at every step. I couldn't sleep at night, and had to sit in a chair to breathe. When I would lie down it seemed I would smother to death. Since taking Nacor, every symptom of asthma has left me, and I did not have a bad cold or cough all winter. I can walk well, weigh 150 pounds, sleep well at night and am stronger than I have been for years."

Hundreds of other sufferers from asthma, bronchitis and chronic coughs have reported their recovery, after years of affliction. Their letters and a booklet of valuable information about these stubborn diseases will be sent free by Nacor Medicine Co., 413 State Life Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind. No matter how serious your case seems, call or write for this free booklet. It may give your whole life a new meaning.—Advertisement.

AYRES SPEEDS PREPARATIONS FOR BUILDING

$1,500,000 Addition to Be Eight Stories or More in Height.

Plans for a $1,500,000 addition to L. S. Ayres & Co.'s downtown department store were taking definite shape today, on the heels of a $1,500,000 increase in capital stock to finance the new structure.

The new building, eight or more stories in height, will front on Meridian St., frontage of 107 feet and depth of 120 feet.

Three buildings will be razed to make way for the addition: The old Chamber of Commerce eight story building, with a frontage of 45.5 feet, owned outright by L. S. Ayres & Co.; and two buildings on sites next to the south of the Chamber of Commerce building.

Ninety-nine-year leases were acquired on these structures several years ago, from the owners, Henry Fromeyer, the Severin estate, and Almus Ruddle.

They are occupied at present by Ayres' Men's and Boys' clothing department, Ayres Luggage Shop, and the George J. Mayer Co., at 36 S. Meridian St.

Tenants have been promised thirty-day notice when the Ayres company is ready to start construction. Conferences are scheduled with architects this week, and with financing completed, the company is expected to begin work on the new site at an early date.

Good Business

The chief interest in railway rates manifested by a good many shippers and receivers of freight is that of having rates on their shipments made and kept as low as possible. Is that good business?

Every man who understands and appreciates business principles realizes that those with whom he deals must make a fair profit in order to give him the right kind of goods or service. He could not afford to place orders with them if he had reason to believe that their prices were impossibly low. Such logic is self-protection. The concern that is markedly out of line on the side of cheapness either will not remain long in business or will be forced to skimp on quality or service in order to "get by."

So it is with the railroads. Furthermore, the service they sell is so intimately connected with the success of every other business that the price of it is relatively much less important to the buyer than is the character of the service. If railway service were non-existent or scarce, it would be cheap at any price.

Fortunately, however, railway service is plentiful, it is good and it is so efficiently produced in volume that it can be and is sold at incredibly low rates. Where else in the world can a ton of freight be moved as expeditiously, as safely, as reliably, and as conveniently for a small fraction more than one cent a mile? Yet that is the average American freight rate, which means that many shipments are moved even more cheaply than that.
