Back Catering to Motorists After Release on Larceny Charge.

Roscoe F. Rhodes, 1237 Central Ave., heir to $23,000 four years ago, but now a $100-a-month filling station attendant, was back at work filling gasoline tanks today, following his discharge on grand larceny charges by Municipal Judge Paul C. Wetter, Tuesday.

MINING TOWN GUARDED AFTER DOUBLE KILLING

Pittston, (Pa.) Streets Patrolled by State Police; Union Row Blamed.

By United Press

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 29.—State police today patrolled the streets of Pittston, Pa., after a fresh outbreak of the insurgent mine union difficulties which last night resulted in a double killing.

Alex Campbell, 45, and Peter Reilly, 25, were killed from ambush. They were the third and fourth men to be killed since the insurgent difficulties started several months ago.

No trace of the killers were found, although a motor car—in which the ambushing gunmen were believed to have escaped—was found on the outskirts of Wilkesbarre.

Campbell was one of the leaders of the group of insurgents who several months ago overthrew the coal mine organization of the No. 6 colliery at the Pennsylvania Coal Company at Pittston.

Returning From Conference

He had been warned since that he was to be killed.

The first insurgent uprising was ruled out by the United Mine Workers of America. A second election was held and the insurgent slate was installed.

Then Thomas Lillis, an insurgent and friend of Campbell, was killed. Gunmen attempted to ambush Big Sam Greco, another insurgent.

Frank Agaty was killed and three members of the insurgent group were arrested for the murder. It was from a conference with these three insurgents that Campbell and Reilly were returning when they were killed.

No Trace of Gunmen

They were walking along a road when suddenly a number of shots were heard. They came with such rapidity that many persons thought a machine gun had been used. Campbell and Reilly fell and were dead when passersby arrived.

There was no trace of the gunmen. Witnesses to the shooting refused to comment on the actual occurrences and then it was decided that State police should be called to prevent any more bloodshed or attempted reprisals.

Pittston was reported to be terror-stricken as result of this new outbreak.

The resolution follows: "We are Christian women and members of an organization believing in law enforcement and we feel that it is a mark on the honor of the State of Indiana to have had an official involved in such disgrace.

"Although Governor Jackson was not proved guilty by the courts, we, as Hoosiers and Indians, believe he has been convicted at the bar of public opinion, and request his resignation."

FLOOD CONTROL BILL IS AGREED ON IN SENATE

Measure Providing Total of $325,000,000 Will Be Introduced Today.

By United Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—A compromise flood control bill, providing $325,000,000, was agreed upon by the Senate commerce committee today.

Chairman Jones announced the measure would provide that the Federal Government assume all costs of control work, except upon a few rights of way.

He said the contents of the bill would not be announced officially until he could introduce it in the Senate later in the day.

A final report on the measure will be voted by the committee tomorrow, Jones said. The agreement, however, encompasses all points of difference and there is no possibility it will be changed further.

The compromise bill is understood to authorize appointment of a supervising board consisting of the Army chief of engineers, president of the Mississippi River commission and a civil engineer, to be appointed by the committee.

This board is granted authority to change details of the project any time during the work of construction. Specifications are:

1. Rights of way be furnished the Federal Government without cost.
2. That communities furnish one-third of levee construction work wherever necessary to bring levees to the 1914 commission grade.
3. That drainage works be provided without cost to the Federal Government.
4. That the communities maintain all flood control works after their completion except controlling spillway structures.
