

Tribesmen Open 'Home' Season at Plant City Against Baltimore Nine

Hoosiers Tangle With Orioles in Second Struggle of Week.

BULLETIN
PLANT CITY, Fla., March 13.—Catcher Paul Florence, lone holdout of the 1928 Indians, joined the club in spring training camp today. He did not participate in the morning workout and was to confer with Manager Betzel and Secretary Clauer over salary terms later in the day.

However, the fact Florence reported here indicates he will sign up because he had been advised to remain away if he persisted in prolonging the contract controversy.

BY EDDIE ASH
Times Sports Editor
PLANT CITY, Fla., March 13.—The Indians of Bruno Betzel were to open their Florida "home" season today in a second struggle with the Baltimore Orioles when they tied in a nine-inning fray at Auburndale Monday, 1 to 1. The fracas was called by agreement when no decision was reached at the end of the regulation distance.

Plant City boosters planned much merriment this afternoon out at Adelphi Field and all diamond fans in the immediate vicinity were being coaxed to be on hand to give the Hoosiers a send-off in their first game appearance on the local lot.

Manager Betzel planned to use Sweeton and Yde on the firing line with Spencer and Riddle sharing the catching.

In the opinion of Betzel and Coach Corbiden the pitching of Danny Boone was the high spot of Monday's fracas at Auburndale. He operated five innings, allowed only three hits and struck out four Orioles. He was scored against in the third stanza on a base on balls and two singles after two out, but the encouraging part of his performance was the good curve ball he uncorked. His stock is soaring in the eyes of the bosses.

Herman Meyers southpaw, hurled the last four innings for the Indians, Monday, and he, too, went a-flying by not permitting even one hit and knocking off three batsmen on strikes. He's rather frail for nine innings of ball in Class AA, but he's young and has plenty of time to pick up some needed poundage.

The Indians lone run Monday developed from a hit batsman. Reb Russell was the victim and he got plunked on the back in the fourth inning after one out. He advanced on a hit and scored on Betzel's single.

A light shower fell in nearly every inning Monday and the athletes missed the customary sunshine. Only about one hundred fans were on hand and nobody objected when the game was terminated with the score knotted at the end of the ninth.

But despite the weather handicap it was one of the best and fastest contests staged in Florida by any two teams this month. The Tribesmen outbatted the International Leaguers, six to three, Betzel getting two of the Tribe safeties. There was no extra base swatting by either club.

Starting Monday the Indians will be kept active during their remaining days in Florida. They have eleven more games before heading north, March 31.

The advertised punch in the Tribe outfield failed to develop Monday. Reb Russell was the only fly chaser of five used to get one safe. It was his birthday. His thirty-ninth, he says.

Manager Dunn of Baltimore used three fingers, Henderson, Bolen and Allen, and it was Bolen, the southpaw, who steamed one into Reb's back.

Mueller, Connolly and Meyers contributed fielding features for the Indians, and Lamotte, Arch-deacon and Porter for the Orioles.

Lamotte knocked down a high line drive on Connolly in the eighth that probably prevented the Indians from untying the tie.

Both Spencer and Riddle worked in style behind the plate.

A Baltimore double play cut the Tribesmen down in the first inning.

Leo Dixon, former Tribe catcher, now with Baltimore, had a peculiar record at the plate. He walked twice and fanned twice.

Fred Haney practiced at third before Monday's game. He won't need much exercise to round into form.

Outfielder Wid Matthews reported at camp Monday night. Thirty players are here now and Indianapolis' representation in Plant City now numbers thirty-eight.

The Indians finished Monday's game with a kid battery, Meyers and Riddle. They worked together on the Sanford (Fla.) team last year.

Correll Graduates at End of First Semester; Many Stars Face Two More Years of Action.

By Times Special
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., March 13.—Not a member of this year's championship Indiana University basketball team will be missing next season when Coach Everett Dean again issues his call for courtmen. Capt. Robert Correll, of Bloomington, will be lost in February as a result of graduation at the end of the first semester. Except for this every regular will be available.

Dale Wells, La Porte, will be the only regular who will be a senior next season. Starr, Anderson, and Leonard, Rochester, reserves who heaped make the squad of ten men, will be playing their final year.

Scheid, Vincennes; Gill, Washington; Strickland, Owensville; McCracken, Monrovia; Cooper, North Vernon; and Benzell, Bedford, experienced their first Big Ten campaign, and have two more years of conference competition.

By winning ten and losing two games, this year's quintet established a record no other Crimson team has reached. Not only did the courtmen do this, but they led the Big Ten in team scoring with a total of 474 points.

With a new field house completed on Oct. 1, Indiana will present plenty of space for basketball lovers next year. The new structure will seat 15,000.

Hall, Williams Fight to Draw More Drop Out of Pyle's Race

By United Press
OATMAN, Ariz., March 13.—Desolate country was to be covered by the remaining marathon runners in C. C. Pyle's cross-continental "Bunion Derby" today. The athletes were to go from here to Kingman, Ariz., a distance of twenty-nine miles, today.

Arthur Newton, veteran Rhodesia racer, led the field here Monday from Needles to further increase his time lead. The uphill grind from the Colorado River boundary, between Arizona and California, forced several runners from the field.

The race now is proving a survival of the fittest contest with the weak dropping by the wayside and being picked up by the ambulance squad.
