3 Generations Have Taken It

Cardui Benefited Tennessee Lady Who Tells How Mother Gave It To Her and How She Gave It To Her Daughters.

"I have been familiar with the benefits of Cardui ever since I was a girl," says Mrs. John Brown, R. F. D. 9, Cleveland, Tenn. "I first took it when I was in my teens, as my mother took it before me. It was from her that I first learned of this splendid medicine.

"When I was entering womanhood she gave me several bottles of Cardui, and I remembered that it helped me a lot. At that time I suffered often with a bad pain in my back and sides.

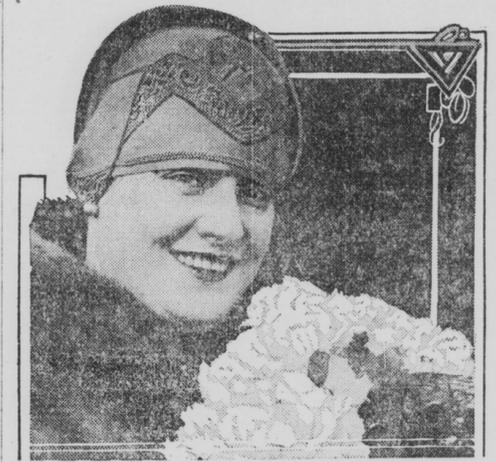

"After I was married I suffered from weakness, so I asked my husband to get me some Cardui to take, which he did, and I was soon feeling much better.

"I have been married thirty-five years, and during that time I have had occasion to take Cardui several times, and every time it has been of great benefit to me. I can heartily endorse it, for I know what a splendid medicine it is. I have given it to my daughters as they grew up.

"I have taken Cardui during the change of life. I was very nervous. That was my worst symptom, nervousness and sleeplessness. Cardui seemed to overcome these troubles, and with its aid I passed safely through that trying period."

CARDUI USED BY WOMEN FOR OVER 50 YEARS. Cardui, for hygienic reasons, should be used by women as a mild, harmless detergent; 50 cts.

NORA BAYES, STAR OF STAGE, IS DEAD

Nora Bayes

NEW YORK, March 19.—Nora Bayes, stage star for more than twenty years, died here today in the Jewish Hospital, after an abdominal operation performed last Monday.

Born in Milwaukee in 1860, Miss Bayes made her first stage appearance as a vaudeville actress in 1892. After a time on the variety stage, she joined the Fisher stock company of San Francisco.

She was instrumental in creating the first edition of the "Ziegfeld Follies" in 1907.

Fifth Husband Survives Her

Miss Bayes is survived by her fifth husband, Benjamin L. Friedman, to whom she was married in March, 1925, on board the Leviathan, and three adopted children, Norman, 9; Lenora, 7, and Peter, 6.

Her first husband was Otto Crossing, Chicago business man. Her second was Jack Norworth, actor; the third Harry Clarke, once her dancing partner, and her fourth was Oscar Gordon, actor.

Her most recent success outside of vaudeville was her appearance in "Snapshots of 1921," produced by the Selwyns.

Miss Bayes had been ill for the last two years, but had continued her stage activities till the day before she was taken to the hospital.

Given to Temperament

Generous when she felt she was appreciated, Miss Bayes was given to temperamental displays if the management did not suit her.

Only a few years ago she refused to appear on the same bill with Sophie Tucker unless given a preferred place on the program. The next week she was giving her services to several benefit performances in behalf of crippled children.

Her last appearance on the stage was at a benefit play for the Doyers street mission—an appearance which had been preceded a few days by another benefit performance for children.

Robust, rather stout, and full of laughter, Miss Bayes was popular with vaudeville audiences throughout the world.

Though best known for her work in revues and vaudeville sketches, she also appeared in many full-length productions, including "Little Women."

DISTURBING NIGHT COUGH QUICKLY STOPPED

"A distressing cough and irritated throat kept me miserably awake at night and prevented others from sleeping. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound quickly comforted and relieved me. Helped my neighbors over 'flu' coughs, too. Feel I must tell you about it," says H. C. P., Sailors Snug Harbor, N. Y. Wonderfully soothing and healing. Take Care of Your Kidneys

Colds and Chills Throw Heavy Burdens on the Kidneys.

ARE you getting over a cold or grip only to find yourself always lame and stiff—tired and achy? Are you bothered with nagging backache, drowsy headaches and dizziness? Are the kidney eliminations irregular or painful? Then you should give some thought to your kidneys.

Colds and chills increase the poisons in the blood and bring extra work to the kidneys. When the kidneys act sluggishly waste impurities remain in the blood and cause many unpleasant symptoms.

Following winter's colds many users rely on Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's increase the activity of the kidneys and thus aid in the elimination of waste impurities. Since 1885 they have been winning new friends the country over. Ask Your neighbor!

$108 SENT BY ROOSEVELT TO BORAH'S FUND

Other Contributions Raise Total: Asks Cash to Repay Sinclair.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, former secretary of Navy and son of the late President Roosevelt, today contributed $108 to the fund Senator Borah is raising to repay the $160,000 Republican party campaign contribution made by Harry Sinclair, indicted oil man.

Borah announced $300 had been received in the morning mail, swelling the total amount of cash on hand to about $1,901.

The Senator declined to name any of the other contributors, who sent amounts from $1 to $10.

The Republican party must make plain by forceful action that "it indignantly repudiates the men who participated in the rape of the Government oil lands," Senator Arthur Capper, Republican, Kansas, said today in a statement.

"The smudge of oil being smeared blackly across the pages of history is repulsive to the citizens of the entire country," Capper said. "The trail is slimy, odorous, reeking with corruption."

The Kansas Senator suggested laws "with teeth in them" to limit campaign expenditures, and to require that the real source of every contribution be a matter of public record.

Capper did not mention Borah's campaign to raise $160,000 to repay Sinclair.

SCALPERS ARE FREED

2 Cage Ticket Speculators' Fines Suspended.

Frank Stafford, Otterbein high school coach, and Marion Owens of Bedford, Ind., were fined $25 and costs and sentence suspended when arraigned before Municipal Judge Paul C. Wetter today on ticket scalping charges. They and five others were arrested Saturday.

Jack Hill, 16, and Norbert Zann, 18, of Lafayette, were let off with a reprimand and judgment withheld. In all cases the judge pointed out that he did not consider any of the offenders "professional scalpers."

Principal Alfred Seales of Bloomington Junior high school, Homer Lux, 17, and Maurice Clay, 16, of Waldron, were to be arraigned later. Stafford said someone grabbed his ticket and gave him $5. Seales is charged with buying a ticket from Lux and was booked on a vagrancy charge.

GEORGE LOOMS AS CONTENDER AT CONVENTION

Georgia Senator Claims 100 Democratic Votes Lined Up.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Friends of Senator Walter F. George, the Georgia "favorite son" claimed today that he would go into the Houston Democratic convention with more than 100 votes.

They contend he has developed in the last few days from a hopeless candidate of his States' delegation to an important candidate of the entire South—like Senator Underwood of Alabama was in 1912.

They count 28 votes in Georgia, 24 in Alabama, 24 in North Carolina, and 18 in South Carolina for a basic total of 94. Then they say they expect George delegates to be selected among the 75 in Florida, 25 in Kentucky, 20 in Oklahoma, 24 in Tennessee and 16 in West Virginia.

Their figures, of course, are discounted by friends of Governor Al Smith and others, but the claims reveal a change of strategy on the part of at least a section of the South. The old plan of the southern Smith opposition was to select favorite son delegations in every State with Senator James A. Reed of Missouri as an open or an unnamed second choice.

The claims also mean that while George's chances of the nomination may be remote, his bloc of Southern delegates is growing to such an extent that it will prove to be an unexpected influential power at Houston.

The manner in which George last week secured the Georgia delegation in his pocket is proof that his movement—taken too seriously at first—now is getting down to business.

For the first time in years, Georgia leaders encouraged him to "hand pick" a delegation which would prevent any men who favored Reed or Smith as second choices from getting into the convention.

It is opposed strongly to Smith and not favorable to Reed, so his votes can be expected to be of little help to the two major candidates of the party.

He emphasized the Holy See was adhering strictly to the time-honored policy of not meddling in the political struggles of other countries. He said the Vatican would be just as pleased with the election of a Catholic or a Protestant.

Cardinal Mundelein said it was felt the Catholic Church would enjoy the same freedom of religion under a Protestant as under a Catholic President.

He concluded that if some few people had the opinion that the candidacy of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York really was the Vatican's candidacy, then such an opinion was wholly wrong and groundless.

Twenty Birds Die in Fire

WABASH, Ind., March 19.—Fire which caused $1,500 damage to the Tremont Hotel cost the lives of twenty canary birds, owned by the hotel proprietor and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Despard.

One of Crawfordsville Fugitive Quartet Gives Up.

Leslie Johnson, 19, one of a quartet to break jail at Crawfordsville Saturday night and who gave himself up to police at his home, 115 E. Walnut St., Sunday morning was back in the Crawfordsville jail today awaiting a trip to the State Reformatory at Pendleton, where he has been sentenced to serve five to twenty-one years.

Warren H. Spomer, 25, another of the four who escaped was also back in jail, having been captured near Crawfordsville. John M. Watson, 47, an ex-convict, whom Johnson says engineered the escape, has not been returned, although Crawfordsville police allege they had information he had been captured "somewhere in Illinois."

The fourth member of the quartet was Fayette Hiner, 24, 2714 Burton Ave., who was sentenced with Johnson for robbing a Crawfordsville filling station. He still is at large.

Brave Boy Loses Plucky 2-Year Tilt With Death

Cheerful, Hopeful to Last: His Money Couldn't Mend Shattered Spine.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 19.—The two-year fight that Roddy P. Marshall, Jr., 18, put up for his own life—a fight against overwhelming odds—has ended.

The youth, confined to a wheel chair since his spinal column was shattered in July, 1925, died last night. He had been cheerful and hopeful of recovery until the last minute.

It was at Naragansett, R. I., that the youth's fight started. He was diving with friends when he struck the post of one of the piers, fracturing his spinal column.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roddy P. Marshall, wealthy Pittsburgh residents, were in Europe. They were notified and immediately made the fastest trip possible to their son in the United States. The event brought national recognition to young Marshall's case, as the parents' dash home was called a race with death.

But young Roddy clung on to life. He grinned at his misfortune. He was an admirer of Babe Ruth. The home-run hitter, upon hearing the youth was pleased. He was an admirer of several screws and stage actresses. They visited him and he was pleased.

In fact, he was pleased at every attention shown him—and there were many—and continued to show improvement even though he never recovered use of his legs.

Then Sunday he became worse and his grim fight ended in death last night.

POPE NOT IN POLITICS

Cardinal Mundelein Ends Visit to Rome.

ROME, March 19.—Before leaving for Cherbourg to sail for the United States, Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago told reporters that the forthcoming presidential election in the United States had been wholly alien to his conversations with Pope Pius, Cardinal Gasparri and other leaders of the Roman Catholic Church.

He emphasized the Holy See was adhering strictly to the time-honored policy of not meddling in the political struggles of other countries. He said the Vatican would be just as pleased with the election of a Catholic or a Protestant.

NEEDY MINERS UPHOLD LEWIS

Bicknell Workers Vote Support to Union Chief.

MINERS in the coal fields around this city, suffering privations due to lack of employment, remain loyal to John L. Lewis, president, and other officials of the United Mine Workers of America.

The officials have been under fire by the National "Save-the-Union" committee in which John Brophy, former head of the miners union in Pennsylvania, is active.

At a mass meeting here, the miners adopted resolutions which read in part:

"We are asking all mine workers to refrain from having anything to do with the new organization, as we feel that such propaganda as that being circulated by Brophy and his gang is only playing into the hands of those who would like to see the destruction of our organization."

The operators on the other hand, have indicated through John H. Jones, president of the Bertha Consumers Coal Company of Pittsburgh, who has had fifty years experience as a miner and operator, that the mine workers must agree to the principle of compulsory arbitration.

Lewis told Senators that he is willing to have that question considered at a future conference between operators, miners and the public, "for proper examination and discussion."

PEACE IN COAL AREA SEEN BY SENATE PROBE

Favor Shown for Gooding Proposal of Federal Commission.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Senator Frank R. Gooding of Idaho, acting chairman of the Senate Committee investigating the coal strike, expressed himself today, as hopeful that "permanent and lasting results" will come from the inquiry.

"We are making real progress," Senator Gooding said. "All of us feel very much encouraged and I think that before we get through the miners and the operators will agree upon legislation, which will not only terminate the strike, but will provide peace in the future and protection for the public."

Vest Power in Board

Gooding advocates a Federal Coal Commission, similar to the Interstate Commerce Commission, with sweeping power to regulate the coal industry. He also thinks prospective legislation must provide for compulsory mediation of wage disputes, similar to the Watson-Parke bill which was enacted with the joint approval of the railroad executives and the Brotherhood.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, has served notice that any legislation must provide recognition by the operators of the right of the mine workers to collective bargaining.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, will insist that "this inherent and inalienable right" be recognized. Several operators have testified their willingness to accept this principle.
