PEOPLE OVER 40

People over 40 have to be careful of their blood pressure. It's at this age, due to our abnormal living habits, that our blood pressure begins to slip up on us. And high blood pressure shortens life—may cut it off suddenly.

Modern living puts too great a pressure upon the vital organs, especially the liver. The liver becoming weak and sluggish fails to cleanse the blood of the poisons formed in food waste. The whole system then becomes toxic, with stomach, kidneys, heart and blood vessels affected.

The liver occasionally needs a little help, and there's nothing better for this, as physicians agree, than ox gall. Ox gall is a remarkable natural stimulant for the human liver, promoting its normal active functioning so essential to real health. Dioxol tablets are genuine ox gall in dainty and tasteless form, each tablet representing 10 drops of pure ox gall. To be sure of getting the genuine ox gall, be sure of getting Dioxol. They cost less than 2c each at good druggists, and a few bring a delightful change.

Aims to Live 100
Keeps Youthful Fires Burning With Rare Remedy.

H. H. Von Schlick, manufacturer of Pittsburgh, Pa., tells how at 60 he feels as young as he did at 30. I use a remedy called Bulgarian Herb Tea which I take at least once each week, and it not only keeps me healthy, but gives me the power and vigor of youth. Persons who suffer with constipation, rheumatism, sour, gassy stomach, intestinal poison or impure blood should use this pure vegetable remedy. It really is wonderful how soon you begin to feel years younger, and it costs so little at any drug store.

Why just to break up a bad cold quickly, Bulgarian Herb Tea is worth ten times its price. The rich herb tea, taken hot at bedtime, heats the chilled blood, stimulates the circulation and casts the intestinal poisons out of your system.—Advertisement.

MADELEINE'S HEART IS NEVER ANCIENT

Ernest Poole, in 'Silent Storms,' Pictures a Young French Girl Who Could Not Love an American Husband Even With His Great Wealth.

BY WALTER D. HICKMAN
CAN a woman be a love cheat and at the same time be honest at heart?

That is the problem that faces Madeleine de Gramier, a young French girl, when she marries Barry McClurg, one of the big men in Wall Street.

You will face this problem with Madeleine when you read "Silent Storms," written by Ernest Poole and published by the Macmillan Company.

Madeleine, although of noble birth in an ancient French family with both Russian and Italian connections, fell for the modern doctrines of social and political changes when she began mixing with the world, following the World War.

Madeleine was what you might call a nut on this revolution stuff. She took to the lecture platform after the war and came to this country to pile up a mountain of money for her cause that she hoped would free France, all of France, from her modern chains.

She was wise enough to know that American dollars were necessary for her little plan of conquest. So she took advantage of every opportunity to become friendly with Barry McClurg because this man had great money power and influence.

Madeleine placed comfortable sums of money in Barry's hands and he doubled and at times tripled it. But these faced both the love and the sex problem.

Barry had been married before, his first wife going to her grave in the first year. Barry was twice the age of Madeleine when she came into his life. He tried to fight off an international marriage. But this clever and intelligent French girl had such a program that he could not resist her.

So Barry lost his head and made a bad investment—he married Madeleine. Then the battle started. The wife wanted her husband to give up America and go to France. She tried every known scheme to make this change. Barry would not change.

In Madeleine's behalf it must be said that before she married Barry she told him that this marriage would be a failure.

Barry loved his work better than any woman. He loved his country and did not like the idea of pouring American dollars into foreign lands. And so the struggle goes on and on. There is a wreck, but it is the masterful and sensible way that Mr. Poole develops this situation that makes "Silent Storms" an important book.

Madeleine to my way of thinking could not be honest with her husband when she was first in love with him, and her cause, she was modern. She liked to burn up for her cause. Barry could not get into the same fire.

It is a delightful study the way that Poole presents these two characters. Especially dramatic is the story of Madeleine's failure to be a mother. She failed most of the time, but for a while she did bring the interest of youth back to Barry. Of the recent novels dealing with international marriage and its problems, I find that "Silent Storms" is the most convincing. It has been powerfully and honestly written.

There are so many sides to this story that I am sure that each page will interest the reader who reads both for entertainment as well as for thought.

This is a good book to put on your reading list.

SHAKESPEARE IS STILL VERY POPULAR
Judging by the size of the audiences that Robert B. Mantell and Miss Genevieve Hamper are attracting to English's this week, Shakespeare is still popular in this city. So far "Hamlet" has been the most popular, judging from the size of the audience.

Yesterday afternoon, I saw nearly all of "As You Like It" with Miss Hamper as Rosalind and Mr. Mantell as Jaques. Of course, this play gives Miss Hamper a most delightful opportunity at love comedy, done

"We tried different remedies with no results. We heard about Cuticura Soap and Ointment so purchased two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Ointment, and at the end of twenty-one days she was healed." (Signed) Herman W. Beyer, R. 1, Box 5A, Farnam, Neb.

FREDRICK RAPS STATE FINANCE

Governor Candidate Urges
Need of 'House Cleaning.'

By Times Special
GREENFIELD, Ind., March 22.—Referring to indictments which have been returned against members of the State banking department in connection with bank failures in two different Indiana cities, John E. Fredrick, candidate for the democratic nomination for Governor, declared here Wednesday night that charges which are being made indicate the necessity for a complete housecleaning at the State Capitol.

"If one-half the charges which have been made are correct, a deplorable situation exists which strikes at the very foundation of our State financial structure."

"There is nothing so vicious in its effect upon popular government as bureaucratic control by selfish, inside groups whose sole object is personal advancement. All tendencies in this direction must be stamped out."

"There is no doubting belief is prevalent that our public utilities commission has been made to function in the interest of the utilities rather than for the public. If instead of service as a protection to the people, therefore, this board has been perverted into a taxing body which in fact has been used to levy additional burdens on the people of Indiana, it should either be made serviceable or abolished."

Honor Bailey at Ft. Wayne
By Times Special
FT. WAYNE, Ind., March 22.—"I want to restore Indiana to what she was under Democratic Governors, Thomas R. Marshall and Samuel Ralston," Frank B. Bailey, candidate for the democratic nomination for Governor, declared here Wednesday night at an informal reception in his honor. Bailey is on a three-day speaking campaign in this end of the State.

SOUTH BEND SLAYER'S DEATH HEARING IS SET

Clemency for John Hall, convicted murderer of a South Bend druggist, will be considered at the meeting of the trustees of the Indiana State Prison, who will sit at a pardon board at Michigan City, March 30.

Hall was sentenced to be executed on March 9, and the action of Elkhart Superior Court was affirmed by the Supreme Court. His attorneys obtained a thirty-day stay from Governor Ed Jackson, upon recommendation of the prison board.

Hall's plea for clemency is based on the ground that a companion in the crime received a life imprisonment sentence at his trial in St. Joseph County, while Hall, who was tried first was sentenced to death.
