

MISSPELLING IS COSTLY TO U. S., BRYSON STATES

Times Bee Is Viewed as Valuable by City Postmaster.

Poor spelling costs Uncle Sam huge sums each year.

The United States Government has a vital interest in the National Spelling Bee sponsored by The Indianapolis Times in Indiana, according to Postmaster Robert H. Bryson.

"Interest aroused by the spelling bee should result in improved spelling among our young future citizens," Bryson said.

"Thousands of letters a year cannot be delivered in Indianapolis, because of poor spelling and incorrect addresses. In some instances the name is spelled wrong and goes to the wrong person. Other times the street name is misspelled.

"This trouble is especially noticeable at Christmas time, when as high as 30,000 or 40,000 letters and greetings are delayed, if deliverable at all, for various reasons.

"It takes a large staff of clerks to go over these letters and attempt to find the addresses, all of which costs the government money.

"In addition to misspelling names and streets, many people spell cities and State abbreviations incorrectly."

There are seven Detroits, for instance, and unless the State is spelled out legibly, the letter may go to Detroit, Maine, instead of Detroit, Mich.

"When in Rome do as the Romans do," applies not only to Rome, Italy, but to fourteen other Romes in the United States.

There are fourteen Rochesters and Ashland, Wis., has twenty-four sister cities of the same name.

Marion, Ind., is not the only city named after Gen. Francis Marion of Revolutionary fame, as nearly half of the States in the Union have a city of that name.

Indiana also has a Merom, frequently confused with Marion.

Hello, Says Princess'

"Hello, there, Mrs. Robinson," is what Princess Jacqueline, the prize French bulldog pictured above, might be saying. But it happens that Princess Jacqueline, the property and companion of Mrs. Mabel Robinson of Bangor, Me., is singing now. This picture of Mrs. Robinson and her remarkable talking dog was taken during the recent Chicago Kennel Club show. Jacqueline says very plainly "I will," "I won't," "elevator" and "out."

LAWYER BEFRIENDS BOY SENTENCED FOR THEFT

Tells Judge at Gary Job Will Replace Jail Term.

By United Press

GARY, Ind., April 4.—Just when things had begun to look the blackest to him, James Meldon, 17, Canadian youth, found a friend in need who came to his assistance and saved him from a jail term. He had been in jail since Dec. 10 for possessing and transporting a stolen automobile.

Meldon said he left a home in Canada because the folks who took him "had mistreated me."

He said he went to Chicago on freight trains and found no work.

Unable to leave the city by another freight, Meldon said he finally stole the car.

Judge Slick sentenced him to thirty days in the jail. Lester Ottenthaler, East Chicago attorney, volunteered to take Meldon under probation until he could find work for him. The judge granted Ottenthaler's request.

The boys will be given half the proceeds from the sales of the spruce.

it is hoped that within a short time the waste lands will be converted into places of real beauty.

This work is a part of the Conservation Department's effort to put the bare land back into the earning column of the ledger of the State.

A comprehensive program for reforestation is being mapped out by Richard Lieber, director of the department.

During the past few weeks the Conservation Department has purchased 142 acres of land at an average price of $5.25 an acre, bringing the total land area of the Clark County State Forest to 4,750 acres.

About 120 acres of the last purchase are in second growth oak, hickory and pine and twenty acres consists of abandoned fields which will be planted with pine and spruce.

The State forest land purchased several years ago and valued then at $9 an acre is today worth from twice to three times that price. Reforestation work of the Conservation Department having greatly improved it, Lieber said.

LIVE WIRE FAILS TO BOTHER MRS. COOLIDGE

Continues Visits to Sick Mother; Has Narrow Escape.

By United Press

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., April 4.—Apparently not disturbed by her narrow escape from danger, when she almost walked into a live wire, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge today prepared to visit her mother, Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, who is dangerously ill.

While crossing one of the Northampton streets Tuesday, Mrs. Coolidge was within a few feet of a live wire.

A dredger had knocked down a trolley wire which fell close to where Mrs. Coolidge and members of her party were walking.

Mrs. Goodhue was reported to have rested comfortably Tuesday.

Mrs. Coolidge visited her mother twice and planned similar visits again today.

$160,000 Sought for Gym

MUNCIE, Ind., April 4.—A campaign to raise $160,000 for a combined gymnasium and vocational training school building opened here today. A seating capacity of 7,500 is proposed for the projected building.

Opposes Daylight Saving

By Times Special
CONNERSVILLE, Ind., April 4.—A proposal that daylight saving be put into effect here during the coming summer is opposed by Fayette Farm Bureau members. Resolutions adopted by the members declare that of necessity a farmer's day is regulated by the sun, and that any other method of measuring time would work a hardship.
