

JUDGE CAMERON QUOTES LAW IN REPLY TO REMY

Plays Prosecutor as Seeking to Dictate: Dubs Him Ignorant; Malicious.

Prosecutor William H. Remy has "assumed an autocrat's role," and seeks to dominate city courts because of either "ignorance of law, egotism or malice," was Municipal Judge Clifton R. Cameron's reply today to Remy's charges that city judges were exceeding their authority.

Remy charged the municipal courts were acting on felony charges, such as vehicle taking, which should be sent to the grand jury.

His charge followed action of Municipal Judge Pro Tem. Jacob Steinmetz last week in dismissing vehicle taking and grand larceny charges against an 18-year-old boy and fining the youth $50 on an unlawful possession of an automobile charge.

Quotes Law

In reply Judge Cameron questioned Remy's legal knowledge and quoted Chapter 210, Act of 1927, page 504, as follows:

"Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, that Section 1 of the above entitled act be amended to read as follows: Section 1. That the several circuit and criminal courts and the city and municipal courts . . . shall have power, in any case where any person shall have been convicted of a felony or misdemeanor, or shall have entered his plea of guilty to a charge of a felony or misdemeanor, upon the entry of judgment of conviction of such person, to suspend such sentence and parole such person, by an order of such court in such case, except for the crimes of murder, arson, burglary, rape, treason, kidnapping and a second conviction of robbery."

"Note I am specific," Judge Cameron declared, "so that he may be able to find the law, and relieve himself of some of his egotistical autocratic assumption as dictator to the courts."

Court Records Open

"Can it be possible that the learned prosecutor of Marion County does not know of this statute?"

"The rule is 'ignorance of the law excuses no man.' This means ordinary layman. Can it be possible that this gentleman is exempt from the knowledge required of the ordinary citizen?"

"One can do his duty and attend to his business and give others credit for honest and intelligent purposes. The critic who tries to display so much wisdom should know his duty before trying to parade himself before the public as all-wise and powerful."

"The gallery is all right to play to, but a poor place to display a lack of wisdom and sinister purpose and to find fault with those bearing responsibility with an honest purpose in view, and who will not violate their oaths of office, at the behest of a loud noise and empty sound," Judge Cameron continued.

The municipal judges are not attempting to assume any jurisdiction not allotted them by law, Judge Cameron declared. "The records of the courts are open."

VISIONS VOTERS RISING IN IRE

Hoover Manager Certain of Political Cleanup.

A political cleanup which will bring victory for Herbert C. Hoover's presidential candidacy in Indiana and other States is indicated by the Illinois primary results, declared Oscar G. Foellinger, Hoover's Indiana manager today.

"The Illinois primary results," said Foellinger, indicate that, throughout the country, the rank and file of voters are beginning to take an active interest in their government. That was strikingly demonstrated Tuesday in Illinois.

"There is a clean-up wave sweeping the country and with it will come a Hoover victory, not only in other States, but also in Indiana, where a political machine in the face of recent disgrace is attempting to exalt its leader to the White House."

Foellinger said Hoover's nomination was assured, because "when intelligent voters take affairs of government in their own hands, men like Hoover are elected."

RECORD CROWD AT HOME SHOW WAITED TODAY

Model House Is Center of Interest at Realtors' Exhibit.

Today has been set aside as Indiana day at the Realtors' Home Show at the State fairground. Home seekers from all parts of the State are expected.

The weekly luncheon of the Indianapolis Real Estate Board, which was held at the Home Show cafe this noon, was featured by a talk on "Land Development" by Carl R. Pratt, president of the Travis City, Mich., realtors. Honor guests at the meeting were J. P. Moonan, New York, advertising director of the American Radiator Company, and L. E. Putnam, Chicago, representative of the Southern Pine Association, which furnished the lumber used in constructing the model home, centerpiece of the show.

Record Crowd Expected

Today's crowd, show authorities predicted, will set a new record for attendance at Indianapolis shows. Wednesday's crowd of 13,000 is the largest of the present show. The crowds this week have been efficiently handled by a squad of police under the direction of Lieut. Earl D. Halstead, of the traffic force. Hundreds of women have been interested in the kitchen of the model home. The sink is equipped with an efficient, but inexpensive, dishwasher; a kitchen cabinet has hoppers for dispensing cooking ingredients, automatically, in any amount wanted. There is also an automatic water softener, an electric refrigerator and a convenient gas range.

Bridges & Graves, builders of the home, report that they have already had requests for quotations on duplicating the house.

Luncheon Clubs Invited

An invitation to the luncheon clubs of the city has been extended by the show committee, and the Mercator Club and the Architectural Club will attend Friday. They will be shown through the model home by Merritt Harrison, the architect.

A visit by a group of Milwaukee realtors will feature Friday's program. This group recently entertained Mayor L. Ert Slack and a delegation from the Indianapolis Real Estate Board at the Milwaukee Home Show.

The show will be open today from 11 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. To reach the show by street car, board any car marked "Fairground" on the Illinois line all day, and Central, College or Illinois lines after 6 p. m.

CLOSE CITY COUNCIL SELECTIONS TODAY

Civic Groups Will Pick List to Succeed Last Two Indicted Men.

The joint civic organizations subcommittee met at noon today at the Chamber of Commerce to pick a list of candidates for the council seats of the last two of the indicted city councilmen.

The full joint civic committee will meet at 4 p. m. to approve the lists and council will meet 1:30 p. m. Friday to elect the successors to Dr. Austin H. Todd and O. Ray Albertson.

The council also will elect another successor to Otis E. Bartholomew. Walter B. Gerdts, 694 Bradbury Ave., was elected to succeed Bartholomew Wednesday, but announced that his duties as secretary-treasurer of the E. Hilgemeier Company would prevent him from accepting the post.

It is likely the council will elect either H. H. Bishop, 968 Garfield Dr., jeweler, or Paul E. Rathert, 737 S. Meridian St., grocer. These two and Gerdts were recommended for the post by the civic committee.

Herman P. Lieber, 1475 Central

Ave., secretary of the H. Lieber Company was elected to succeed Claude E. Negley at Wednesday's session. He accepted the post and was sworn in.

O. Ray Albertson, State's witness against the other councilmen, resigned at the close of the session. With the election of successors to take the places of Todd, Albertson and Bartholomew, seven of the nine members of council will be men recommended by the civic organizations' committee. The other two, Robert E. Springsteen and Edward B. Raub, Democrats, were not involved in the bribery charges.

DISCUSS RAIL SAFETY

Speakers Describe Use of Signals Controlled by Electricity.

Use of electrically operated safety devices on railroads and traction lines was explained by Superintendent E. G. Stradlin of the telegraph and signal department of the Monon railroad and Superintendent A. Schlesinger of the T. H. I. & E., in talks before the Indiana Engineering Society Wednesday night at the Spink-Arms.

CHARGES ALIEN CUSTODIAN HAD TEAPOT BONDS

Mystery Wire to Senate Results in Calling Thomas Miller.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, who will be called before the Senate Teapot Dome Committee next Tuesday, will be asked whether he handled any of the mysterious Continental Trading Company bonds, Chairman Nye declared today.

The charge that Miller handled some of the bonds and still has some in his possession was made in a telegram to Senator Walsh of Montana signed "D. Wilson, 736 Fifth Ave., N. Y."

Nye indicated the committee had no intention of summoning Dallett Wilson, New York attorney, who wired the committee last week that he was not the Wilson who made the charges.
