

THE MUSIC ARTS NOW COMMAND INTEREST

Pierre Key Claims This Country Stands on Threshold of Vast Forward Movement Which Is Greatest in This Nation's History.

BY WALTER D. HICKMAN
We have come to attach a lot of importance to the summary of Pierre Key in his "International Music Year Book."

"This man is such an authority on music that when he tells us that 'the United States is catching up with itself musically,' we may be sure that we are."

Key's year book, to me, is just as necessary as weather conditions are to the farmer. Key tells us just where we are musically each year. "Music in the United States," he writes in his year book in the chapter on "Music in the United States," "stands on the threshold of a vast forward movement. Never in the nation's history have the music arts commanded the interest of the general public to such an extent as now."

"It is the consensus of expert opinion that developments lie ahead which will be astonishing—when retrospectively surveyed. The quickening of this music appreciation and responsiveness is due to several elements; one is the growing distaste for an excess of jazz and so-called popular music, another is the broadcasting of good music over the air."

Key also pays a compliment to the splendid work of the able musical supervisors of the public schools in bringing about musical appreciation.

He writes most truly when he says: "If indications are accurate in pointing the way, then this nation is emerging from the quasi-chaotic condition in which it seemingly has floundered for several successive years. A new advance appears to have begun, with the formative period of that advance reflected in a specific manner. It is disclosed in the field of composition."

Key points out that one of the best signs of improvement is to be found in "the desire of many persons to listen to the best compositions, adequately performed."

He calls attention to the important part that the pipe organ is playing in the movie theaters. Attention is paid in this chapter on the fact that boys and girls are not

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 12.—Exacting a promise that his mother would be absolved in the daring robbery of the Union Station mail room here, March 26, Carl Jennings, 23, has confessed his part in the crime, officials announce.

The mother, Mrs. Dolly Nash, has been held as a suspect in the case, and though confronted with damaging evidence, Jennings refused to talk until assured his mother would be absolved, asserting she was innocent of all blame. Officers found pieces of a stolen mail bag in a closet at Jennings' home and one of the revolvers used in the holdup. Jennings declared Calvin Holmes, 34, was his accomplice. Two unmasked men held up three postal employees in the mail room and attacked and bound them. Six bags of mail, two containing registered mail, formed the loot, but there was little money, Jennings saying Holmes deserted him when only about $8 was found. Holmes is in custody.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps Her So Much

"I was just completely run-down. I had tired, heavy, sluggish feelings, and I could not eat. I was losing in weight. I read so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what a good medicine it is, that I started taking it. I have taken eight bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and about the same in tablet form. This is one medicine a woman should have in the house all the time. I am improving every day and I sure am able to eat. I am willing to answer any letters asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Ella Richards, 21 Chautauqua St., N. S. Pittsburgh, Pa.—Advertisement.
