

MME. STEINHART IN RECITAL TONIGHT

On Saturday the Apollo Will Present 'Tenderloin,' the First Talking Movie Melodrama to Be Presented in the City.

By WALTER D. HICKMAN

Tonight at the Masonic Temple, Mme. Marguerite Bailhe Steinhart, pianist, will give her second annual recital in this city.

Mme. Steinhart will give an all Chopin program featuring "Sonata III Opus 58."

It will be noticed that her program is made up of many interesting Chopin numbers, especially "Ballade G Minor."

The program will be as follows:

"Sonata III Opus 58"
Allegro Maestoso
Scherzo Molto Vivace
Largo

Finale Presto Ma Non Tanto

"Polonaise Opus 26, No. 1"

"Valse Opus 64, No. 2"

"Nocturne Opus 9, No. 2"

"Etude Opus 10, No. 3"

"Scherzo, B Minor"

"Berceuse, E Major"

"Ballade G Minor"

The patronesses will be as follows:

Mrs. Hugh H. Hanna, Mrs. Henry Schurman, Mrs. H. Duckwall, Mrs. William Herschell, Mrs. Isaac Born, Miss Anna May Johnson, Mrs. Henrietta Blakeman, Mrs. C. A. Franklin, Mrs. Lillian Flickinger, Mrs. Samuel Goldstein, Mrs. Layette Page, Mrs. L. L. Goodman, Mrs. W. C. Smith, Mrs. George Marrett, Bernard Baty, Mrs. John W. Hutchings, Mrs. Glenn Piernood.

SPEAKING MOVIE TO OPEN SATURDAY AT APOLLO

After having been closed since last Monday for the installation of Vitaphone and Movietone equipment, the Apollo reopens Saturday presenting, under the new policy announced by Fred J. Dolle and his associates, lessees and operators of the theater, the first all Vitaphone and Movietone program to be shown in Indianapolis, the featured attraction being Warner Brothers' talking picture melodrama of New York life, "Tenderloin," starring Dolores Costello supported by Conrad Nagel and a noted cast.

"Tenderloin" is a story which augments the thrill of its dramatic heights by the interpolation of spoken dialogue, as well as an impressive symphonic musical accompaniment by the Vitaphone Symphony Orchestra of 105 pieces.

It is the first of Warner Brothers' talking films in which the players carry on sustained dialogue in the climatic scenes, with an effect so realistic as to be startling.

Vitaphone vaudeville acts will be presented by Frank R. Richardson, "The Joy Boy of Song," and Fred Ardath and company in a comedy sketch, "Men Among Men."

Movie tone features will be the Movietone news reel, and "See and Hear Lindbergh," a Movietone special.

"DIPLOMACY" TO BE HERE NEXT TUESDAY

Victorien Sardou had been before the playgoer public upward of twenty years, the author of some forty dramatic works produced on the Paris stage where he was deemed to have worthily earned his armchair in the French Academy.

It was the production of his great melodrama, "Diplomacy," in 1877, that wrought his title clear to that honor.

The star of his triumph, however, was not without its malignant aspect, for ex-President Thiers endeavored to frustrate Sardou's candidacy, entertaining the conviction, it is said, that the dramatist in creating the character of the Countess Zicka had modeled too closely the living portrait of a foreign Princess in whom Thiers was deeply interested.

It was owing to the significance of this play, to its great popularity through fifty years and the preeminent quality of its acting history, that George C. Tyler selected it as the sequel to "The Rivals" and "Trelawny of the Wells," for an all-

ALUMNI BACK HOOVER

Local Stanford Graduates Indorse Candidacy.

Local alumni of Leland Stanford University lunched at the Claypool Wednesday and adopted resolutions supporting Herbert Hoover for the Republican nomination for President of the United States.

Hoover is a graduate of the school and present trustee. Several recalled the early ability of Hoover expressed in organizing the non-fraternity men at the school and also how the candidate had worked his way through school, caring for laundry.

SEX DRAMA IN COURT

Producers Face Prosecution in Los Angeles.

By United Press

LOS ANGELES, April 19. — Although found not guilty on one count yesterday, A. Leslie Pearce and E. J. Rowland, producers, will be prosecuted on other charges arising from their presentation here of "The Captive," sex drama. City Prosecutor Lickley said today.

"I am writing a letter to the city council demanding the passage of an ordinance to keep such plays off our stages," Lickley said.

Glee Club Shows Profit

By United Press

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 19. — The 1928 tour of the Indiana University Glee Club, recently completed, was a financial success, according to Howard Alltop, Bloomington, student business manager of the club. Larger crowds than those of former years attended the concerts over the State and practically every city fostering the programs made profit, he said. During the trip, the club broadcast some programs from the Kokomo Tribune station.
