

DEATH TAGS BOY AT PLAY; HIT BY AUTO

Runs Into Path of Car to Escape Companion;
Nab Motorists.

Dashing in the path of an automobile James C. Paul, 10, Negro, living with Robert Webster, 713 W. Twenty-Fifth St., an uncle, was killed Thursday night. Mrs. Rosa Sarkisian, 3310 Northwestern Ave., was arrested on an involuntary manslaughter charge, following the accident.

The child was playing along Northwestern Ave., and, according to witnesses, ran into the path of Mrs. Sarkisian's machine to avoid being tagged by a companion.

He suffered a fractured skull, crushed chest and fractured right leg.

Kenneth Waggoner, 1544 Spruce St., an interior decorator, alleged not to have stopped after his machine struck Fred Craig, 227 E. New York St., on April 7, was arrested Thursday night.

Craig, with three ribs broken, was taken home by the offending motorist, but the latter after depositing him in the house left before police arrived, according to charges. Waggoner was released on bond. He denied that his machine was in the accident.

John Thompson, 62, 1412 Montcalm St., received slight head wounds when Charles Patton, 2521 Boulevard Pl., did not stop his machine at Senate and Indiana Aves. Patton was arrested.

Walter Dewey, 3050 N. Sherman Dr., and Dr. Raymond Mitchell, 3327 E. Sixteenth St., did not adhere to the preferential street law at Twenty-Fifth and Delaware Sts., and their machines were badly damaged. They were arrested.

FIGURES THAT TALK

The Book of Knowledge Is Making
More Than 2,000,000 Children Happy

DO YOU know why The Book of Knowledge is so conspicuously successful? Because it instructs and delights the children at the same time. By its winning style, its striking pictures and, most of all, by psychological arrangement, it captures the child's imagination and makes learning a delight. Step by step the children go through the eighteen great departments: Wonder Questions, The Earth, Familiar Things, Animal Life, Plant Life, Our Own Life, United States, All Countries, Men and Women, Stories, Poetry, Literature, Fine Arts, Things to Make and Do, etc.—the essential knowledge of the world.

Appeals to the Child's Heart

There are a number of unique features which no other informational work for the young, except The Book of Knowledge, possesses. Perhaps most important of these is the fact that it has a point of view. A way of looking at things? Yes, but what way? There's the rub. It must be a right way and a true way if the children are to benefit most. The Book of Knowledge was written with this always in mind.

When you want to see something you do not stand with your back to it, but facing it. The gaining of information is perhaps the smallest part of a true education. It is the practical use of that knowledge that counts. The Book of Knowledge teaches children how to look at things and understand them in the right way. You will be amazed at the moral effects of this work upon your child's mind as well as the amount of information which he will store up.

15,000 Pictures—Knowledge at a Glance

The eye is the first great teacher. There are, in The Book of Knowledge, 15,000 striking educational pictures, brought together from every corner of the globe. Interestingly, vivid, at a glance they show the important facts of knowledge in a way that can never be forgotten.

SCHOOL POST FOR GLADDEN IN CITY DENIED

Miller Says He Has Not
Asked for Position;
None Offered.

Denial that Fred T. Gladden, assistant State superintendent of public instruction, is being considered for an Indianapolis school position, was made today by Charles F. Miller, city school superintendent.

Gladden resigned the State position, effective April 30, following disclosure of issuance of a teacher's license to Miss Fay Green, young teacher of Lexington, who did not possess the necessary qualifications.

The incident occurred before Miller turned over the State superintendent's office to Roy P. Wisehart.

Current reports credited Gladden with having declared he was to be given a city school position in which he would have charge of employment of teachers.

"Gladden has not asked for a position in the city schools and none has been offered him," Miller said. "The reports are untrue."

Miller and city school board members have not yet announced their plans for filling the vacancies created by the board's action several months ago in abolishing positions of the three assistant superintendents effective in June.

UPHOLD G. O. P. REGIME

MARION, Ind., April 20.—The record of the Republican party in State and Nation in the last four years entitles it to remain in power, declared Frederick E. Schortemeier, Secretary of State and Republican gubernatorial candidate, in a speech here this afternoon.

"All the Republicans need to do," Schortemeier said, "is to gather around the Republican banner, look with pride upon the splendid financial administration which they have had in both State and Nation, and continue their confidence in a party which in both State and Nation promotes our prosperity and our happiness."

OHIO PRIMARY FIGHT BITTER

WASHINGTON, April 20.—As the crucial Ohio Republican presidential primary campaign draws to a close "desperate" methods are being pursued, according to reports reaching Washington.

A whispering campaign in progress throughout the State, seeking to suggest that Hoover's entry into the Ohio primary was responsible for the death of the late Senator Willis, was given dignity at Springfield last night by Congressman Charles Brand, an anti-Hoover leader. Brand alleged that Hoover's decision, plus the announcement of support by such prominent Republicans as Congressmen Theodore E. Burton and Walter F. Brown, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, "hurt" and "broke up" Willis. He charged that prior to his death, Willis, who was campaigning in Ohio, as well as looking after his senatorial duties, "did not sleep, but rolled and tossed." He quoted friends who alleged that politics, too, was responsible for his death.
