

TRICK SLATES LITTERING CITY BAFFLE VOTERS

Watson Camp Denies Rumor of Indorsements; Klan Sheets Appear.

Enough paper to start furnace fires for all Indianapolis was distributed on front porches and at the polls today in the form of primary election slates.

Following previous election maneuvers, so many slates were passed out that voters were bewildered and much of the effect of the trick was lost.

Politicians were chiefly interested in the report that 27,000 slates were sent out from Watson-for-President headquarters last night.

Watson forces have denied they were aligned with any particular local faction or any candidates for Governor or Senator—the Senator desiring to keep out of the bitter factional battles.

Jewett's Name Missing

The slate credited to the Watson forces purported to give Watson's indorsement to Frederick E. Schortemeier for Governor and Arthur R.
Robinson for Senator. This surprised some because Charles E.
Jewett has been heralded as the sub-rosa choice of Watson for Governor.
Others on this slate were:
William T. Quillin for Congressman, Charles Mendenhall for prosecutor, Clyde E. Robinson for treasurer, Orin E. Davis for sheriff, William D. Beanblossom for coroner, Paul R. Brown for surveyor, John E. Shearer for commissioner, First District; George Snider, for commissioner, Second district.

The Ku-Klux Klan slate made its appearance despite pre-election assertions of Klan leaders that they had forsaken their usual tactics.
The slate was identified by a steel cotton pin instead of the familiar clothespin, attached.

Pin Marks Klan Slate

The indorsements on this slate, on white paper with blue ink, headed "Protestant-American ticket," were in line with generally accepted views of Klan affiliations of candidates.

Those indorsed included Watson for President, Robinson for Senator, Schortemeier for Governor, Ralph E. Updike for Congressman, William H. Harrison for prosecutor, Clyde E. Robinson or Frank Cones for treasurer, Orin E. Davis or George L. Winkler for sheriff, W.
D. Beanblossom for coroner, Paul R. Brown for surveyor, John E.
Shearer for commissioner, first district, and Alonzo Jeffers or George Snider for commissioner, second district.

Tom Peters, candidate for Democratic nomination for joint representative of Marion and Johnson Counties, and Louis Ludlow, Democratic congressional candidate, declared they had nothing to do with getting their names on the Klan slate.

Klan Names Democrats

Among Democrats, the Klan slate also carried Olin R. Holt for Governor; Raymond F. Murray for prosecutor; Walter McCord for treasurer; Henry B. Steeg for surveyor; Joseph E. Wheatley for commissioner, first district, and James A. Kregio for commissioner, second district.

The rival Coffin and Dodson organizations seeking to control the county Republican machinery, made extravagant use of slates, listing their favored precinct committeman candidates with those candidates for other offices which they figured were strong in particular localities.

The Democrats were not without their instances of slate trickery.
Headquarters of Frank C. Dailey, candidate for Democratic nomination for Governor reported discovering that throughout the Ninth ward someone has distributed slates indorsing both Dailey and John E.
Frederick for Governor and at the bottom carrying a list of State convention delegates headed "Myers and Dailey Delegates."

Then candidates for delegates listed, however, are those who will vote for Frederick and not Dailey in case a candidate gets a majority and the nomination is thrown into the State convention.

BOARD WILL EVALUATE HYDRO-ELECTRIC PLANT

Tax Board to Appraise Insull Holdings in Two Counties

The State tax board this week will decide on a 1928 tax valuation for the Insull owned Hydro-Electric Power Co., which has huge dams in Carroll and White Counties on the Tippecanoe river.

The 1927 valuation of the plant was $2,000,000 and according to Gus A. Hall, of Delphi, acting Carroll County attorney the 1928 valuation should be $6,000,000.

Hall appeared at the hearing before the tax board on the valuation for the Interstate Public Service Co.
Carl Mote, attorney for the company declared at this hearing that the production of hydro-electric plants is proving unprofitable. Valuation of the Interstate in 1927 was $21,109,939.
