URGES NATIONAL CONCLAVES TO NOMINATE DRYS

M. E. Conference Draws Up Formal Demand to Both Parties.

BY IRWIN F. FEMRITE
United Press Staff Correspondent
KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 12.—A formal demand that the political parties of the United States, in their national conventions, nominate dry presidential candidates and adopt dry platform planks will be made today by a committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The demand is included in resolutions adopted by the committee on temperance, prohibition and public morals at the general conference of the church here, and which will be published today. Dr. Everett C. Wareing, chairman of the committee, said.

The conference will take action on the committee's report either Monday or Tuesday, he said.

A plea for dry law enforcement and a suggestion that an investigation be made of the country's enforcement record during the last ten years are included in the resolutions.

The conference proper will be recessed over the week-end in favor of men's council of the Methodist Church.

World famous speakers will address the men, among them Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin; Jane Addams, Chicago social worker; Ralph Connor, Canadian novelist; Pat M. Neff, former Governor of Texas, and Henry J. Allen, former Governor of Kansas.

RAJAH, BRIDE IN PARIS

Indian Prince and American Wife on Honey Moon.

PARIS, May 12.—Smiling and happy at thoughts of a honeymoon at a secluded French villa, the former Maharajah of Indore and his American bride arrived here today from Marseilles.

A group of seventy Hindus awaited at the train and they were laden with roses. Circling this group were many newspaper men and photographers.

The Indian prince and his wife attempted to escape the welcome by running the length of the train and departing from the rear exit. This failed however and when photographers caught them they both posed readily.

RADIUM CURES CANCER CASES

Good Results Reported by London Physician.

LONDON, May 12.—Substantial progress in the endless war waged by science against cancer was described in a post-graduate lecture at the University of Leeds by Dr. G. E. Gask, director of the surgical unit at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London, who declared that radium treatment has cured a considerable number of undoubtedly malignant tumors.

The tumors were observed to disappear after exposure to rays of radium, Dr. Gask stated. Reports from various research centers showed that in a majority of cases in which hemorrhage was present, it disappeared after irradiation, though in some cases it returned later.

Out of sixty-nine cases in which tumor formation was noted, it was found to have disappeared completely in sixty cases after exposure to radium rays.
