G. O. P. LEADERS RENEW HOPE OF COOLIDGE DRAFT

Praise of Congress Taken for Belief President Would Accept.

BY RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON, June 6.—President Coolidge's convention eve defense of his administration's more recent achievements and the work of the departed Congress today commanded the interest of Republican leaders who have not left for Kansas City.

Many seized on his praise of the legislative and executive record as warrant for the belief he would not be adverse to a renomination. There appeared to be no basis for such an assumption, however, and the chief cause of speculation arises from the fact that Washington is in a jump mood at the moment.

The politicians may be moving on Kansas City, but the White House and the man in it seems to hold the center of the political stage. It is generally believed that he and Secretary Mellon can decide the convention's destiny, and there is wonderment as to what their decision will be.

Doubt Coolidge Acceptance

Those closest to White House circles assert Coolidge will not accept a renomination under any circumstances, and expect him to throw his influence behind Secretary Hoover.

The President's defense was obviously an answer to criticism leveled at him and Congress by Democratic leaders. That it caused some comment is due largely to the fact that he praised a Congress which overrode four presidential vetoes in an unusually stormy finale.

The President believes that Congress made a satisfactory record. He considers the passage of such bills as tax reduction, flood control, alien property, postal rates and a child labor bill as a good piece of work. He was also pleased with Congress for keeping within the budget Bureau's recommendations in its appropriations.

Answer to Democrats

Coolidge's comment on the financial record was considered an answer to the charge of Senator King (Dem.) of Utah that no recent peace-time Congress showed such lavishness in its distribution of public funds. Because of his economy views the President could hardly let such a statement pass without challenge.

Coolidge is keenly disappointed because of the failure of the naval construction bill to pass the Senate, but he believes it will go through at the next session. As he viewed the closing hours, the Senate was overwhelmingly in favor of the proposal, but was not willing to displace the Boulder Dam bill to let the naval measure be taken up.

GUN 'CONCEALED' EVEN IF NOT, JUDGE RULES

Negro Is Fined $100 for Carrying Weapon.

Is a weapon concealed even though a part of it is visible to an arresting officer before he makes an arrest?

Municipal Judge Paul C. Wetter so ruled and fined Julian Thompson, 50, Negro, 791 Indiana Ave., $100 and costs Tuesday. A gun found on Thompson was confiscated. "S. C. Bodner, Thompson's attorney, will appeal the decision. The defendant was arrested after a gasoline station holdup.

Patrolman Fahey testified he was able to see a part of the gun protruding from Thompson's pocket before he arrested him.

OHIO BOY IS WINNER IN MUSIC CONTEST

Charles Trowbridge Haubiel Gets Cash Award in Schubert Centennial Competition by Composing "Karma—Symphonic Variations."

A veteran of the World War, in his early thirties, is the first prize winner in the American zone of the international Schubert Contest, for orchestral works in honor of the centennial of Franz Schubert.

Charles Trowbridge Haubiel, born in Ohio, yesterday received the first-prize money, $750, from the Columbia Phonograph Company, sponsors of the Schubert Centennial and contest.

The second prize of $250 was awarded to Louis Gruenberg, one of the leaders of the modernist movement, a founder of the League of Composers.

His "Daniel Jazz" and "Creation" were features of recent musical seasons. The third prize, a certificate of honorable mention was awarded to Frederick Stahlberg, for many years an associate of Victor Herbert. The contest called for a return to melody and the lyrical spirit of Schubert's works.

The jury, comprising Frank Damrosch, Rudolph Ganz, Henry Hadley, Ernest Hutcheson and Albert Stoessel, selected "Karma" by Charles T. Haubiel for first prize. "The Enchanted Isle" by Louis Gruenberg for second prize, and "Symphony in E Minor" by Frederick Stahlberg for the third prize.

The three winners are now on the way to the international finals at Vienna where the grand prize of ten thousand dollars will be awarded to the international winner.

Charles Trowbridge Haubiel was born in 1894 in Delta, Ohio, and made his first public appearance in recital at the age of 14. In 1909 he went abroad and studied piano under Rudolph Ganz. In 1913 he returned to America and toured the United States in joint recital with Kocian, the eminent Bohemian violinist.
