Indianapolis Is First Stop of Long Air Reliability
Test Run.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has entered his new Ryan brougham in the national air tour which will include Indianapolis, June 30. It was announced today by G. M. Williams, Marmion Motor Car Company president, sponsoring plans for the local stop.

Lindbergh's plane will be piloted by his close friend and former flying partner, Philip Love, who accompanied the trans-Atlantic flight on his American tour, which included a stop here, last summer.

Indianapolis will be the first halt out of Detroit, the starting point. This will be a noon stop, after which the party will push on to St. Louis for a two-day stay.

More than twenty ships have been entered in the tour, including three Ford tri-motored transports, entered by the Ford company and the Texas and Standard Oil Companies.

Noted Filers on List
Three Stinson-Detroiters will be entered by the company and probably will be piloted by Eddie Stinson, George W. Haldeman and Randolph G. Page.

A Bellanca monoplane, similar to that used by Clarence D. Chamberlin on his flight to Germany, has been entered by Edward F. Schlee and William S. Brock, pilots of the "Fride of Detroit" on the attempted around-the-world flight last year.

Other tentative entries include a "Challenger" of the Kreider-Reisner Co., Hagerstown, Md.; an International Aircraft Corporation ship, from Cincinnati; one and possibly two entries from the Paramount Aircraft Corporation, Saginaw, Mich.; a Travelair from Wichita, and a Stearnman from the same city. Two Lockheed, one Swallow and a Spartan.

Many Cities on Route
In addition to Indianapolis and St. Louis, cities on the tour route and dates include Springfield, Mo., July 2; Wichita, July 3; Tulsa, July 4 and 5; Ft. Worth, July 5 to 7; San Antonio, July 7 to 9; Waco, receiving a visit July 8; Marfa, Texas, July 9; El Paso, July 9 to 10; Tucson, July 10 to 11; Yuma, July 11; San Diego, July 11 to 12; Los Angeles, July 12 to 14; Fresno, July 14; San Francisco, July 14 to 16; Corning, July 16; Medford, Ore., July 16; Portland, July 16 to 18; Tacoma, July 18 to 19; Spokane, July 19 to 21; Missoula, Mont., July 21, and Great Falls, July 21 to 22.

Froid, Mont., and Minot and Fargo, N. D., are scheduled for visits July 22 and 23. Other cities to be visited on dates not announced include St. Paul, Wausau, Milwaukee, Chicago and Battle Creek and then back to the Ford airport, Detroit.

The tour will end July 28, affording four weeks of flying, which should prove the most gruelling reliability test of commercial aircraft ever undertaken.

Loses Race With Death

Attorney of Marshall Williams, Democratic State committee secretary, to fly to the bedside of his mother, Mrs. M. A. Thompson, Winamac, Ind., before her death in Boston, Mass., Thursday failed.

Learning his mother was dying, Williams went to Chicago by train. At Chicago, he and his brother, Hugh Williams, made the remainder of the trip in an airplane, arriving shortly after their mother died. Burial will be at Winamac.

Plane Kills Polo Ponies

WESTBURY, L. I., June 9.—Two army fliers leaped to safety when their plane crashed into a stable at the Meadowbrook Country Club here Friday, but the falling plane plunged through the roof of the stable and killed two famous polo ponies of the Averill Harriman string.

Lieut. Maxwell W. Balfour and Lieut. John McCormick parachuted from the new Curtiss bi-plane they were testing when the wings of the craft crumpled at an altitude of about 3,000 feet.

Harriman went to the stable when he was informed that "Gay Boy," and "Aandora," two of his best mounts had been killed. Asked what the value of the ponies was, he replied that "you can't place a valuation on something that was priceless."

The horses were trapped under the wreckage of the plane.

Rem-Rand Plane Here

The huge Stout-Ford trimotored transport plane, the Rem-Rand, owned by the Remington-Rand Business Service, Inc., was to land at the Hoosier airport, Kessler Blvd. and Lafayette Pike, today. Clients of the company are to be taken for flights over the city. I. F. Osborn, district manager, said.

Fly to Air Circus

Bob Shank of the Hoosier airport and K. L. Micklethwait, advanced course flying student of the airport, flew to Elkhart today in a Travel Air biplane to attend the American Legion flying circus this afternoon.

Lindy to Pick Airports

Final decision on inclusion of Indianapolis on the route of the Transcontinental Air Transport passenger airline may be made by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, a letter received by The Times today from C. M. Keyes, president of the corporation, indicated.

The route from east to west will remain indeterminate for some time, Keyes said.

He added all final decisions as to fields, stopping points and other matters concerning the route will be made by the technical committee, which Lindbergh heads.

MURDER TRIAL NEARS CLOSE

Martinsville Man May Know Fate Today.

By Times Special

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., June 9.—Charles Blackstone, 70, may know his fate today on a charge of first degree murder in the slaying of Ed Stewart, for which he is on trial in Morgan Circuit Court here.

The accused, enfeebled by age, told his version of the tragedy Friday. He was calm on the witness stand. He told of Stewart coming to his poolroom accompanied by his brother, Wayne, and demanding $115, alleged gambling debt owed by Ben Blackstone, his son. Blackstone made a plea of self-defense.

Leases of $40,000 in gambling were admitted by Blackstone, who said he had owned gambling houses here and in other cities. The aged man said games of chance had so depleted an estate left him by his father that he is now practically penniless.
