

Helen Wills Shows Brilliant Form in Victory at Wimbledon

John Risko Gets Verdict Over Negro

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 28.—

The heavyweight division was without a "black menace" today for the first time in years. George Godfrey, the 235-pound Alabama Negro, went the way of Harry Wills Wednesday night, as he lost the judges' decision to Johnny Risko of Cleveland in a ten-round bout, staged in the same ring at Ebbets Field in which Wills was defeated by Jack Sharkey, two years ago.

Godfrey, however, was not as completely eliminated from consideration as was Wills, who fouled Sharkey in the thirteenth round to avoid a knockout. Risko's margin of victory was slight. There were a few dissenting voices in the crowd of 27,849 spectators.

A whirlwind body attack in the last three rounds won the decision for Risko. Towering over Risko like a black Goliath, Godfrey punched the Cleveland boy around the ring during the larger part of the first five rounds.

The tide of the battle shifted after the fifth round, Risko opening up a fierce body attack which Godfrey even with his superior strength and longer arms, was unable to stave off.

There were no knockdowns, and neither man was ever in danger of a knockout.

Risko won in spite of the fact that every physical advantage was against him. He conceded Godfrey 44½ pounds in weight, 5½ inches in height and 5 inches in reach. Risko weighed 190½.

Rain Again Halts Local Tennis Play

Rain once again interfered with the city tennis championships in progress at the Hawthorn Club courts and 1 and 2 o'clock matches scheduled for today were postponed.

It was believed that if rain would cease early in the afternoon, 3 o'clock and later matches would be able to be played.

Favored by fair weather Wednesday, many matches were completed, and officials today were hoping for a "break" with the weather man. Third round matches in the men's singles were on today's program together with the opening round of men's doubles.

Few upsets marred Wednesday's play, the Marshall Christopher victory over Tommy Hendricks attracting the most attention. Christopher, youthful Butler star, eliminated the former Princeton player, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Hendricks, a veteran performer, has been somewhat handicapped by a lack of practice and the flashy game displayed by Christopher proved too much for him.

Results of Wednesday's play:

Mrs. Jaqua

Mrs. Ben C. Stevenson had 205, and Miss Ruth White 211. They were about the cream of the low gross scores which means that most of the women were not playing their regular games.

In the net prize division we discover Miss Lou Austin, who finished with a gross of $218 and net $170. Miss Roxie Sharp, with a gross of $228 and net $179, tied with Mrs. E. Lukenhill who had gross $232 and net $162 for fourth prize.

GOLF CLUBHOUSE & FAIRWAY

WE beg to inform the golf fans of the city who might be interested in knowing whether or not a young lady who follows telephone operating for an occupation and plays golf for recreation is still good enough this year to win titles, cups and what not. We answer that she likely will defend successfully her title of city and State champion next month.

Tuesday and Wednesday Elizabeth Dunn took a rough from her regular duties to play in the two-day tournament staged by the Indianapolis Women's Golf Association over the Indianapolis Country Club and Meridian Hills Country Club courses.

Wednesday, in the rain, Miss Dunn was good for a 95 over the difficult country club links, which was six strokes better than her nearest competitors, Mrs. C. A. Jaqua and Mrs. J. C. Patten, with 101. Wednesday at Meridian Hills, Elizabeth worked like a motor boat on a couple of greens and just "putt-putt and putt-putt," until she finished with a 98. Thanks to the fact that she had the big lead Tuesday, for Mrs. Jaqua crashed through with a 98 that tied the day's performance of the double title holder.

Mrs. Jaqua, it will be remembered, battled Miss Dunn for the title of the city association a couple of years ago. She merely demonstrated in this meet that the local women are not ready to declare Elizabeth infallible, but just willing to admit she is pretty much of a golfer, probably six strokes better in any two-day meet.

Mrs. J. C. Patten, who tied with Mrs. Jaqua for second honors at the Country Club Tuesday, turned in a 99 Wednesday for a combined total gross score of 200.

Mrs. Ben C. Stevenson had 205, and Miss Ruth White 211. They were about the cream of the low gross scores which means that most of the women were not playing their regular games.

In the net prize division we discover Miss Lou Austin, who finished with a gross of $218 and net $170. Miss Roxie Sharp, with a gross of $228 and net $179, tied with Mrs. E. Lukenhill who had gross $232 and net $162 for fourth prize.
