

STORY OF HORROR IS BARED BY SHIPWRECK SURVIVOR

ONLY 4 OF 295 RESCUED FROM CHILEAN CRAFT

Transport Is Hurling on Rocks in Black Night;
Captain Kills Self.

SINKS IN FEW MINUTES

Crazed Men Drowned as Lifeboats Overturn in Raging Seas.

By United Press
SANTIAGO, Chile, July 9.—Impenetrable darkness, a furious storm just off shore, a broken rudder and a series of jagged rocks served to send the big Chilean transport Angamos down Friday night with only four of its 295 members of the crew and passenger list having been found alive today.

It was one of the greatest tragedies along this coastwise area and the suddenness with which the big craft sank left the four who recovered almost unable to describe what had happened.

The Angamos had been coaling in the Gulf of Arauco and it was believed to have steamed to sea to escape the storm. At sea an even worse storm was encountered.

The night was pitch dark and the craft was thrown between two rocks and its rudder broken. For a few minutes it tossed at the mercy of the waves and then it crashed on a reef seven miles off Lebu.

Captain Kills Self

Capt. Ismael Suarez, seeing his vessel a loss, committed suicide just before the big vessel heaved and then sank from view.

Jesse Aguilera, one of the four men who escaped death with the transport, today described those last torturing hours.

"We were steaming in the intense darkness Friday when suddenly the vessel struck between two rocks," he told the United Press today. "We remained out of control for a few minutes, losing our rudder. The vessel lay 300 yards from the shore. There was an unforgettable scene aboard the vessel. The passengers and the crew were making a struggle for their lives. Suddenly the ship began to founder, rapidly, sirens shrieked noisily.

Lifeboats Are Sunk

"It was evident there was no hope and the only alternative was to launch the lifeboats. They were packed with frantic men. The boats sank as fast as they left the vessel's side.

"I, with fellow survivors, grasped floating wreckage which a huge wave tossed thirty meters. When I recovered consciousness I was lying on the beach. I saw a light on the vessel and then heard a detonation like a pistol shot, which apparently was the captain killing himself."

A member of the crew, Carrillo, was too befuddled by the sudden sinking of his ship really to describe what had happened. He also became unconscious after reaching shore.

Save Two Others

Carrillo and Suarez saved two other members of the crew.

A number of women and children were aboard the craft, families being taken to a small coastal port.

The terrific storm that broke about the craft made rescue attempts almost impossible. The Angamos sent out one weak radio distress signal, apparently from an auxiliary station, which was picked up by the steamer Tarapaca.

The Tarapaca and the Apollo immediately started in search, but the signal had been so weak that both vessels had difficulty in determining the exact location.

The storm also prevented search for survivors or for bodies of those who perished as the lifeboats overturned in the stormy sea. Six bodies have been recovered.

Duke Undergoes Operation

By United Press
LONDON, July 9.—The King and Queen visited the Duke of Connaught both Saturday and Sunday, after he had undergone a slight nasal operation.

Puzzle: Whose Welcome Was Best?

"LA-A-A-DY LIN-N-DY!" Even the tug whistles in New York harbor seemed to shriek her name in welcome as the victorious crew of the Friendship landed in New York. "Hey, Amelia! Ray for Amelia!" yelled the crowd during the parade up Broadway. At the official reception at the city hall, she was the main attraction.

Her efforts to share the spotlight with Bill Stultz and Lou Gordon, the men who actually flew the plane to England, were in vain. Gotham was welcoming Miss Earhart; nobody else.

But Stultz and Gordon didn't care. Each had a private reception committee that knew how flying men liked to be welcomed. The two Mrs. Stultz, wife and mother, were there. Mrs. Wilmer Stultz and her husband are pictured at the left. So was Miss Anne Bruce, Gordon's pretty fiancée. She's shown with Gordon at the right.

Three spinster friends greeted Amelia Earhart (center). Her mother and sister, she explained, didn't come down from Boston. Of Samuel Chapman, who was named as her fiancée, she would say nothing. And he wasn't there to meet her. "Isn't that—won't you let that be a matter not for discussion?" pleaded "Lady Lindy."

TWO WIDOWS IN LIFE OF DOCTOR

Suit Filed at Plymouth
Causes Sensation.

By Times Special
PLYMOUTH, Ind., July 9.—A suit filed here by Mrs. Elizabeth E. Aspinall Baker, Los Angeles, Cal., seeking a share in the estate of Dr. Novitas B. Aspinall, has created a sensation, as the plaintiff declares she is the widow of the doctor despite a surviving widow here.

The California woman declares she and Dr. Aspinall were married in New York State forty-two years ago and that in 1888 the doctor left home and did not return. There were two children, a son and daughter. The former died, but the latter is now living in Los Angeles, Mrs. Aspinall-Baker asserts.

Admitting she married after Dr. Aspinall left, the purported widow asserts she believed him dead. She sets forth she was never divorced from the doctor.

MILLION TO COLLEGE

John D. Jr. Also Buys
Catholic Site for $500,000.

By United Press
NEW YORK, July 9.—Thirty years ago the Rockefeller family could have bought St. Joseph's Normal College from the Christian Brothers for $400,000.

Today it became known that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., had paid half a million dollars for the property and had donated $1,000,000 additional to the organization of Christian Brothers to defray expenses of moving the college to a new site.

The million dollars represents Rockefeller's first big contribution to Catholicism. He will tear down the buildings on St. Joseph's campus and add the 360 tract to the wooded section of his estate, Pocantico Hills.

EXTRA DRAFTSMEN WILL BE ASKED IN BUDGET

City Preparing for Street Widening Program Next Year.

An additional $1,500 a year for a draftsman was asked for 1929 in the city plan commission budget presented City Controller Sterling R. Holt today.

The extra draftsman was requested with the expectation that city council will grant the maximum $3 cent levy for the city thoroughfare plan for a city-wide street widening program.

Mayor L. Ert Slack said he expected to spend the week studying department budgets. Slack asked department heads to submit 1929 budgets to his office before they are turned over to City Controller Holt and made public.

Slack ordered city officials not to release their budget figures until after he approves them.

Ernest F. Frick, board secretary, indicated the work board will ask about $800,000 for water, light and power bills. Last year's appropriation of $700,000 was insufficient to meet the bills.

COPS TAKE OFF COATS

Citizens who have felt sympathy for the traffic officers in their buttoned blouses at work in the hot sun at busy intersections will rejoice in an order issued today by Police Chief Claude M. Worley.

Starting Tuesday all traffic officers will take off their coats. Instead of the heavy looking buttoned grousse they will be garbed in light gray flannel shirts. They will wear black neckties.

Son of Judge Faces Trial
VALPARAISO, Ind., July 9.—Floyd W. Williams, son of Judge Joseph W. Williams of Morgan Circuit Court, Martinsville, will be tried here Tuesday on a charge of driving an automobile while drunk. His father provided $1,000 bond for his release pending trial.

Returns Fawn

By United Press
ALBANY, N. Y., July 9.—

First Ballot, month-old spotted fawn, now a privileged member of Governor Smith's backyard zoo, is going back to a crippled little boy at Indian Lake—"and I'll give him another deer and a dog to boot," said the Governor.

The fawn, yet a bit wobbly on its feet, was presented to the Governor by the State conservation commission.

A mild controversy was precipitated, however, when Charles S. Carroll of Indian Lake, hotel proprietor, said the fawn was taken from his crippled 8-year-old son, who had made a pet of it, by conservation inspectors "to curry favor with the Governor."

Conservation Bureau officials denied they had given Carroll permission to keep the fawn permanently after he had found it straying near his hotel.

Week-End Brought Many to Water.

Five drownings lead a list of 11 violent deaths in Indiana over the week end. High temperature prevailing during the two-day period brought many persons to water for relief and all those drowned met death while at swimming places. Two slayings are recorded in the toll.

Robert J. McCleary, 25, and Lawrence Addison, 19, died in the waters of a gravel pit in Flat Rock River, three miles east of Newcastle, while swimming. Addison was dragged under by the current and McCleary lost his life in a rescue attempt.

ADJUST COAL RATES

Shippers, Roads Compromise
Scale of 1924.

Compromise settlement of the proposed short haul coal rates in Indiana has been approved at a hearing by the Public Service Commission, and the matter sent back to the Interstate Commerce Commission for final approval.

The case was heard originally at the Federal Bldg., before Examiner William Disque of the Interstate Board. It was brought by the railroad to increase rates laid down by the State commission in 1924.

Compromise settlement between shippers and the roads was proposed, but only the Baltimore and Ohio and the Pennsylvania agreed to the plan. After considerable argument before the Federal examiner Friday, it was decided to let the State body hear the case today.

Under the compromise rates the charge will be 60 cents a ton from one to thirty miles, and 80 cents where two roads handle the haul. Thirty to fifty miles will be 80 cents for single line and 90 cents for double line hauls.

The 1924 ruling rates are 50 cents one to ten tons, and 59 cents from ten to thirty miles, with no charge for double line hauling. The roads wanted 70 cents single and 80 cents double, one to ten; 80-90 ten to thirty, and 90 cents to $1, thirty to fifty.

BOSTON GREETES EARHART CREW

Roars Welcome to Fliers on Homecoming.

By United Press
BOSTON, July 9.—Amelia Earhart, who left here thirty-six days ago as an almost unknown social worker, came back today a famous woman.

The Ford tri-motored and Fokker planes, bringing the Earhart party from New York, arrived over Boston just after 11 a. m. and, after circling the city, headed for the east Boston airport.

Hundreds of persons watched from roof tops in the business district as the giant monoplanes, flying close together, soared over Boston in sweeping circles.

The fact that a scant 2,500 persons were gathered at the airport did not seem to detract from the enthusiasm of the welcome extended as the planes came down to perfect landings at 11:25 a. m.

Sirens shrieked, the whistles of harbor craft were blown in salute, and the self-appointed welcoming committee broke into cheers.

HOOVERIZING G. O. P.

Leaders to Meet Tuesday for Reorganization.

Hooverization of the Watson dominated Indiana Republican organization is scheduled for Tuesday at the Severin. State ticket candidates will meet with the State committee to conduct the process of Hooverization by appointment of an executive committee of twelve members and an advisory committee of one man and one woman from each district.

State Chairman Eliza O. Rogers, Harry Leslie, candidate for Governor, and National Committeeman M. Bert Thurman will lead in the Hooverization, an outstanding factor of which is expected to be the appointment of Oscar G. Foellinger, Ft. Wayne, State House manager in the primary, to the executive committee.

Rogers was in the city making plans for the meeting today. He and Leslie both visited Hoover at Washington, Rogers having just returned.

"We will work in perfect harmony with Hoover," Rogers asserted. "The Indiana program will be left in the hands of the national and State committee working in accord."

SPECIAL JUDGES NAMED TO HEAR GAMING CASES

Wetter Says He Is Going to
Ft. Wayne for State
Bar Meeting.

Municipal Judge Paul C. Wetter will not be on the bench to dispose of several cases of alleged pool selling and gaming that come up in his court Friday, July 13.

This was learned today when Wetter told Earl Cox, attorney, he had been selected to sit as special judge Thursday and that Harry Yockey was to be special judge, Friday.

Wetter told Cox he was going to the State Bar Association meeting Thursday and Friday at Ft. Wayne. Cox protested against being named special judge for Thursday, stating he also desired to attend the association meeting.

Wetter indicated another attorney may be named to sit Thursday in Cox's place. Cox probably will be disqualified by Wetter.

Seven Negroes Fined

The cases which are to come up Friday have been continued from other dates, some of them twice. Two alleged pool sellers will be in court for trial Thursday.

Yockey, when sitting as special judge for Wetter, recently brought up the question of having actual proof of baseball games being played before baseball pool tickets could be considered gaming devices. He indicated that unless there were eye witnesses to the games there was no actual proof of money being placed, through the purchase of tickets, on a specific game.

Wetter today fined seven Negroes for gaming in a poolroom operated by John Woodson, Negro, at 1902 Martindale Ave. The Negroes, and the fines are: Woodson, $10 and fifteen days in jail, days suspended; Percy Alexander, 1815 Columbia Ave., $10; Earl Watkins, 1722 Shelton St., $5; Robert Haynes, 2042 Yandes St., $5; Oakley Artis, 2369 N. Oxford St., $5 and Robert Phelps, 2023 Columbia Ave., $5.

Denies Acting As "Lookout"

Woodson admitted asking Sergeant Frank Reilly, in charge of the raiding squad to let "some of the boys go." Alexander told the court he was "talking to his wife's grandfather" when the police came and he went across the street.

"The sergeant called me back and told me to consider myself under arrest," he said.

He denied yelling in the door, "get 'em up," when the police arrived, and also denied being the "lookout" for the place. He said he had been arrested four times before for gaming at this place, which, he stated, he formerly operated.
