

BURGLARS AND BANDITS STAGE NEW RAMPAGE

Cracksmen Get $200 Out of Drug Store; Robber Is Knocked Down.

"High-powered" bandits continued to give Indianapolis a wide berth as the result of the police "shoot-to-kill" war, but burglars and petty holdup men operated in several sections of the city over the week-end. The police check-up today showed nine burglaries, in which $465 in money and goods was taken, and seven holdups, in which the total loot was $309. One holdup man was captured by a pedestrian who knocked him down and held him until police arrived. A parked motorist told a story of having shot a would-be bandit in Garfield Park.

A Negro who gave the name of Bill Griffin stepped from a dark doorway at Delaware and South Sts. and ordered Floyd Gregory, 525 S. New Jersey St., to stop. Gregory knocked the Negro down and sat on him until police arrived.

Fires at Fair in Park

McKinley Armstrong, merchant policeman, 1508 Kelly St., told police he was sitting in his car in Garfield Park with Miss Cletra Hendrick, 712 Prospect St., Saturday night, getting $7, on the pretext that he wanted a match.

Armstrong said he fired and believed he struck the bandit in the stomach. Burglars took $12, hidden in a clock, at the Russell Timmons barber shop, 235 E. Sixteenth St., and then went to the adjoining Harrison drug store, 1532 N. Alabama St., worked the combination of a safe and took $200.

A young Negro robbed J. W. Walls, 46, of 3455 W. Michigan St., late Saturday night, getting $7, on the pretext that he wanted a match.

Two bandits held up the Indiana Refining Company filling station at Southeastern and State Aves., getting $100 Saturday night. The same men are suspected of holding up the Standard Oil station at Madison Ave. and Pleasant Run Blvd., where Walter Van Arsdale, 1137 Oliver Ave., the attendant, was robbed of $100.

Louis Weiss, proprietor of a restaurant, 134 N. Pennsylvania St., said a burglar entered the restaurant by way of a rear window, carrying away a box of cigars and $15.

Store Door Forced

A rear door of the Nancy Ladd Dry Goods Co., 233 E. Sixteenth St., was forced by a burglar, who obtained $5. The Charles Dalke restaurant, 231 E. Sixteenth St., was ransacked, but nothing was missing. The Kroger grocery at 1530 N. Alabama St. was entered by a burglar but nothing was taken.

A burglar entered the home of Oakra Denny, 928 Division St. Denny missed a black bill fold containing $10, and his gold watch valued at $30. Frank Jones of the same address was robbed of a pair of trousers, a shirt and $5.

G. H. Duncan, 233 Hanson Ave., reported a burglar entered his home by way of a front window, getting $15 from Duncan and $10 from Kenster Edens.

Other burglary victims: Mrs. John Jones, 1442 S. Belmont Ave.; twenty chickens valued at $30. James Long, 211 Douglas St., mortgages and other valuable papers.

H. A. Bridge, 1352 N. Kealing Ave., money and jewelry, $108. H. A. Nisley, camera and camera, $40.

Sergt. William Dever arrested two 14-year-old boys caught trying to break into a vacant store room at Michigan and Patterson Sts.

2 CANDIDATES FOR LIBRARIAN IN CITY

Wilcox and Dickerson Here to Confer With School Board.

With rival candidates of two school board factions in the city, appointment of an Indianapolis librarian today assumed the aspect of a political campaign.

The two candidates here were Dr. Edwin Mead Wilcox, Chicago, prominent as a botanist, reported to be the choice of Commissioners Fred Kepner and Mrs. Lillian Sedwick, and Luther L. Dickerson, executive secretary, adult education committee, of the American Library Association, Chicago.

Dickerson is the choice of President Theodore F. Vonnegut, who is understood to have the backing of Commissioners Charles W. Kern and Lewis E. Whitman.

Appointment Falls

Wilcox arrived Saturday from Chicago and arranged for a conference with Kern for 9:30 a. m. today at the school board offices. After waiting more than an hour for Kern to appear, Wilcox left the school board offices, presumably in search of Kern.

Dickerson arrived early today and went directly to Vonnegut's office, where he met Whitman. Later he and two commissioners visited Kern's office, where a short conference was held. He was invited here today by Vonnegut.

Wilcox said he had visited Kepner and intended to see the other commissioners, except Mrs. Sedwick, who is on vacation.

The turbulent situation, Kern said, probably will result in no action being taken on selection of a successor to Librarian Charles E. Rush at the board meeting Tuesday night. Rush will assume his duties as Columbia University Teachers' College librarian Sept. 1, but will leave here on vacation Aug. 15.

Kern said the board probably would defer action on the appointment until return of Mrs. Sedwick in order a conference might be held.

Salary Is Difficult

The appointment is causing board members considerable worry because of difficulty in finding a capable librarian willing to accept the present salary, $5,500 a year. There are a number of possibilities at a higher figure.

Unless board members can devise a way of raising increased librarian salary funds, it may be impossible to pay more than $5,500.

Pound 'Guests' May Miss Their Dinners; Food in Auto Crash.

SOME city dog pound "guests" may go without dinner as the result of an automobile accident today at Sixteenth and Meridian Streets.

A city truck carrying dog food was being driven east on Sixteenth St. by Cecil DeLoft, 27, of 639 Davidson St., when it was struck by an automobile being driven south on Meridian St. by Richard Byrmaster, 21, of 1728 N. Meridian St.

The automobile was demolished and a can of dog food was thrown through a window of the Art Craft Furniture Company, 1553 N. Meridian St., by the force of the crash.

Dog food was thrown for several yards about the accident spot.

SUCCESS LAGS; GIRL ENDS LIFE

Art Student Kills Self in New York.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Convinced that her dreams of artistic prominence would never come true, Miss Maryvyl Eglund, moody young Minnesota school teacher, killed herself by tying a silk stocking around her throat.

At her home in Glenville, Minn., she showed artistic ability. She painted even as a child. She came to New York. She studied hard, paying her way by teaching. She could find no buyer for her art. She sold a few sketches to advertising concerns, but could not make sufficient money to devote her entire time to art.

Saturday she returned to New York from a Maine camp. She went to the apartment of Miss Alice Moudy, a Terre Haute (Ind.) teacher now studying in New York. She paced the floor all night, and at 4 a. m. told Miss Moudy how she had been without sleep for a week.

Miss Moudy quieted her and retired.

When she failed to appear for breakfast Miss Moudy went to the room, found the girl's body with a light silk stocking wrapped tightly about the throat.

UNITED NORTH AND SOUTH IS COOLIDGE PLEA

Day of Sectional Strife Is Past, President Says at Dedication.

By United Press

CANON FALLS, Minn., July 30.—An end to North and South Civil War animosities, fanned for years "for political advantage," was demanded by President Coolidge here in an address dedicating a memorial to one of the northern heroes of the Battle of Gettysburg.

"While isolated outbreaks may continue to occur in irresponsible quarters, I firmly am convinced that the responsible elements in both North and South look with pride and satisfaction upon the brilliant contribution which the other is making to the national welfare," the President said.

He said that the "day of sectionalism is passed," and warned that those who resort to stimulation of sectional animosities "should find that their standing in the public confidence thereby is seriously impaired."

Tribute to Heroes

The President paid tribute to the memory of Col. William Colville, whose desperate charge with his 1st Minnesota Infantry broke the first and second line of the Confederates' advance on the second day at Gettysburg. Only forty-seven of the 262 men who started the charge finished it.

"In all the history of warfare this charge has few if any equals, and no superiors," the President said. "By holding the Confederate forces in check until other reserves came up, it probably saved the Union Army from defeat."

"Washington, Philadelphia, New York and the whole heart of the North would have been open to invasion. . . . Colonel Colville and those eight companies of the First Minnesota are entitled to rank among the saviors of this country."

Taking up the principles involved in the struggle, Mr. Coolidge said some of the ablest minds "honestly differed" in their interpretations of our institutions.

Pleads for Sympathy

"That generation of the South found itself involved in a net of circumstances which very much of the best thought deplored, but from which it was totally unable to extricate itself," he said.

"We can see now that instead of EVANSVILLE, Ind., July 30.—Three hundred pennies were laid upon the desk of Probate Judge Lockyear here by three boys, guilty of robbing a museum collection box. The court as a sentence ordered the boys to earn and return money they stole, and the $3 in pennies comprised their earnings as caddies.

being charged with all the blame, they were in many ways entitled to sympathy. . . . It was humanly impossible for either section of itself to furnish an adequate solution."

The President referred to the earlier "complete prostration" of the South, and of its rapid recent progress. He made a defense of the North's anti-slavery issue, saying: "It has been demonstrated that what never could have been created under a condition of servitude is the almost natural result of a condition of freedom. Human nature has been so designed that men are at their best only when they are permitted to live like men."

FLAY QUIZZING OF STEPHENSON

Prisoner's Counsel in Attack on Gilliom.

By Times Special

LA PORTE, Ind., July 30.—Questioning of D. C. Stephenson, life term murder convict at the Indiana State prison last Tuesday by Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliom, "borders on contempt of the La Porte Circuit Court," the convict's counsel declares.

Filing a motion to exclude from the court records all testimony given by Stephenson to Gilliom, the prisoner's counsel, Robert H. Moore and Louis Chudom, Gary lawyers, declare the attorney general's action in questioning their client was "cowardly, unethical, illegal and improper."

The attorney general, Stephenson's lawyers assert, notified them the deposition which they attack would be taken at 2 p. m. last Tuesday, but instead Gilliom started the quiz in the forenoon, when Stephenson did not have the benefit of counsel.

Bans Knickers on Women

A program of games and speeches was given 225 residents and former residents of Putnam County at Garfield park. Mrs. Lena Hubbard was general chairman. Fred Starr, superintendent of the Noblesville schools, former Putnam resident, was principal speaker. Music was rendered by Dr. Edward Dron of Southport. Judith Harper of Chicago, and Charles Joyce of Indianapolis. Bruce Lane is president and Miss Carrie L. Johnson is secretary.

Orphan Picnic Planned

A concert was given Sunday afternoon by the Beech Grove Christian Church orchestra in Sara T. Blotom Memorial Park at Beech Grove. The concerts are given on alternate Sundays. They are sponsored by the Beech Grove Civic League of which Edward Ibeling is president.

Horatio Harryman is chairman for the Martin County picnic to be held Aug. 12 in Garfield Park. Many former residents are expected to attend.

The Junior Orphan Aid Society sponsored its sixth annual picnic in Columbia Park Sunday.
