WORLD'S FAIR OF RADIO WILL OPEN SEPT. 17

Excellent Programs Will Be Broadcast During Week's Exposition.

By Times Special
 NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The Radio World's Fair will be held here Sept. 17 to 22 and there will be continuous broadcasting, afternoon and evening, from the Crystal Studio in Madison Square Garden.

Edgar H. Felix, New York City broadcast consultant and author, who directed broadcasting last year, again will have the responsibility of arranging programs to please both a visible audience and an invisible audience.

Several stations will participate in the broadcasts. They include AWBC, new key station of the Columbia broadcasting system; WEAF, National broadcasting company; WJZ, National broadcasting company; WGBS, Gimbel Bros. WMCA, McAlpin Hotel; WOR, L. Bamberger & Co., Newark, and key station of Columbia broadcasting system, and WNYR, Radio News Magazine.

Artists who provide the entertainment will appear in costume, and to observe their microphone technique through the crystal walls of the studio, will be much like attending a production on the speaking stage. Many of the regular features which have endeared themselves to the radio public will be broadcast from the crystal studio instead of the studio from which they ordinarily are put on the air.

By virtue of this plan and the special features which station directors and Felix are planning, millions of the country's radio listeners will be provided with the opportunity of attending the radio world's fair by proxy.

The crystal studio will be enlarged greatly, occupying nearly twice as much space as in any previous year. Interior dimensions are 40x27 feet, providing ample space to accommodate large acts with orchestras of fifty-five to sixty pieces.

Control rooms and other necessary space also will be provided in addition to the studio. An artists' lobby will be constructed where the stars will greet the visiting fans.

With the exception of an hour between 5 and 6 o'clock, broadcasting will be continuous from 2 p. m. until 11 p. m.

Seiberlings to Play

Listeners-in will find a new delicacy next Tuesday night, Sept. 11, when Seiberling Saloon orchestra will make its first appearance. Playing the "Sleeping Beauty Waltz" from Tchaikovsky's ballet, "Dornroschen," a salon group of strings and piano will vie with the famous Seiberling Singers quartet, who returned to the air last week from a European concert tour, the equally famous "singing violins," and Ohman and Arden.

The Seiberling hour goes on the air every Tuesday night from 7:30 to 8 p. m. Indianapolis time, through twenty-nine stations of the National Broadcasting Company's Red network. It is estimated that between twenty and twenty-five million listeners-in can dial "the hour."

Peerless Players on Air

A new series of nation-wide radio programs, introducing the "Peerless Reproducer," in a half-hour of symphonic music with vocal and instrumental novelties, will be broadcast over the networks of the National Broadcasting Company throughout the entire United States each Sunday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock, Indianapolis time, beginning Sept. 16.

The "Peerless Reproducer," to perform in the New York studios of the NBC, are a unique ensemble, containing every instrument of the modern symphony orchestra, and composed almost exclusively of former members of the New York Philharmonic and the Philadelphia and New York Symphonies.

Werrenrath to 'Teach'

The notable experiments of Walter Damrosch toward the symphonic education of the American people by radio are to be duplicated in the realm of song by one of America's foremost baritones, Reinhard Werrenrath.

The new venture will be launched with a series of programs under the general title, "Famous Songs and Those Who Made Them," to be heard each Sunday night through stations associated with the National Broadcasting Company. The inaugural program will go out over the NBC System on Sunday night, Sept. 16, from 6 to 6:30 p. m. (Indianapolis Time).

Bryan Speech on WLW

By Times Special
 CINCINNATI, Sept. 4.—William Jennings Bryan and the "Cross of Gold" speech that made him famous, will be re-created by WLW Thursday at 9:30 p. m.

It will be one of the Crosley station's historical high lights which are bringing to radio listeners glimpses of the history-making events of the past century as recorded by the newspapers of the day.

"You shall not press down upon the brow of labor this crown of thorns. You shall not crucify mankind upon a cross of gold." That glowing utterance which made of "the boy orator of the Platte" a national figure will come to WLW's audience at a part of the historical feature.

Vitaphone on Radio

Features of the Apollo theater program that will be broadcast over station WKBF at 9 o'clock tonight will include both Vitaphone and Movietone acts presented at the Apollo. The Movietone contribution is a melodious oddity called "In a Music Shoppe." There will be two Vitaphone acts, one a mixture of

HUNT ESCAPED INSANE KILLERS

Aroused Countryside Joins Ohio Search.

By United Press

LIMA, Ohio, Sept. 4.—An aroused countryside joined today in the search for Clarence Beard, 32, and Thomas McKenna, 38, who escaped from the State asylum here after overpowering a guard and scaling a wall.

Both men are killers and authorities expressed the fear that other killings will result if the men are cornered.

Beard was sent to the asylum from Cleveland after killing Stephen Zaborski, 45, former cashier and secretary of the Lithuanian Savings and Loan Company.

McKenna was committed to the asylum for the murder of a Lima policeman in a sensational gun battle here several years ago.

Beard was a fugitive from the Michigan State Hospital at Jonia when he was taken into custody.

Zaborski, the banker, was shot to death during a holdup on Jan. 31. Two bandits fled with $600. A month later Beard, or Clarence Germaine, as he was then known, was captured in St. Louis.

He was known also as "Convention Clarence." Police said he would attend large conventions, pose as a delegate, familiarize himself with a bank, hold the place up, then return to his disguise as one of the convention delegates.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Sept. 4.—In the presence of Catholic visitors from all parts of the world the 29th

International Eucharistic Congress will be opened here tomorrow for a five-day program of ceremonies and deliberations.

It is the first time that Sydney

has been host to such a gathering.

Both transportation and housing have presented difficult problems to the committee in charge, but upon the arrival last week of Cardinal

Ceretti, the Papal Legate, it was announced that arrangements to accommodate the thousands of pilgrims had been completed. The city is thronged with tourists.

A solemn triduum of preparation toxication. Police said Sears' car struck James Polin, 44, Negro, 2528

Twenty-Fifth St., near his home.

Polin was dragged forty feet, police said.

Truck Overturned

Automobiles driven by Charles

Weir, 4360 Kenwood Ave., and Fred

Nichols, 36, of 6135 Central Ave.

collided at Twenty-Second and Park Ave.

Mrs. Elvira Nichols, 72, and Mrs. Clara Nichols were both slightly injured.

When an ice cream truck on which they were riding overturned at Forty-Ninth St. and Capitol Ave., Emory Leader, 21, of 4127 Bowman Ave., the driver, and Harry L. Ruck, 52, of 4816 N. Illinois St., were seriously injured.

Eight persons received minor injur ies when cars driven by C. L.

Smith, Gas City, Ind., and Lee

Davis, Negro, 1917 Hovey St.,

collided at Emerson Ave. and Twenty-First St.

and rolled into the ditch. The drivers of the cars were cut and bruised, as were Smith's mother and brother, Donald, 1, and Miss Alice

Curtiss, and Dunkins' wife and two children.

Dr. C. R. Perdue, 6057 Central

Ave., told police that James H.

Nicely, 49, of 3652 Clinton St.,

driver of a car that struck him at Fortieth and Capitol Ave., was intoxicated.

Police arrested Nicely on a driving while intoxicated charge.
