LEFTY GROVE TO START

Mack Also to Pitch Walberg Against Champs.

By Times Special

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Little old sophisticated New York is experiencing trouble attempting to conceal its excitement. Seventy thousand baseball fans are expected to mill their way into Yankee Stadium Sunday for the opening double-header of the important series between the Athletics and Yankees.

The American League pennant may be decided by the four-game series and ten thousand Philadelphia fans are expected to make the trip Sunday, it was said by railroad officials.

The two league leading teams will rest Monday and will play single games Tuesday and Wednesday.

Connie Mack announced today he will pitch Lefty Grove and Rube Walberg in the double-header.

Philadelphia supporters are confident Grove and Walberg will left-hand the Yankees out of first place. It is understood that Mack will put Jimmy Fox back on first and Dykes on third. Fox's recent batting slump has been attributed to his worry over playing third. It is figured that Orwoll will help more in the box than on the initial sack.
