DUVALL ORDER COMES TO LIFE FOR LESLIE DAY

Marion County 'Elephants,' 1,000 Strong, March on Lafayette.

Like the mythical Phoenix, which rose from its own ashes, the National Order of Elephants, organized here during the Mayor John L. Duvall regime, came to life Saturday and took the Leslie day meeting at Lafayette by storm.

Townfolk of Lafayette and delegations from Tippecanoe and other counties, including a large group from Marion, Ind., were already on hand when the Marion County delegation arrived. The meeting had started and Harry G. Leslie, G. O. P. gubernatorial candidate, in whose honor the event had been arranged in his home town, had delivered his address.

Then with a blare of trumpets from the N. O. E. women's drum corps, in marched the Marion County delegation, almost one thousand strong. Its forces were almost equal to those of the "home folks" who had assembled to honor their native son. Elephants heading the delegation wore N. O. E. caps of elephant design.

Tutewiller in Charge

The Marion County delegation included George V. Coffin, Seventh district chairman, and Omer Hawkins, county chairman.

Harry Tutewiller seemed to be in charge of the Elephants, although Sumner Clancy, State Senator, is president of the organization. The organization has received little publicity since Duvall and the councilmen of his regime were shorn of power.

Tutewiller, in a "whispering" campaign at Lafayette, pointed out that the organization is a lively one in Marion County and any one may join who can subscribe to the Republican principles in State and Nation, he said.

Among the ardent greeters of the Elephants was Governor Ed Jackson, who, at that time, was not on the speakers' platform, but standing with the crowd in the rear. He shook hands with several of the members and seemed to enjoy the pageantry.

Leslie Assails Smith

Leslie assailed the Smith stand against prohibition and emphasized his own bone-dry, decency and fitness for office.

GANGSTER BLOOD IN DRINK, SAYS PASTOR

New Links Between Crime and Police, Declares Philly Official.

By United Press PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 17.—

With arrests of "most importance" promised for this week by District Attorney Monaghan, Philadelphia started a new week of investigation of its rum racket which it is estimated has earned at least $2,000,000 annually.

The district attorney gave out an interview in which he said he had new evidence of the liaison between police and bootleggers.

Dr. A. Ray Petty, pastor of Grace Baptist Temple Sunday night told his congregation that he would lead a campaign of his own against vice if "influence" stopped the present grand jury investigation or brought it to naught.

The pastor denounced Mayor Harry A. Mackey's invitation to Billy Sunday, evangelist, to come to Philadelphia for its interpretation of the speech of Thomas H. Adams, Vincennes, before the Irvington Republican Club. He praised Adams.

Senators Arthur R. Robinson and James E. Watson, Frederick E. Schortemeier, Secretary of State, and Miss Dorothy Cunningham, national committeewoman from Indiana, also spoke. Congressman Will R. Wood presided.

Philadelphia to a revival service. He said the city needed a "revival of integrity in city hall," rather than an organized religious revival. "In every cocktail is the blood of a gangster. You who have purchased it are worse than anarchists. You're educated, hypocritical bolsheviks, and I don't care whether you like it or not," he said. Over the week-end 275 persons were arrested for drunkenness.

Killed in Racket Row

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Sept. 17.—In a pistol fight that resulted from a double mistake in identity, Giuseppe De Luca, fruit farm foreman, was killed and Lawrence Powell, deputy game warden, was desperately wounded.

De Luca mistook Powell for an agent of Philadelphia "racketeers" whom he expected to kill him.

He was met at the station by Representative Harry Rowbottom, Mayor Herbert Males and Judge Phillip C. Gould and taken to a hotel for breakfast with city officials and politicians. A full-day conference, a banquet and a political meeting tonight at the Coliseum confronted the vice presidential nominee. He planned to make a farm relief speech tonight, but announced no subject for his banquet address. All State Republican nominees and officials were invited to the noon affair.

Curtis was optimistic over the Republican prospects in Kentucky after his two-day visit there. Republican leaders told him the Blue Grass State would give Hoover and him a majority of at least 50,000 in November.

Clergy Meeting Set BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 17.—Conference of the Episcopal clergy of the diocese of Indianapolis will be held here at St. Margaret's Hall Sept. 19, 20 and 21. Bishop Joseph M. Francis will preside.

OLD GOLD wins at the opera when charming Lucrezia Bori makes the Blindfold cigarette test

"When anything happens to my throat and I cannot sing, it seems to me as though the world stops!"

"So you can imagine that I choose my cigarettes quite carefully and that I welcomed the opportunity to make this scientific test."

"It was most interesting, for one of the four cigarettes was so smooth and gentle . . . and yet of such fine flavor . . . that I chose it at once. It was an OLD GOLD."

Lucrezia Bori

Miss Bori was asked to smoke each of the four leading brands, clearing her taste with coffee between smokes. Only one question was asked . . . "Which one do you like best?"

As Miss Bori appears in the role of Melisande in Maeterlinck's beautiful opera—"Pelleas and Melisande."

LUCREZIA BORI . . . The world's greatest lyric soprano . . . whose successes at the Metropolitan in "Pelleas and Melisande," "Pagliacci," "Traviata," "Romeo and Juliet," and as Mimi in "La Boheme," have been internationally admired.

The simple secret of OLD GOLD'S charm

Three types of leaves grow on the tobacco plant . . . coarse, heavy top-leaves, irritating to the throat . . . withered ground-leaves, without taste or aroma . . . and the heart-leaves, rich in cool and fragrant smoking qualities. These golden-ripe heart-leaves give OLD GOLDS their honey-like smoothness. That's why you can always pick them—even in the dark.
