

SMITH IS ON HIS WAY WEST TO ANGLE FOR FARM VOTE

AL ON WAY TO SHOW WEST HIS BROWN DERBY

Democrat Nominee to Open Campaign Tuesday Night at Omaha.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES
United Press Staff Correspondent

ABOARD GOVERNOR SMITH'S SPECIAL TRAIN EN ROUTE TO OMAHA, Sept. 17.—Governor Alfred E. Smith was on his way today for his brown derby campaign to win the West.

The derby, a bright, shiny one, was tucked away in the luxurious special car which carried the Democratic candidate through the Middle West for the first elaboration of his stand on agricultural relief and other issues since he accepted his party's nomination for President.

He will open his campaign Tuesday night at Omaha with a detailed analysis of his position on the farm relief problem, the dominant issue in that vast territory beyond the Mississippi, much of which the former east side boy will see for the first time on his tour.

Governor Smith slept late today, recuperating from the strain of his last day in Albany, when he personally supervised the packing for the tour.

Has Big Sendoff

He had an arduous physical task, too, in getting through the crowds of Albany citizens which packed the station to wish him farewell and good luck.

It was an old-fashioned "red fire" sendoff.

As Smith and Mrs. Smith and their daughter, Mrs. John A. Warner, stepped from their car at the station there was the sputter from a score of torches and the street was emblazoned with the brilliant crimson glow. The crowd set up a tremendous whoop. Smith wore his brown derby.

"Good luck, Al," they shouted. "Bring back the West."

State troopers had to elbow with all their might to open a path through the crowd. Inside the station they met a larger crowd. The Governor was escorted to the middle of the waiting room, and there was presented with a large basket of flowers and a horseshoe made of yellow chrysanthemums.

Train Equipped With Radio

The special car in which the candidate and his party are traveling, the St. Nicholas, belonging to William F. Kenny—is equipped with three radio receiving sets, so that the candidate at all times may keep closely in touch with what goes on in the world he leaves behind him and that before him, especially campaign developments.

Tonight he will tune in on Hoover's speech at Newark, N. J., and if there is any issue raised there that he thinks should be met he will meet it, as is his custom, and as he has promised.

The train's first scheduled stop is for an hour at Chicago tonight. The train is scheduled to reach Omaha at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday for the speech that night.

From Omaha the Governor will proceed southward to Oklahoma City for a speech Thursday night to bolster up Democratic forces in that State, where Republicans are making a threat. Then he will turn northward toward Denver, where he will speak Saturday night. The following week he will make addresses at Helena, Mont.; St. Paul and Milwaukee, before turning eastward for Rochester, where he will address the State Democratic convention on Oct. 1. From Rochester the Governor will return to Albany for a few days' rest before starting on the second leg of his campaign.

He will show himself widely in the West by over thirty short stops, ranging from fifteen minutes to an hour. At some of the latter he will enter the city for a formal welcome.

Travels Through New Country

Smith has visited but two of the cities in which he will make addresses, Omaha and Denver. He attended the Democratic convention in the latter city in 1908 and was in Omaha on his return from this convention and from the San Francisco convention in 1920. He will travel through new country to him on the route through the northwest.

Two western political figures are making the trip, former Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock of Nebraska, who is accompanying the candidate, and National Committeeman Bruce Kremer of Montana. Hitchcock lives in Omaha. He will leave the train there, but Kremer will make the entire trip.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana is expected to join the train in the west and also National Committeeman Scott Ferris of Oklahoma.

CHURCHMEN MEET

Mayor Greets Evangelical Delegates.

"A large percentage of the troubles of municipal governments," Mayor L. Ert Slack said in his address of welcome to the seventh national convention of Evangelical brotherhoods at the Zion Evangelical Church this morning, "are due to petty politics and destructive criticism."

"Of the four great units of government, the city is most difficult to handle, because the government is closest to the people. They do not have such contact with the Federal, State or county government. The mayor is personally held responsible for everything that goes wrong, whether a street is torn up or a garbage collector fails to come around."

"The city welcomes this brotherhood to the city," he concluded. "Every community needs a soul-stirring that we may have less of the disturbance that comes from the criticism that is a mere assault on government. We must set our heads against such criticism and have confidence in government; we welcome men who have such confidence."

Communication service at 9 a. m. was shared by 250 delegates. The Rev. F. P. Puhlmann of Cumberland conducted the service, at which Dr. J. Baltzer delivered the sermon.

Dr. Herman G. Morgan, city sanitarian, ordered impounded all dogs caught off premises of their owners without a leash. The dogs must be in town even if they are accompanied away from home by the owner.

Four persons were bitten by dogs over the week-end.

The quarantine was the result of a conference of State and city health authorities in which it was disclosed that attacks by dogs in Marion County are more numerous than elsewhere in Indiana, being even higher than the greater population of Indianapolis would explain. Two persons have died of rabies in the last few weeks.

The board of safety will confer with Dr. Morgan Tuesday. If necessary an additional dog catching crew will be employed to enforce the quarantine, Dr. Morgan said.

The four dogs which bit persons during the week-end were ordered penned up for observation.
