

FARM FORCES OPEN FIGHT TO UNSEAT SETTLE

Everett McClure Quits as Director to Take Stump for Hoover.

Resignation of Everett McClure, prominent Republican farmer, of Aurora, Ind., as Tenth district director of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation was interpreted in political circles today as the forerunner of an effort to unseat William H. Settle, strong Smith-for-President advocate, as president of the organization.

McClure's resignation was disclosed when he was announced as an acquisition to the speakers' bureau of the Republican State committee today. He will make speeches throughout the campaign in behalf of Herbert Hoover's candidacy, discussing farm issues State and National. John G. Brown, chairman of the agricultural department of the Republican State committee, made the announcement.

His resignation, McClure explained, was to comply with the rules and regulations of the Federation which prohibit an officer or director from making an active part in partisan politics during his tenure of office.

Long Leader of Farmers
McClure was master of the Indiana State grange two years; president of the Dearborn County farm bureau nine years; vice president of the Indiana farm bureau federation three years, and director of the federation five years.

Discussion of McClure's resignation will come before the directors here Monday when a test may be made of sentiment for Settle's removal.

Settle, sharply criticized for his expressions of "personal" indorsement of Governor Alfred E. Smith's farm relief program as opposed to that of the Republican nominee, crystallized strong Republican farm sentiment against him in certain quarters, it was understood.

Directors were balanced politically when they pondered platform pledges of the two parties a few weeks ago. McClure's resignation, it was thought, might arouse further antagonism in the rank and file to Settle and result in his displacement.

Invites Others to Resign
"I have believed and still believe in the farm bureau," McClure's resignation said. "I have worked and shall continue to work for the best interests of the farmers of Indiana. I feel that partisan actions, speeches and writings will tend to disrupt and destroy the organization and will turn member against member."

"I invite other members of the officials and board of directors who desire to take part in partisan politics to join me in resigning from office and then proceed to work for their political preferences."

Settle said McClure's resignation should have been tendered to his district organization, for it will be called on to name a successor. Asked if he was aware of an organized effort to unseat him, he said, "I hear all kinds of stories."

INSTALL 'LOCKED' SAFES

Gas Station Attendants Unable to Open New Boxes.

Bad news for bandits.
Standard Oil Company filling stations in the city recently were equipped with large safes that the attendants are unable to open.

Attendants may put lump sums in the safes through openings in the top, but the money is taken out by messengers who make the rounds in armored cars.

It looks like a tough winter for the bandit fraternity.

FAIL TO PIN SLAYING

Wife of Suspects in Miller
Death Implicates One.

Although Indianapolis witnesses have failed to identify Raymond Moon, 32, Terre Haute "talkative" bandit, and his companion, Walter Sanders, 26, as the two men who shot and killed Paul Miller, motor policeman, here July 17, Terre Haute detectives today announced that Moon's wife had made a statement declaring her husband implicated Sanders in the Miller slaying.

Mrs. Moon's detailed description of the shooting as told her by her husband checked with the facts, Terre Haute detectives said. Moon and Sanders have denied any guilt in Miller's death and detectives have been unable to discover and evidence connecting him with the slaying other than his reported statement he was wanted here in connection with the case.

FLORIDA RELIEF WORKERS FACE GIGANTIC TASK

Heavy Rains Retard Crews;
Millions Needed to Aid Sufferers.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Sept. 25.—The tedious task of rehabilitation continued slowly today in the hurricane-swept area, where 2,200 persons are believed to have perished.

The number of known dead stood at 769 as Howard Selby, Red Cross director, departed for Washington to confer with President Coolidge and Herbert Hoover and to place full data on the flood situation before government officials.

Heavy rains continued to retard progress of crews of workers engaged in the rehabilitation program.

The medical department of the local Red Cross chapter estimated 1,600 persons not on Selby's known death list had perished in the hurricane and subsequent flood.

The department said 2,881 families, representing 12,220 persons, were homeless. After a survey of the devastated area, officials estimated a total of $12,000,000 would be needed to carry on Red Cross relief and rehabilitation work here.

DE PAUW HEAD TALKS

Condemns Press Poisoning
in Political Races.

Condemning newspapers that "poison the minds of people in political campaigns," Dr. G. Bromley Oxnam, new president of De Pauw University, delivered his first Indianapolis address at the Young Peoples' meeting of the Missionary Social Union in the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday night. Dr. Oxnam refused to discuss Indianapolis papers specifically.

"The press can be either constructive or thoroughly destructive depending on its objective," said Oxnam. Departing frequently from his announced subject, "Youth and the New America," Dr. Oxnam dealt briefly with the necessity for international brotherhood as an agent for outlawing war.

Dr. Oxnam pleaded for a co-operative spirit among all denominational churches to combat selfish competition. The Missionary Social Union has been using Dr. Oxnam's book, "Youth and the New America," as subject material during the institute.

Marriage Sign

When money is low and you can't afford to buy that marriage license today and tell her the county clerk's office is closed in order to stall until pay day, don't let her get near the courthouse. Because if the office is closed and it is after hours or Saturday afternoon, she will spot the sign nailed to the main entrance to the office by Lineback, marriage license clerk.

The glass covered, printed sign bears Lineback's official title, his home address, 324 Blake St., his phone number, Rl. 2902, and direction how to reach his residence on two street car lines and a description of the house in which he lives.

OPEN BUTTONLESS CLUB FOR HOOVER CAMPAIGN

New Headquarters at English's Appeals for Badges.

Hoover-for-President clubs of Indiana are engaged with Hoover's western campaign headquarters at Chicago in a merry game of "Button! Button! Who's got the button?"

Tens of thousands of Hoover buttons have been distributed by Hoover headquarters on the Monument Circle to allied Hoover clubs throughout the State. Hundreds have been handed to passersby.

Now Marion County Hoovers have opened headquarters on the mezzanine floor of the English, with Arthur C. Benick in charge as organization secretary, but "with nary a button" on hand.

The joiners want buttons and insist appeals to Chicago headquarters only bring the word that "that's all there is—we're getting more."

Princeton Man Asserts He Forgot to Take Colors Down.

PRINCETON, Ind., Sept. 26.—Robert M. Fisher admitted in Gibson Circuit Court that he sold liquor at a gasoline filling station near here, but denied that he hoisted an American flag to notify customers when he had liquor in stock.

After being sentenced to the State farm, the court asked Fisher about the flag display and he replied that he had served two years in the United States Army and had too much respect for the flag to use it in liquor dealings.

"I put the flag out on Labor Day and forgot to take it down," Fisher explained.
