

100,000 WILL HEAR HOOVER IN TENNESSEE

Special Trains Run From Other States for Only Address in South.

BY PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Prospects of 100,000 persons assembling in Elizabethton, Tenn., Saturday for the first and last Herbert Hoover campaign speech south of the Mason-Dixon line led to amplification of arrangements today at personal headquarters of the Republican presidential nominee.

The journey upon which the nominee will embark from here Friday night will mark the first invasion of the South by a Republican presidential candidate in modern political history.

In honor of the occasion, special trains are to be run from surrounding southern states and 2,000 acres has been set aside beyond the city limits to accommodate motorists, who are expected from Kentucky, North Carolina, Virginia, and Tennessee. Five hundred police have been drafted to direct traffic.

The speakers' stand is being erected in the open at the foot of a high mountain and a pageant will be held there before Hoover speaks. The pageant will commemorate the assembling of mountain farmers for the battle of King's Mountain in the Revolutionary war. King's Mountain is only 40 miles away.

The meeting will have an industrial significance also as a silk mill which ultimately will employ 25,000 persons is to be dedicated. Late in the day Hoover will journey ten miles to the soldier's home at Johnson City, where he will make a second important speech, before boarding his train at 7:15 p. m. for the return trip to Washington.

NERVOUS WOMAN FINDS RELIEF

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I was so weak and nervous and had such a tired, worn-out feeling that I had to go to bed. Friends who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound told me how much good it had done them so I thought I would give it a trial. I could tell a difference after I had taken the first bottle. It has done me worlds of good. I am gaining in strength and recommending it and Lydia E. Pinkham's Pills for Constipation."—Goldie McFadden, Rose, Kansas.—Advertisement.

Famed Chief of Pawnees, Hero of Many Indian Battles, Dies

Bitterness Toward Whites Is Softened in Last Days; Friend of Curtis.

By United Press
PAWNEE, Okla., Oct. 4.—Ruling His Son, militant chief of the Pawnee Indians and reputed patriarch of Oklahoma Indians, died of old age here Wednesday, in his 102d year.

The aged chief, never reconciled to the white man's invasion and still bitter over clashes with the Sioux in the battle of Massacre Canyon fifty-six years ago in Nebraska, died in his sleep, Major Gordon (Pawnee Bill), Lillie told the United Press.

News of his death was the signal for wailing and beating of tom-toms by his brothers.

Funeral rites for the chief will begin today with his burial and probably will last five days, Lillie, long a friend of the Indians, said.

A week ago evidences of the aged warrior's frailty was noted when he visited Tulsa to greet "Cousin Charlie" Curtis, Republican vice presidential candidate and member of the Kaw tribe. That journey was the Pawnee chief's first trip off the reservation in twenty-five years.

Promised Vote to Curtis
Still bearing antipathy against white domination over Indian lands, Ruling His Own boasted he never had voted, Lillie said, but he softened toward "Cousin Charlie" and declared he would cast his vote for his Kaw brother.

The Pawnee chief became ill on his Tulsa trip, returned to seclusion of the reservation south of here and entered "the happy hunting grounds."

Ruling His Son was born in 1826 in Nebraska, then the home of the Pawnees, where they engaged in their last battle—the Battle of Massacre Canyon—against the Sioux in a clash over buffalo hunting grounds. In this skirmish a wife and son of the chief were slain, arousing animosity which he held to his death.

Bitter in Old Age

In 1872 the proud Pawnees were forced to take the trail into Indian Territory, now Oklahoma.

Here, still clinging to the vanishing customs of the old Indians, the chief grew into a bitter senility, surrounded by a few hundred of his tribesmen.

He was a close friend of "Pawnee Bill" Lillie, now the "white chief of the Pawnees."

When the Sioux recently offered Lillie similar honor, Ruling His Son protested so vigorously that Lillie declined the designation.

Proposals!
A glance at her blonde loveliness tells better than words why this beautiful New York City girl has received such flattering proposals from kings of movie and stage land. She's Colette Francis of 255 E. Twenty-Fifth St., Brooklyn; now one of the charmers in the Broadway hit, "Rio Rita."
Miss Francis says: "Since I've been on the stage, so many people have asked me what I do to get the beautiful golden gleam and sparkle in my hair that I am beginning to think I'm really taking wonderful care of it. I really never thought much about it. What I do is so simple. Like so many of my girl friends here in New York, I just put a little Danderine on my brush each time I use it. That keeps my hair silky and gleaming, makes it easy to dress and holds it like I arrange it, for hours. My scalp was very dry and I had a lot of dandruff when I first started on it, but all of that trouble stopped quickly. And Danderine keeps my hair so clean I don't need to shampoo half as often, now."
Danderine removes that oily film from your hair and gives it new life and lustre. It isn't oily and doesn't show. It gives tone and vigor to the scalp. The generous bottles are just 35c at any drug or toilet counter. A delicately fragrant necessity for the well-groomed girl.—Advertisement.

FIGHT 2-STATE SPAN

Hoosier Motor Club Opposes Pact With Kentucky.

Directors of the Hoosier Motor Club at their annual election meeting Wednesday went on record as opposed to the construction of the $4,000,000 bridge across the Ohio River at Evansville under the terms of the contract between Indiana and Kentucky.

A suit to enjoin the State highway commission from carrying out the contract was filed in Superior Court, Sept. 28, by a majority of the club directors and four Evansville citizens. Under the contract, Indiana would bear $2,000,000 expense in the construction, while Kentucky would be repaid its half share by the collections of tolls.

Duane Dungan, president of the club, points out that the bridge construction would take $2,000,000 from Indiana's road building fund, and that very little road construction would be accomplished in the next two years, if the contract goes through.

SMITH TO SEE MORE OF FOLKS ON FINAL TOUR

Brown Derby to Figure More Than Ever in Campaign Windup.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES
United Press Staff Correspondent
ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Governor

Alfred E. Smith's next two campaign trips will be more "brown derby" affairs than his western trip. He will wear only one derby at a time, but he will appear in it more often.

The Democratic candidate is arranging his schedule so that he will have more time to mix with the people on his forthcoming tour of the border States and the Middle West.

Smith will leave here next Sunday night or Monday for New York and there will board the campaign train, which now is in New York for overhauling. He probably will strike directly South, with a speech first in North Carolina or Tennessee, most likely the latter, regarded as "doubtful."

Itinerary Mapped

He is then expected to go to Kentucky, for a speech, probably in Louisville, then to Sedalia, Mo., and north to Chicago and Cleveland. The program has not been worked out definitely. It will be announced within a day or two. The last week of the campaign will be in the East.

Smith will rest here at the mansion until he leaves for New York, but will strike at his Republican opponents from his retreat when the occasion offers, as he did when he criticized Herbert Hoover's farm relief plan Wednesday.

He said Hoover had no plan in commenting upon the indorsement of the Republican candidate and his farm relief program by B. F. Yoakum, a Democrat and formerly interested in western railroads. Yoakum, now president of the Empire Bond and Mortgage Corporation of New York City, evolved a farm relief plan that was presented to Congress.

Attacks Tariff Link

Hoover, Smith said, says the tariff is the foundation of farm relief, adding, "Every student of the subject and every farm leader takes a directly opposite view."

Shortly after Smith had criticized the Hoover program, he was attacked in turn by State Senator John Knight, Republican, president pro tem. of the Senate, who said Smith as Governor had shown little sympathy with the farmer in this State and never had offered any beneficial measure to aid them.

Stresses Liquor Issue

BY GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 4.—Mrs.

Mabel Willebrandt's words were turned against the Republican party by Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Democratic nominee for vice president, in his third Oklahoma address here Wednesday night.

"No one knows what prohibition is," Senator Robinson quoted Mrs. Willebrandt as saying, because up to the present it has not had a fair chance. The Government started out trying to enforce it through a lot of fanatics. Since then there have been very feeble attempts. Some of them were so crooked as to be a burning disgrace.

"Who can command more scathing language?" Senator Robinson asked.

"It is directed principally against the Harding and Coolidge administrations. You can not imagine worse conditions than those which prevail in great Republican centers like Chicago and Philadelphia with respect to violation of the prohibition laws."

FIGHT SCHEDULED ON SCHOOL BUDGET

"Why attack the school city budget when it is the only Marion County budget not requiring an increased levy?" Business Director Albert F. Walsman asked today, commenting on plans for the school budget hearing Friday before the State tax board.

Walsman has spent several days preparing to meet reduction suggestions of the Chamber of Commerce at the hearing.

"Of seventeen of the largest cities in Indiana, the Indianapolis levy for school purposes, exclusive of library and kindergarten, is fourth from the bottom," he said. "Library and kindergarten figures were excluded from all cities in the list because few cities include these in their school levy, as Indianapolis does."

"Exclusive of library and kindergarten, the school levy is only 9.1 cents. Other cities with higher

BRANDS G. O. P. DISEASED WITH BRIBERY, GRAFT

Veteran Republican Rises in Democratic Rally to Denounce Own Party.

The Republican revolt against continued rule "by the Statehouse gang" had a spokesman at the Democratic rally at South Side Turner's Hall Wednesday night in the person of J. F. Haines, 5234 College Ave., retired educator and lifelong Republican.

Rising from his seat in the audience, Haines voiced Republican disgust with "the same old gang that has betrayed their trust and brought reproach to the good name of Indiana," and called upon Republicans to join with Democrats in electing Frank C. Dailey, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, "to restore the State's good name."

Haines is a graduate of Valparaiso and Indiana Universities. He has been a teacher and school superintendent forty years, and never was a candidate for political office. "The Republican party has a complication of diseases," he said, "bribery, corruption in office, dishonesty in officials, bartering and bargaining with evil forces, signing on the dotted line, hypocrisy in leadership and the statute of limitations."

Relating the cordial relations between Governor Ed Jackson and Harry G. Leslie, Dailey's opponent, Haines said:

"Have you heard a word of denunciation of past misconduct by the Republican candidate for Governor? Not one. He is pleased with Ed and Ed says that Harry is the man to carry on."

Haines said he is one of 68,000 Republicans in Indiana, who voted in the primary for Thomas H. Adams in his crusade against the "corrupt system."

Adams, he said, has run up the white flag, but the 68,000 who supported him "have the right and privilege to continue the clean-up crusade in November by voting for a man whose past record is a guarantee that he will not surrender, Frank C. Dailey."

Again?

A day that might have meant so much—and she has to be excused. What a pity there's a woman left who does not know of Midol! One or two tablets in time, and not a twinge of pain throughout the entire period. Or an end to such suffering at any time, five to seven minutes after Midol is taken. Yet this mercurial medicine is non-narcotic. Its wonderful results are due to the fact it acts directly on the organs affected; so it's utterly harmless, and it is only common sense to use it. Midol comes in a clever little case of aluminum you can slip in the smallest purse. And the cost of this comfort is fifty cents.

*Midol's comfort is not confined to any certain days or age. It relieves at any time of life. Its ease is felt immediately in cases of nervous headache, backache, cramping, hot flashes and all febrile pain peculiar to women.

"Seeing skinny folks like that couple makes me think of the time when I was the same way. Remember how puny I was; how I hated to go anywhere because I knew people made fun of me behind my back. I didn't realize it then, but it robbed me of the confidence I have in myself now."

"It sure was a lucky day for me when I heard how this new medicine called Husky puts solid, stay-there flesh on skinny bodies; fills out hollow cheeks and puts the color of robust health in them; and brings up your vitality. I wouldn't be without it if I had to pay $100.00 a bottle for it."

Nine out of every ten sickly, skinny, timid men and women could round out their bodies, faces, legs and arms by letting Husky keep excessive acidity and gas from robbing their blood of the red corpuscles it must have to keep it from becoming thin and watery. Your blood must be rich to build tissue and muscles. The only way to keep it that way is to make every bite of food you eat supply the vitamins which keep plenty of red corpuscles in your blood. A sour stomach turns your food to acid and gas. Heartburn, Indigestion, Sour Risings, Bad Breath and Belching are some of the most certain signs which warn you.

Husky is worth its weight in gold to the more than half a million people who are already depending on it to keep their stomach sound and sweet so every bite of food they eat, counts. Food is too expensive to waste. Your health is too precious to neglect. All drug stores sell Husky.

"Too Skinny"
