

PILOTS BLAMED IN AIR MISHAPS

53 Per Cent of Accidents
Due to Bad Judgment.

By Science Service
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Of the four main types of air accidents, described today at the safety congress by T. P. Wright, chief engineer, airplane division, Curtis Aeroplane and Motor Company, those due to structural defects are the least important numerically, but the most important in their effect on the morale of prospective air passengers among the general public. These accidents make up 8 per cent of total air accidents.

Errors in judgment of the pilots account for 53 per cent of the accidents. Better training for pilots and more easily flown planes are the remedies suggested for this class.

Twenty per cent of all air accidents are due to forced landings in unsuitable places, the remedy in this case being more dependable engines and multi-engine planes as well as more frequent landing fields.

Miscellaneous conditions, chiefly storms and bad weather, account for another 19 per cent. Mr. Wright recommends more meteorological stations with adequate radio facilities for disseminating information as the cure for this type of air accidents.

Rockford to Honor Fliers

By United Press

Mayor Burt M. Allen of Rockford has appealed to Mayor Walker of New York City by wire for such a reception when the two fliers land in New York Oct. 13. A civic holiday will be proclaimed in Rockford on the day the fliers reach here. A special train will be chartered to carry them here from Chicago. Hassell and Cramer were forced down in Greenland in their plane, Greater Rockford, on an attempted flight to Sweden.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
